Marshall Co. Accepts Bids on Highway Jobs

Highway construction contracts totaling $275,499.95 for Marshall county federal state aid road improvements for 1959 were let by the county board of commissioners in session in Warren Monday and Tuesday, the Warren Sheaf reports.

The huge highway building program involves bituminous surfacing of 8.5 miles on FSAH 4 west of Argyle, grading and gravel surfacing of 7.6 miles of the same road east of Argyle; grading and gravel surfacing of 1½ miles southeast from Highway 75 at Stephen and the county's seasonal gravel program for maintenance.

Commissioners reported that exceptionally fine bids were received from the competing firms with the bid totals being approximately $50,000 below the engineer's estimates.

In other action by the board requested highway engineer H. I. Knutson to prepare plans and specifications for a new bridge over the Snake river in Warren to replace a structure which broke down at the Fifth street river crossing Friday. The city council petitioned the board for the replacement of the structure.

The Minnesota Valley Improvement company of Granite Falls was the successful bidder for the bituminous surfacing of Road 4 from Highway 75 in Argyle for a distance of 8.4 miles west to the junction with Road 10. The Granite Falls firm bid $147,485.96 for the completed job. Other bidders were Hazelmore Bituminous company, Jay W. Craig company, C. L. Nelson company, Inc., and Ness Construction company.

Roy Benson & Son of Stephen was awarded the job of grading and graveling 1¼ miles southeast of Stephen with a bid of $11,201.53. Other bidders included Mossbeck Bros., Strom Construction company, and Barnard-Curtiss company.

The grading and graveling base job on Road 4 east of Argyle was awarded to the Strom Construction company of Moorhead with a bid of $46,230.20. Other firms bidding were Roy Benson & Son Barnard-Curtiss company, Eahlstorf Construction company and Oscar Schenkey.

Oscar Schenkey of Middle River was awarded the graveling contract for the season with a total bid of $70,582.26. The Middle River contractor bid 19.5 cents per ton for crushed, screened and loaded gravel or a total of $17,133.48 and 4.4 cents per ton mile for hauling or a total of $53,448.78. Only one other firm bid for this job, this being the W. T. Thorson company of Mahnomen.

The road construction jobs are let subject to final approval by the Minnesota Commissioner of Highways.

ODD FRUIT ON FAMILY TREE

Many Minnesotans know or remember Ed Logelin, Richard Carlson, and Jesse James, though maybe not in the same way and for the same reasons. Mr. Carlson is a native son who has achieved considerable fame as an actor; Mr. Logelin, Edward C., is a vice president of United States Steel, headquartering in Chicago; Mr. James was, shall we say, an adventurer. A Chicago Sun-Times columnist recounts that on a recent television show Messrs. Logelin and Carlson dredged up the historic fact that Carlson's grand-uncle once was Carver county sheriff and Logelin's grandfather was his deputy; they once enjoyed a long night-watch of cards with an affable stranger at Chaska — who two days later robbed a neighboring Northfield bank and was tracked down as Jesse James.

MINNESOTA HISTORICAL SOCIETY

J.P. Rosen[illegible]n Named to Head History Group

Other Officers Also Elected at Annual Meeting Tuesday

J. P. Rosengren of Thief River Falls was elected president of the Pennington County Historical society at its annual meeting held in the court house Tuesday evening. He succeeds Herman A. Kjos who has served two terms in that office. Kjos presided at Tuesday's meeting.

Other officers elected were: Ray Jude, first vice president; Paul Engelstad, second vice president; Millard A. Nelson, secretary; and Paul Roy was re-elected treasurer.

Elected to the board of directors were Ernest Swanson, Goodridge; Arthur Rambeck and C. E. Hellquist, city; W. A. Corbet, St. Hilaire; and Bert Vigen, rural Thief River Falls.

Following the opening of the meeting a presentation of an old county map, showing the names of all the old homesteaders in their original locations was presented to the society by a delegation of Goodridge grade school pupils, who were presented by Orville Jenson, principal. Stanley Nelson, chairman of the historical society's museum committee accepted the map on behalf of the committee.

The guest speaker, Alfred Olson of Argyle, president of the Marshall County Historical society, outlined the organization of that group.

He said last year's centennial was a great stimulus to the Marshall county society and described the activities and accomplishments that had been spurred by interest in the state centennial.

Olson also said meetings of the Marshall county society are held at various centrally-located places in order to encourage more participation in the society by residents of the whole county.

Following Olson's remarks, C. E. Hellquist suggested that the same idea might result in better attendance and more interest in the Pennington county society's activities. No formal action was taken, however.

A motion was adopted that the historical society adopt memorials and make proper acknowledgements.

Other presentations to the society were those of Mrs. Arvid Dahlstrom and Mrs. Oscar Gunstad, who presented a 38-star U.S. flag and a woodcut of the old Markham hotel in St. Hilaire. Also presented were an old geography and a copy of the Nov. 11, 1918 Minneapolis Journal.

Following the election, refreshments were served and the museum was opened to the members to show progress that has been made.

Beer Plays Leading Role in Municipal Court Cases Monday

Alcohol, much of it in the form of beer in possession of minors, played a big part in landing 11 persons in municipal court Monday, with the hearings conducted before special Judge Stanley Mortenson.

There were no highway patrol cases and the lone sheriff's case was that of Loudolph Urdahl, city, who pleaded guilty to driving over the center line and was fined $15 plus $6.70 costs.

All the other cases were brought by city police. Two juveniles, a boy and girl, were each fined $10 plus $4 costs after they pleaded guilty to possession of beer. Robert W. Swanson, rt. 5, pleaded guilty to furnishing beer to a minor and was fined $15 plus $4 costs, of which $10 was suspended.

Joyce A. Lee, Middle River, pleaded guilty to possession of beer by a minor and was fined $15 plus 4 costs. Dale R. Bakke, rt. 4, Crookston, pleaded guilty to furnishing beer to a minor and as fined $15 plus $4 costs.

Leo F. Donarski, Crookston, had the dubious honor of being the first person in municipal court here under the new "open bottle" law passed by the last legislature. He pleaded guilty to the charge of having an open bottle in his car and was fined $10 plus $4 costs.

Duane G. Bjerke, rt. 5, pleaded guilty to speeding and was fined $10 plus $4 costs. Marvin J. Boen, Strandquist, paid $100 plus $5 costs and his license was revoked after he pleaded guilty to driving under the influence of intoxicants.

LeRoy Limesand, Goodridge, was fined $10 plus $4 costs after pleading guilty to permitting an unlicensed driver to operate a motor vehicle.

Jo Ann Jurgens, rt. 3, Clearbrook, pleaded guilty to having an illegal muffler and was fined $5, suspended, $4 costs paid.

11 New Teachers Are Approved by TRF School Board

an advisory group of city residents, was approved.

The business education department was given permission to trade in a little-used accounting machine for dictating equipment.

Arnold Pearson, clerk of the board, was authorized to sign a lease with the city for the new airport shop building which will soon be constructed. The lease, which is for 15 years at $225 a month, gives the school board the authority to sub-lease a part of the building for use as a commercial aircraft maintenance shop. A resolution was prepared approving the state law which permits the issuance of revenue-producing bonds by the city to finance the building.

The clerk was also authorized to sign contracts with the Minnesota state high school league athletic accident and benefit plan.

Much of the business of the evening was concerned with a report on the proposed athletic program presented by Ralph Skay, athletic director, and a discussion of the program. In his report, Skay made several recommendations including one that the head coach of a sport be responsible for that sport at all levels throughout the school, the development of an intramural basketball and hockey program and that teams traveling more than 75 miles to participate in games be transported by chartered bus rather than by school bus.

Skay also recommended the extension of the football program down into the grades and that ninth and 10th grade teams begin practices in August; that the "A" squad in basketball composed of 10th, 11th and 12th students and the "B" squad composed of 10th and 11th graders be supplemented by a "C" squad composed of 9th grade pupils. No expansion of squads in hockey, tennis, wrestling, track or golf were recommended but more matches were recommended for the golf team, more local track meets and the expansion of baseball to include grade school participation were suggested.

No action was taken on the recomendations at the Monday meeting nor was any action taken in the replacement of the head basketball coach. Several applications have been received for the position and interviews have been conducted.

The meeting was adjourned until Tuesday evening, May 19.

This Week Being Noted as U.S. Hospital Week

May 10 through 16 is National Hospital Week, during which the nation's hospitals make a special effort to tell the story of their activities to the people they serve. The theme this year all over the nation is "More Roads to Recovery," the constantly expanding services hospitals are providing to bring you longer life and better health.

The explosive force of medical progress in recent years has created a new world of health. Millions are alive today only because of modern medicine. Two decades have been added to the average life span since 1910. More children are living to grow up, and more mothers and fathers are living to see their children reach maturity. Good medical care and its indispensable component, good hospital care, have become true necessities for living.

Increasingly the roads to recovery are centering in the hospital. For the effective diagnosis and treatment of a growing number of conditions, the doctor must be able to call upon the disciplined team work of many skilled professional and technical workers, and an ever-growing array of scientific tools and supplies. For economy and efficiency, these are centered in the hospital.

It is the hospital's responsibility to see that these skilled hands and costly tools are in constant readiness to serve, 24 hours a day, seven days a week, around the year. The hospital must always be prepared to meet the unpredictable need, whether for the patient already under care, for the individual emergency, or for the community disaster. The emergency entrance of your hospital is the door that is always open.

The smallest and simplest hospital today can offer services that were unknown in even the great medical centers yesterday. The great medical centers today are developing the routine hospital services of tomorrow. And time needed to translate experimental research into clinical use is being rapidly reduced. Hospital services are steadily becoming more comprehensive.

You might expect that the increase in complexity of care, and the more numerous services, would mean that the average patient would spend more time in the hospital. On the contrary, more effective care and more efficient procedures have reduced the average length of stay in the short term hospital by a day and a half since World War II.

You can support your hospital in many ways. You can protect yourself and help your hospital by obtaining the best possible prepayment protection; by supporting efforts to obtain adequate payment from government for the care of welfare patients; by contributing to the expansion and modernization programs of your hospital; by encouraging young people to enter the health careers for hospital service and by contributing your time to volunteer service.

In an era of growth, hospitals must depend as never before upon community support and understanding if comprehensive services of high quality are to be made available to all the people.

Visitors Will Be Taken on Guided Tours of Base on Armed Forces Day

Guided tours of the base, as well as tours of the highly technical radar operations area and antenna towers will be conducted until six o'clock. An Airman's room will be displayed in one of the eighty-nine man dormitories. Continuous movies will be shown all afternoon in the new, air-conditioned multi-purpose building. Refreshments will be served in several locations on the base.

Events of the day will be climaxed by a dance in the evening. The doors will open at eight p.m. with festivities starting at nine and will last until one a.m.

PUBLIC OPINION

Editor The Times:

There has been much discussion among the people of our city regarding the building at the municipal airport for training airplane mechanics, also the proposed remodeling of the liquor store. The consensus of opinion seems to be that the above named projects are not essential to the welfare of our city. The money to be used for these projects is urgently needed for a new water tank, reservoir and repair on water mains most necessary at this time.

The water tank was constructed shortly after the turn of the century, it has done good service, but like all things it is near the end of its usefulness. We should take time to consider what it would mean to our city if the water tank should fail. An example of what would happen in case of a fire, when the water main on Duluth avenue was broken last winter and there was not a sufficient supply of water for three days.

Yes, a new water tank, reservoir and repair to water mains where necessary would cost much more than the cost of airplane mechanics school building and remodeling of liquor store, but the money would be used for necessary improvements.

It seems that if the airplane mechanics school is as much benefit to the city as it has been reported, we ask why did not the larger cities in this area take this project? We have been told that one large city was offered this proposition, but after considering the proposition the council of that city turned it down. It is time that our city spend the taxpayers money wisely if the debts are ever going to be paid.

A new water tank and necessary repairs on water mains is the responsibility of the city council, not the voters at an election.

The band, composed of 32 members, opened its program with "Abide with Me" by Monk and the "Gold and Silver Waltz" by Franz Lehar. Steven Dale presented as his solo number the Stephen Foster composition, "Old Folks at Home."

A campfire song, "Tell Me Why" and the "Melody from the Magic Flute" by Mozart were followed by "Cielito Lindo" by C. Fernandez and the concluding number, "Diligence March" by Bergrim-Skornicko.

Safety Council Hears Numerous Reports at Meeting Wednesday

Dr. Orlon D. Belch was elected president of the Pennington County Safety council at the group's monthly meeting Wednesday night at the Rex Cafe. He succeeds Stephen Ausin.

Elton Cummings, city chief of police, was named vice-president of the council succeeding Sheriff Charles Richard and Charles Rodekuhr was re-elected secretary-treasurer.

Present at the dinner meeting were representatives of city departments, public schools, Rotary club, Junior Chamber of Commerce, railroads, county offices, American Legion, Red Cross, civil defense, state department of motor vehicles and Land O'Lakes.

Special guests were Randall L. Barnes, student council adviser of Crookston high school; Harry Dillabaugh, Crookston chief of police; and Cal Nygaard, field representative of the Minnesota Safety council.

During the meeting, several members of the council reported on their activities and made observations on improving city safety. Quentin Jones reported that the water safety program this year would be about the same as last year. Nygaard supplemented Jones' information on boat training with a report that a program would probably be conducted with the cooperation of the Midwest Boat Dealers' association.

Paul Stelmaschuk, county agent, reported on the rural safety program which has earned Pennington county one of the few awards in the state. The award will be presented to Stelmaschuk for the county at the Governor's banquet Tuesday.

Randall Barens of Crookston answered questions on the success of that city's car club known as the "Road Grinders." Members of the club, most of them school pupils, remodel automobiles and promote a better understanding of the organization through safety campaign cooperation. Chief Dillabaugh called them a "fine group" and explained the ways members of the group enforce the observation of laws within their own organization and impress adults with their sense of responsibility.

Chief Elton Cummings gave a report on the Thief River Falls car club, "The Road Runners," recently formed.

Mayor Belch explained the procedure for getting the cooperation of the state in installing traffic lights and asked Irwin T. Mickelson, superintendent of schools, if a school patrol would be maintained at the intersection of Main ave. and First st. now that lights had been installed. Mickelson stated that if the patrol was deemed necessary, it's work would be continued.

After a discussion on street making and stop signs, Cummings reviewed two laws recently passed by the legislature: one prohibits placing any object between the driver and the windshield, and the other forbids the possession of an open bottle of malt beverage or liquor in an automobile.

Bruce Hall, president of the Jaycees, told the council that his organization has discussed a more effective bicycle safety program for this year. The matter will be more fully detailed in the near future.

At the conclusion of the meeting, a film on the organization of a community to promote safety was shown by Nygaard.

Air Force Reserve Training Program Planned for TRF

Officer from Fargo to Take Applications June 2; Course to Start in Fall

An Air Force reserve specialized training program for air reservists in the northwest Minnesota area is planned for Thief River Falls, starting next September, M/Sgt. O. D. Hanson, 9749th Air Reserve squadron liaison non-com from Fargo announced this week.

Capt. V. M. Draper, former CO of Flight E, 9749th ARSq here, received word from Hanson that he will be in this city June 2 to take applications for the course from qualified reservists who have been recently released from active service.

Sgt. Hanson said all former members of Flight 1, which was disbanded in 1958, will be contacted and an attempt will be made to reactivate the flight. Hanson explained that a specialized training course may be started with six qualified personnel but that a flight requires not less than 10 reservists at every meeting. There are 36 meetings annually, with none held in June, July or August.

All reservists in the area will be contacted by Hanson, he said. Any other qualified personnel interested in signing up for the course, which pays each participating reservist a day's pay for attending training sessions, may contact Capt. Draper, Lt.-Col. Ralph Hauswirth or may write direct to Sergeant Hanson in Fargo.

More information pertaining to the proposed specialized training will be published prior to June 2.

Millionth Bell Phone Is Installed in State

Northwestern Bell Telephone company will install its millionth Minnesota phone in May, G. A. Hale, local manager, announced today.

"We don't know exactly where it will be placed in service because new phones are being installed each working hour in all of our 134 Minnesota exchanges," he said. "But our records show that it will be installed sometime around the middle of this month."

To commemorate the occasion, Wayne L. Huffman, Minnesota vice president and general manager for Northwestern Bell, presented special telephones symbolic of the millionth phone, to Governor Orville L. Freeman and railroad and warehouse commissioners Paul Rasmussen, Hjalmer Petersen and Ronald L. Anderson. The presentation was made Tuesday, May 12, in the governor's office.

"With one million Bell telephones, Minnesota ranks 16th among the states of the union," Huffman said at the ceremony. "We believe this milestone is significant because it is an indication of Minnesota's very substantial economic, cultural and social progress and shows the degree to which telephone communications have kept pace with the expanding needs of the state and its people."

It took 68 years—from 1878 to 1946—to reach the half-million mark in Minnesota but only 13 years to install the second half-million.

Northwestern Bell said this was mostly due to unprecedented growth since World War II. In this 13-year period, the company spent $300,000,000 for expansion and improvement. Despite the increased mechanization of equipment to provide faster and more efficient service, the number of employees has increased from 7,900 to about 9,000. The telephone firm is one of the largest employers in Minnesota with a total annual payroll of $45,600,000.

In addition to meeting the demand for more service, Northwestern Bell has effected several major improvements in the post-World War II years including:

Installation of dial service in most Minnesota exchanges.

Extending and improving farm service thru use of new equipment.

Extension of the toll-free local calling area in many Minnesota communities.

Installation of Direct Distance Dialing in certain Minnesota exchanges.

Construction of a state-wide radio relay to provide additional facilities for inter-city calling, defense communications and network television programs.

Construction of hundreds of miles of underground "storm-proof" long distance cables thru areas hit by severe ice, sleet and snow storms.

In addition to 1,000,000 Bell phones, Northwestern Bell also said that 233 other telephone companies serve 250,000 phones in 533 Minnesota communities.

Telephone service in Thief River Falls dates back to the start of the 20th century. H. Fant obtained a franchise from the city council in 1900, and the exchange was functioning by the spring of 1901. Fant operated it until 1907, when he sold the property to J. M. Bishop, local attorney, who sold it in September, 1908, to the Tri-State Telephone Co. Tri-State continued operations here until selling the business in 1918 to the N.W. Bell Exchange Co., predecessor of today's N. W. Bell Telephone Co.

From a small start in 1901, subscribers to the local exchange increased to 1,200 in 1930, 1,850 in 1940, 3,000 in 1950, and more than 3,400 at present.

Drivers License Suspensions Rise in 1st 3 Months

Drivers license suspensions in two categories showed sharp increases for the first three months of 1959 as compared with the same period in 1958. These are failure to take a drivers test and failure to pass a drivers test. The first category showed a 250% increase from 47 in 1958 to 138 in 1959, while suspensions for failure to pass the test increased from 45 last year through March to 110 for the same period in 1959.

G. A. Hatfield, Minnesota drivers license director, pointed out that steady increases in vehicles and drivers in Minnesota would account for more activity. He explained the increases represented a desired change in methods of handling erring drivers. "Courts are more often recommending that convicted drivers be given a written test, the road test, or both, before a license be reinstated," he said.

"Similarly, the highway department is contacting more drivers who would be suspended for other infractions. We often require these people to take the test as a guide to helping them become safer drivers. These are parts of our continuing campaign to make driving safer in Minnesota," he added.

A. O. Torgerson to Give up Highway Department Post

Assistant Commissioner Since 1955 Retires June 1 to Assume Other Duties

Minnesota Highway Commissioner L. P. Zimmerman today announced the retirement of Albert O. Torgerson as assistant highway commissioner, effective June 1. He has many friends in the Thief River Falls area.

Mr. Torgerson, who has been assistant commissioner since September 1955, plans to take over as executive secretary of the Concrete Paving Association of Minnesota, with headquarters at Detroit Lakes, on or about June 15th.

First entering the highway department in 1921, Torgerson served as resident engineer at Grand Rapids for three years and then as assistant maintenance engineer at Morris for four years. In 1929 he went to Detroit Lakes as district construction engineer and continued in that post until January of 1955, except for six years spent in road contracting and military service. From 1942 to 1944 he was an officer of the U.S. Corps of Engineers, supervising construction of airfields and ammunition plants for the Seventh Service Command in midwestern states.

Torgerson retired as district engineer of the Detroit Lakes construction district in January 1955, but in February of that year, at Gov. Freeman's request, he returned to the highway department as a part-time consultant, assisting in the handling of top administrative activities. In September 1955 he took over the fulltime position of assistant commissioner.

Clinton H. Burnes will now serve as assistant highway commissioner, Zimmerman said, with primary responsibility for highway planning and programming. Burnes recently rejoined the highway department after having some time with the U.S. Bureau of Public Roads in Washington, D.C. Prior to that, he had been with the Minnesota highway department for 27 years.

Roseau Squad 1st in Track Meet Tuesday

Although the pole vault and high jump events were cancelled because of the gale-like winds that swept the field, and in these events the Roseau Rams had a sure point-getter in Stan Holland, coach Ambrose Kramer's Roseau squad won the Northwest conference track and field title in the tournament held here on Tuesday afternoon, amassing 54 points. East Grand Forks was runner-up with 43½ points; Crookston Central in third place with 33½ points; Bemidji in fourth place with 31½ points; and the Thief River Falls Prowlers in fifth place with 17½ points.

Roseau, in winning the conference title in their first appearance as a conference member, showed fine all-round squad strength, with the Rams scoring firsts in the 440-yard dash, the 880-yard run, the discus throw, shot put and the mile relay.

The most exciting race of the tournament proved to be the mile run in which Dave Erickson of coach Ronnie Thompson's East Grand Forks' squad nipped Roseau's Merle Wellen with a fine last-lap "kick." Wellen had pulled away to a commanding lead in the first three laps.

Jerry Dohm of the Crookston Central squad proved to be the only double winner, winning the 120-yard high hurdles and the 220-yard dash.

The summaries:

120-yard high hurdles—won by Jerry Dohm, Crookston; 2nd, Larson, Roseau; 3rd, Saunders, E.G.F.; 4th, Wang, Roseau; 5th, Casement, Crookston. Time—17.2

Thieves to Play Alvarado Sunday

Manager John Drury will take his Northern Minny league Thieves to Alvarado on Sunday for a 2:30 p.m. game with the Alvarado Farmers of the Red River Valley league.

The Thieves, who drew a bye in this week's Northern Minny league schedule, opened their season last Sunday with an exhibition game at Eldred. The Thieves and Eldred played to a 3-all deadlock when rain forced the calling of the game in the first half of the 6th inning, during which the locals had broken the tie by scoring four runs. With Eldred prevented from batting in their half of the 6th inning, the score reverted to the 5th inning.

TREE PLANTING Andy Skaar, left, and Don Lawrence, center, Soil Conservation Service fieldman, manned the tree planter Wednesday while Gerald Johnson drove the tractor on the Skaar farm four miles west of Thief River Falls on county aid road 12.

Working during the afternoon, they were able to put in half of the 7,000 elm, spruce, pine, maple and willow trees around the farm buildings. The planter, owned by the Union State and Northern State banks, is provided to the farmers of the area on a rental basis.

Farmers who wish to plant sign up with the Soil Conservation Service and trees are purchased through the state forestry division at low cost. The area to be planted is prepared in the summer and is examined by the Soil Conservation Service in the fall when stock to be planted is ordered.

One-line Fishing Bill Now State Law

Law Formerly Permitted Two Lines for Pan Fish

With the signing of the "one-line fishing" bill into law by Governor Freeman, Minnesota fishermen must now take fish by angling with a single line only in any waters of the state, except certain of the boundary waters.

Chief game warden Francis W. Johnson points out that the law takes effect upon its passage by the governor and the state game wardens will begin to enforce the law.

Fishermen may now use only one line when angling for bass, trout, grayling, walleyed pike, saugers, northern pike, muskellunge, rock bass, crappies, sunfish and bluegills, catfish, bullheads, white bass, and rough fish.

The old law made it possible to use two lines for panfish but not the principal game species, such as walleyes and northerns. Widespread illegal use of two lines for all species, however, made enforcement exceedingly difficult.

Boundary waters between the State of Minnesota, Wisconsin, Iowa, North Dakota, and South Dakota, are unaffected by the new law. Only one line may still be used, however, in international waters between Minnesota and Canada.

VFW Buddy Poppy Sale on Saturday

Auxiliary Will Conduct Sale on Streets of City

Melvin Hoffman, commander of Veterans of Foreign Wars post No. 2973 in Thief River Falls announced today that members of the post would actively participate in the 1959 Buddy Poppy campaign which will be held here Saturday, May 16.

In making the announcement, Commander Hoffman said, "I am grateful that the ladies of our auxiliary are once again going to work with us in the sale of Buddy Poppies. I know that without their support, it would be difficult for our post to stage a successful campaign.

"Mrs. Clarence Dicken, president of the VFW auxiliary, has accepted the responsibility of getting sellers on the street. She plans to recruit help from all groups within the community."

"I feel certain that the citizens of Thief River Falls recognize that all of us have an obligation to those men who are still suffering in Veterans Administration hospitals and even here in our community. All of the money raised will go toward making life a little bit easier for these courageous veterans. I think it is significant that half of the money collected will remain here in Thief River Falls, for relief work among needy veterans and their dependents."

Slow Down — and Live.

Fierce Gales Hit This Area Monday, Tuesday

Residents of northwest Minnesota are looking back to the 84 degrees of May 1 and the 86 the following day and wondering if summer didn't pass by rather rapidly this year.

Huck Olson's observation that we have 10 months of winter and two months of bad sledding may be the understatement of the year. Monday of this week dawned sunny and cool with a light wind which increased steadily to a velocity of 48 miles an hour at 2 p.m.

Skies became gray as people began wondering if any topsoil remained in North Dakota. Continuing all night with snow flurries, the wind increased in ferocity Tuesday until it reached its peak at 2 p.m. with gusts to 65 miles an hour accompanied by showers.

North Central airlines reports all flights were on schedule Monday but Tuesday, with visibility down to ¼ mile, no flights stopped at the local airport except the last flight in the evening to Grand Forks.

By Wednesday, winds had abated but the daytime temperature never reached above the 40 mark and freeze warnings were posted for the area. Residents of the area covered plants and shrubs as the temperature dropped to 28 overnight.

Don't put away those blankets and other covers you used to protect your greenery. The weatherman at the KTRF station has issued another freeze warning for tonight with lows of 22 to 27 predicted with clear skies.

Highs for today are expected to be from 45 to 50 and tomorrow, clear and warmer is predicted.

Prowlers Win over Warren Monday 11-4

In a wind-swept and dust-filled game played on the Fair Grounds diamond Monday night, and which was called at the end of four-and-a-half innings of play, coach Ralph Skay's Prowlers defeated the Warren Ponies, 11 to 4, in a district conference baseball game.

On Thursday night, May 14, the Prowlers will meet the Red Lake Falls Eagles on the Fair Grounds diamond; and on Friday night, May 15, the locals will travel to Ada for a game with coach Paul Johnson's regional champion Ada Vikings.

After Warren had picked up a run in the top of the 1st inning, on a single by Milo Monroe, the lead-off batter, an error, and Rod Carlson's ground single past third baseman Arlan Hjelle, scoring Monroe; the Prowlers came back with four runs in the last half of the opening frame. Eddie Lietzow singled; Jerry Jorgenson sacrificed; Harley Drees singled; Paul Saurdiff doubled; Hjelle was safe on an error; Gene Weckwerth lofted a sacrifice fly to center field; and Gary Anderson singled to right field.

The Prowlers added a single run in the 2nd inning, picked up a pair of tallies in the 3rd inning, and added four runs in the 4th inning.

Warren, held to six hits by righthander Paul Saurdiff, scored a run in the 4th inning, bunching a pair of hits with a Prowler error; and notched a couple of runs in the 5th inning on singles by Yeado and Arnold, a walk, and a wild pitch. The Ponies had eleven men stranded on the bases in the abbreviated contest.

Cliff's Testimonial

We received a newspaper clipping from Cliff Wicklund, one of the seven "Rangers" on the local school staff, giving us the details on the testimonial dinner for Cliff Thompson the Eveleth high school hockey coach who is retiring from the coaching ranks.

More than three hundred sports fans were in attendance at the gathering, which was held in the Eveleth city auditorium on Saturday evening.

Thompson, in his coaching career, has won 606 games for Eveleth teams, and has produced some of the greatest American-born hockey players, including such stars as John Mariucci, Frank Brimsek, Mike Karakas, Sam LoPresti, and Joe Papike. These players performed in the National hockey league.

During his tenure as the Eveleth high school coach, the Golden Bears won five state titles — 1945, 1948, 1949, 1950, and 1951. And during his coaching reign Eveleth has provided the all-state tournament squad with numerous players, and it will perhaps be interesting to mention these players as they are, for the most part, well-known to local fans: 1945—Neil Celley, Wally Grant, Clem Cossalter, and Pat Finnegan; 1946 — Andre Gambucci and Ron Martinso; 1947—John Matchefts; 1948—John Matchefts, Willard Ikola, Dick Peterson, and Eugene Klun; 1949—John Matchefts, Willard Ikola, and John Mayasich; 1950—John Mayasich, Dan Voce, Ron Castellano, and Willard Ikola; 1951 — John Mayasich, Dan Voce, Ron Castellano, and Ed Mrkonich; 1952—Bruce Shutte, Mike Castellano; Dave Hendrickson; 1953—Dave Rodda, Mike Castellano; 1954—Dave Rodda, Bobo Kochevar, and Ed Oswald; 1955 — Bob Begich; and 1956 — Jerry Norman.

Sober Quotes

The Minnesota Emergency Conservation Committee, Charles L. Horn, chairman, has issued a press release commending the Legislature on the outstanding job that it has done for conservation. Stating that "It is our opinion that never before has a legislature been so determined to kill bad bills and approve so many constructive and fundamental bills, designed to facilitate the State's efforts to conserve our important renewable natural resources."

The release further added "In the field of game and fish legislation about all that can be said is that it was the very worst in history. Practically every bill carried the dollar sign, never have we seen such conservation department urgency to put all species of wildlife on the meat block."

And "The legislators also frowned on the department request for $3-million deficit spending for more purchase money for wetlands. They laughed in derision in disapproving the department's request for $50,000 for the purchase of farm implements, including combines, for use on state wildlife lands, and why not? How silly can we get?"

Softball Meeting

The city's softball enthusiasts, and they are quite a number, will hold a meeting in the Chamber of Commerce office tonight, Thursday, at 7:00 P.M., for the purpose of formulating plans for the 1959 season.

In addition to the election of officers for the season, it is probable that the group will be asked to act on a couple of important matters, such as the endorsement and acknowledgement of the players that Bob Carlson has signed to the Bridgeman's squad. And it is expected that Lowell (Mukkett) Collins, manager of the aging Bjorkman's team, will ask for an extension of the old-age waiver that applied to the green-jerseyed club last season. As they grow older they do not get any younger.

Don't forget, the meeting is scheduled for this evening at 7:00 P.M.

Fishing

The approach of the pike fishing season, and it opens on Saturday, reminds us of a story we heard the other day. It seems that the new minister looked at Squire Overum coldly and said "I'm told you went to the ball game instead of church Sunday." "That's a lie," cried Squire Overum hotly, "and I've got the fish to prove it."

Given a break by the weatherman, and the forecast is for a moderating of the frigid weather of the past couple of days, a vast army of anglers will be enroute to Lake of the Woods, Upper Red lake, Blackduck lake, and other choice walleyed pike waters this weekend. The Red lakes have been ice-free for a couple of weeks; and in huge Lake of the Woods the ice "went out" on Tuesday, May 5.

As to whether or not the fishing will be excellent or fair or poor is debatable; and that's one reason why the fishermen will be in action on Saturday and Sunday. Anglers don't discourage easily.

Milt Jorgenson Is Top Winner in Stock Car Races

Crowd Braves Menacing Weather Sunday; Another Program Next Sunday

An enthusiastic crowd of stock car racing fans braved the threatening weather Sunday to be in attendance at the speedway west of town to witness the six-event program of racing arranged by the Northwest Racing Association.

Milt Jorgenson, driving car No. 35, won top honors for the afternon's racing, winning two events, having the best time in the time trials, and gaining a second place in the first event.

The program was enlivened by several spills and roll-overs, with the most exciting mishap occurring in the program-ending feature event when Fritz Larson, in car number 82, was sent into an end-over-end upset. Larson was taken to the Northwestern hospital for observation, but fortunately he suffered nothing more serious than a shaking up.

The association will conduct another program of racing on Sunday afternoon at the speedway.

The summaries:

Newfolden Whips Strandquist 25-0

Scores Decisive Victory Thursday in Five Innings

The Newfolden Nordics avenged their only defeat of this baseball season by defeating the Strandquist Warriors, 25 to 0, in a game played at Strandquist on Thursday, May 7. The game was called after five innings with Dennis Bakke pitching one-hit ball while his mates were picking up 18 hits. In the first game of the season at Newfolden, the Warriors defeated Newfolden, 4 to 3.

In the first inning, lead off man Ronald Ueland came to bat 3 times as the Nordics sent 19 batters to the plate and scored 15 runs. The Nordics kept things going this inning by gathering 9 hits, 4 walks and Strandquist was guilty of one error and the pitcher hit three batters. Four of the Newfolden hits were doubles. In the second inning 12 Nordics came to bat and scored 8 runs on 6 hits, including 3 doubles, 1 walk, and two Warrior errors.

The next home game for the Nordics is on Monday, May 18, at 4:00 p.m. when they host Middle River in a return game. The Nordics won the first game 11 to 1 as Dennis Bakke pitched a no-hitter. Two days later, the Nordics and Middle River Skippers will tangle again at 2:00 p.m. on the Newfolden field in the first round play of East Sub-district 32 baseball play.

Results of Sunday's game:

Next Sunday's schedule:

Eldred at Bagley (night).

Cass Lake at Winger (afternoon).

A full slate of games is on the bill for Sunday's play in the Northern Minny baseball league, with a pair of night games and one matinee tilt. Eldred, the league's newcomer, will meet the Bagley Merchants at Bagley, under the lights; and Fosston will travel to Erskine for a night game. The afternoon game will find the league-leading Cass Lake team meeting the Winger Tigers at Winger.

In the one game played on Sunday's schedule, the Cass Lake club, getting a surprising pitching performance from righthander Tom Swenson, defeated the highly-regarded Bagley Merchants, last season's playoff winners, 7 to 1. Sharing the hurling duties for the losers were John Workman, a righthander from the defunct Bemidji club, and Ken Severud the veteran Bagley southpaw.

The Thieves will draw a bye on Sunday, but it is expected that the local management will arrange an exhibition game, or a practice game with the Bums of the Pen-Ro-Shall league.

River Cleanup Is Put off to May 19

Bad Weather Tuesday Is Cause of Postponement

The annual river cleanup project of the Thief River Falls Water Sports club scheduled for Tuesday evening, May 12, has been postponed until Tuesday, May 19, according to Stanley Gibson, president of the club.

Strong winds accompanied by rain and snow made the change necessary.

According to Gibson, club members and other interested persons will gather at Boy Scout park at 6:30 p.m. next Tuesday. Using their boats and motors, members will remove logs, tree limbs and other hazards from the water which have caused damage to several motors already this season and which must be taken from the river to make boating safer and more enjoyable for everyone.

Lunch and refreshments will be served after the work has been done.

Pike Anglers to Seek Action This Weekend

The state's prime pike fishing waters—Lake of the Woods, Upper Red Lake, Blackduck lake, lake Winnibigoshish, Mille Lacs—will be invaded by a anxious and hopeful anglers this weekend as the 1959 Minnesota pike fishing season opens Saturday.

Local anglers, as in previous years, will concentrate their activities on Lake of the Woods and Upper Red lake. Springsteel Island, Rocky Point, Long Point, Morris Point, and Wheeler's Point, will be the embarkation points for the Lake of the Woods fishermen; while the Tamarac river at Waskish and Shotley brook will be the vantage points on Upper Red lake.

The inland-waters limit for pike are as follows: walleyed pike and saugers, six daily and in possession; and northern pike, three daily and in possession. The pike limits on the Minnesota portions of the Minnesota-Canada boundary waters are: walleyed pike and saugers, fourteen daily and in possession, of which not more than six, in the aggregate, may be walleyed pike and dressed saugers. Saugers with heads, fins, and skins not intact are termed dressed fish. The northern pike limit in boundary waters are three daily and in possession.

Meetings are often held for no better reason than that it has been a month since the last one.

State Tree Nursery at Badoura Menaced

A prolonged drought period, record high temperatures, a narrow escape of nursery destruction in a forest fire, and a huge planting program — these are the experiences of Ray Clement and his state tree nurseries this spring. Clement is in charge of nurses and tree planting for the division of forestery.

The high temperatures started early growth of the small seedlings in the nurseries, before they could be dug and planted in the field.

The drought created additional risks, because the small trees need plenty of moisture the first two weeks for survival. The rains for the last few days have probably saved many plantations.

More than 500 schools planted trees on Arbor Day, May 1, and thousands of school youngsters took part in the ceremonies. Mrs. L. F. Johnson, state chairman of the conservation committee, Minnesota Federation of Womens clubs stated that trees provided from state forest nurseries and purchased from local nurseries havebeen planted on at least 500 school grounds and school forests in the state.

Clement said a forest fire which started three miles southwest of the Badoura nursery in Hubbard county swept around three sides of the nursery and could have destroyed nearly 70,000,000 seedlings and the buildings had it not been for supreme effort of the fire fighters and fortunate changes of wind direction when the fires were on the boundaries of the area.

Experimental plantations adjacent to the nursery were burned and a stand of large timber was badly damaged.

About 90 per cent of the shipping for private land plantings has been completed, but the state crews will be planting in state forests, parks and on public lands as long as weather conditions are favorable and the trees are not growing too fast.

United Cerebral Palsy Seeks Gifts

No Campaign Planned in Pennington County

"United Cerebral Palsy will hold its fund campaign during the month of May," stated William F. Sauve, president of United Cerebral Palsy of Minnesota.

There is no cure for cerebral palsy. Brain damage cannot be erased as such, but early diagnosis and medical treatment often make the difference between a child able to walk and to speak and one immobilized and mute.

On the national scene, United Cerebral Palsy association, started in 1949, has spent more than $3,000,000 in research and education programs. Twenty-five per cent of all funds raised go toward research, education and program service. The national campaign goal is $11,000,000. William Clay Ford, vice president of the Ford Motor company, is the national campaign chairman.

Mr. Sauve said that United Cerebral Palsy of Minnesota is completing the state-wide CP census begun in 1958. Recent statistics from this survey show at least 4,000 people afflicted in Minnesota. Pennington county has 19 cases of cerebral palsy and an incidence rate of 1.47 per thousand population.

In areas where no drive is made, including Thief River Falls, contributions addressed PALSY, care of local postmaster, will reach United Cerebral Palsy of Minnesota, 2388 University av., St. Paul, Minn.

Safety Awards to Be Given May 19

Pennington County Will Get Farm Safety Award

Fairmont public and parochial schools will be honored at the annual Minnesota Safety Council presentation dinner at Hotel Saint Paul, Tuesday, May 19. The Fairmont school safety patrol operation was declared tops in the state in the annual Minnesota school safety patrol award program, which included personal observation of the competing schools by the Minnesota Highway Patrol.

A bronze plaque, known as the Governor's award, will be presented to the city by Governor Orville L. Freeman.

Three other awards of merit will be presented to cities named as winners of the state regions other than that including Fairmont. The public and parochial school patrol programs of Hibbing, Marshall and Minneapolis will receive framed certificates indicating top standing in their respective sections.

Recognition awards for efforts in other fields of safety and safety promotion will be presented by the governor following the annual dinner.

Agricultural safety awards for excellence in programs for safe operations on farms and in the use of farm equipment will go to eight counties in addition to Carver county, which will receive a bronze plaue for first place in this contest. The other counties who will receive awards of merit are Jackson, Olmsted, Pennington, Pipestone, St. Louis, Sherburne, Wadena and Watonwan.

The Ortonville chapter of the Minnesota Future Farmers of America will receive the award of merit in the Minnesota FFA safety contest.

PCA Loans Total Over $1 Billion in Four-state Area

The 54 Production Credit associations in Michigan, Minnesota, North Dakota, and Wisconsin have now passed the $1 billion mark in loans made to farmers in these states, according to word received this week by Paul Roy, general manager of the PCA of Thief River Falls.

The PCA of Thief River Falls, a locally owned credit institution, was organized 25 years ago to provide a source of credit to finance area farm operations.

"With high annual cash operating costs and increased use of purchased products for family living, the PCA budget loan has been of great assistance to many farmers in their financial planning," said Mr. Roy. "But, we believe, of greater interest to farmers in this mechanized age is the intermediate term loan the PCA's make with maturities up to five years," he added.

The local PCA is owned by 623 farmers. During its 25-year history the PCA has loaned $9,170,181 to farm families in its territory.

Watch Children's Weight, Is Advice

'U' of M. Nutritionist Offers Advice on Diet

Overweight children tend to grow into overweight adults.

That's why an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure when it comes to overweight children, according to a University of Minnesota nutritionist, Mrs. Naurine Higgins.

At some stage in their development, many children go through a chubby state that is no cause for concern. However, parents are often responsible for exceptionally pudgy children because they think that the fatter the baby, the healthier he is. As children grow older, it is often difficult for them to lose their excess weight because they may not get enough exercise to use up the calories they consume as food, Mrs. Higgins says.

Most nutritionists and doctors agree that if the weight of an individual is more than 10 per cent above the average weight for his height and age, he can be called overweight, allowing, of course, some leeway for body build.

If parents understand the nutritional needs of youngsters, they can do much to help solve the problem of overweight, Mrs. Higgins points out. Children need protective foods, including three or four glasses of milk per day, plus eggs, meat, fruits and vegetables. Some fat in the diet and some sugars and sweets for energy are desirable. On the other hand, over-indulgence in sweets and fats leads to gains in weight, particularly when they are substituted for protective foods. Sweets should be given sparingly, the University nutritionist explains, because they may dull the appetite for more important foods. Concentrated sweets are also likely to encourage tooth decay.

Mrs. Higgins gives these tips on how parents can help prevent or correct overweight in children:

- Encourage the children to exercise.
- Provide conditions for proper rest at night.
- Provide low-calorie fruits and vegetables as snacks.
- Plan and serve meals containing protective foods in adequate amounts, with a limitation on sweets and starches.

More than $8-million was apportioned to 59 Minnesota municipalities (over 5,000 population) in this year's allotment of state highway-user funds for street construction and maintenance under the new municipal-state aid plan.

Stewardship

This land was my father's. Now it is mine. Often, as I work upon it, the words of Genesis come to me: "In the beginning, God created the heavens and the earth." And then, too, come those other words from Genesis: "The Lord God took the man and put him in the Garden of Eden to till it and to keep it."

God entrusted the precious soil to us, and it is our duty to use it well. But he gave us stewardship of something even more precious—our souls. Just as we must care for the land, so must we enrich ourselves, spiritually. And the place in which to cultivate our souls is the Church.

Let us take a lesson from the land, which when well used is wonderfully productive, yet when neglected brings only aridity and erosion. Let us care for our spiritual as well as our physical fields. Let's go to church!

New Sound Color Film to be Shown

The thrilling story of the "Circuit Rider" as he courageously carried the gospel to the early pioneer is captured in the new sound color film "Proclaim Liberty" to be shown at the Fourtown Mission Chapel Sunday evening, May 17, at 8.

"Proclaim Liberty" tells in word and in picture the romantic story of the American Sunday School Union — the rural home missionary Society that in 1957 completed 140 years of missionary endeavor. Scene after scene of great historical interest and of current life in rural America comes tumbling through the screen. There is scarcely a phase of life in these United States not reflected in it. Down through the years there is not a phase of that life which has not been touched in some way or another by this pioneer rural missionary organization.

The film is a down to earth fascination story of the people, who founded the Sunday school movement in the United States. Acting with virile faith, these stouthearted circuit riders, traveled over hill and dale carrying the gospel of Christ. You will not want to miss seeing this fast-moving, colorful dramatic film. The public is cordially invited. No admission is charged.

— THE LOCOMOTIVE FIREMEN —

by H. E. Gilbert

International President Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen (AFL-CIO)

The Association of American Railroads and its member railroads have embarked on a multi-million dollar "character assassination" program against their employes.

With the speech of AAR President Daniel P. Loomis in St. Louis last February 11 the nations railroads opened a publicity campaign that has the obvious purpose of discrediting the men who operate the trains — Engineers, Firemen, Conductors, Brakemen and Switchmen.

One target is the Locomotive fireman who must defend his right to a job.

He could be more properly called a "diesel helper," but the name — "fireman" means much to the history of his craft and it has been preserved.

Let's look at the transition the Locomotive fireman has made from steam power to diesel locomotives and the important functions he performs in modern railroading.

What does a fireman do on a diesel locomotive? Basically, he performs the same duties he has always been charged with, i.e., production of power, locomotive inspection, assistant to the engineer, safety lookout, and other duties.

Production Of Power. Obviously there are no fires to tend to on a diesel with the exception of steam generators on certain locomotives. However, this does not mean diesels operate automatically, sustain no breakdowns and are not subject to such hazards as fire, explosions, faulty wiring and mechanical failures. The diesel engine is a huge, complicated piece of machinery, worth thousands of dollars. The fireman protects this investment and assures proper functioning by:

1. Making periodic patrols of the engine while enroute to ascertain proper working condition and to insure continued power to the engineer
2. Answering alarm signals which denote malfunctions. In most cases the fireman makes temporary repairs en route, thereby avoiding delays and associated hazards.

Assistant to the Engineer. It has been natural for the fireman and engineer to work as a team in railroading. This relationship has existed since the days of the old wood burning engines. Diesel power has done nothing to lessen it. Rather, the demands of modern railroading have increased the value of the fireman and engineer to each other.

The fireman begins his training to be an engineer the day he starts work. Through formal instructions and the age old method of — experience and observation, as fireman, he acquires essential knowledge of locomotive operations, air brakes, train speed, switching techniques, signals, safety requirements and a thorough understanding of the diesel engine.

The present day freight locomotive consists of three to five or even more diesel units, operating in multiple, hauling a train of 150 to 300 cars. The engineer and fireman responsible for these multi-million dollar trains are not trained in a few weeks. Their training and schooling extend over years.

The engineer can not leave the cab when the train is in motion. Thus, when an engine alarm denotes trouble, or inspections are necessary, the task falls to the fireman in line with his traditional duty of supplying power to the throttle for the engineer. The presence of a second man, who continually calls signals and speed zones which the engineer repeats aloud, preserves alertness and attention, the so-called deadman pedal causes severe muscular fatigue to the engineer, without a second man there is no way of relieving the engineer short of stopping the train.

The fireman is more than an assistant to the engineer. He is his "second pair of eyes." Practical railroaders rate the locomotive fireman the most valuable safety factor available to the industry. His presence on many occasions meant the difference between disaster and the saving of lives and property.

It doesn't happen every day, but it does occur often enough that an engineer will collapse or die while the train is moving. Actual experience has proven the deadman pedal not to be foolproof. The fireman can stop the train and avoid disaster and take necessary action to bring the situation under control.

The public, too, has a big stake in safe railroading and here again the fireman is extremely important. Incidents in which the fireman was instrumental in saving lives are reported regularly. No Fanfare accompanies the deed because to often public interest is centered on disasters rather than the averting of a tragedy.

Many cases are on record when a fireman saved entire trains, and there are instances where a fireman lost his own life attempting to save others.

Down through the years the locomotive fireman has been honored in song and story. He remains today not a storybook character of the past but a vital factor in safe and efficient railroading. Some may seek to deride his importance or fret because he seeks a living wage, but his record — past, present and future — will answer all critics.

This letter respectfully submitted by Ray O. Olson in behalf of the 92,000 Locomotive Fireman, the public and the B. of L.F.&E.

Sees Good Prospects for Beef Producers

Compared to other livestock enterprises, the long-term outlook is a bright one for beef production, according to a University of Minnesota extension economist.

Farm management specialist Hal Routhe says there is more room for expansion in beef cattle between now and 1975 than for any other class of livestock.

He points out that with increased population, Americans will need 50 per cent more beef annually in 1975 than they're now eating. This will call for 37 per cent more beef than are now being kept.

In actual numbers, there will need to be about 108 million head of beef cattle on U.S. farms in 1965 and 127 million in 1975 to meet food needs. On Jan. 1 of this year, the number was 97 million.

Routhe's estimates take into account improved breeding, feeding and management techniques presently known but not yet applied. The 1975 food requirements are based on the U.S. Department of Agriculture estimates.

About 47 per cent more pork and 43 per cent more dairy products will also be needed, the estimates show. But in both cases, Routhe says improved technology can supply much of the increase with little change in animal numbers.

It will take only 16 per cent more sows on farms to supply the 1975 pork requirements and 6 to 12 per cent more dairy cows to furnish the needed dairy products by that time.

The estimates show a need for 21 per cent more hens to satisfy the 1975 demand for eggs and 50 per cent more broilers. If present trends continue, most of the increase in each case will come from large "specialized" operations.

Routhe emphasizes that these are rough estimates. But they do show the favorable outlook for beef compared to other livestock enterprises. And this outlook is something farmers can well keep in mind when planning future operations.

Donald Engelsrud of Newfolden to Go to Boys State

Wallace S. Sethre, commander of Otto Knutson post of the American Legion in Newfolden, announces that at a recent meeting it was voted to send a local boy to the 11th annual American Legion Gopher Boys State, to be held June 14-20, on the Farm School campus in St. Paul. Charles O. Fisher, chairman, in charge of the activity in the post, stated that Donald Engelsrud has been selected.

Boys State was first held in Minnesota in 1949 and has been an annual event since. Primary objective is to give the boys who attend actual learning experience in how local and state government functions, so as to arouse in them an enduring interest in government affairs; develop better civic behavior; and obtain for the young men a higher appreciation of, and wholehearted allegiance to the democratic way of life.

Leave Young Wildlife Alone, Wardens Ask

Today, Francis W. Johnson, Minnesota's chief game warden, issued a plea and a warning to residents and tourists to "leave young wildlife alone."

"Every spring our game wardens receive calls or visits from anxious and well-meaning folks who pick up young wild animals, in the belief they have been abandoned. It is not at all uncommon for people enjoying the outdoors to run across a young deer and, thinking that it has been abandoned by its mother, decide to rescue it. These people are not helping the fawn at all, for more likely than not the mother is nearby and anxiously watching the youngster."

"It is true," explained warden Johnson, "that occasionally a doe will be struck by a car and killed. The fawns are sometimes found nearby. In these cases, the local game warden should be notified so that proper care of the animals may be taken."

Since Minnesota laws do not provide for the capturing and retaining of game, birds and animals by individuals, this practice is illegal. Persons who take such animals from the wild may be subject to prosecution, explains Johnson.

On the heels of this plea to "please leave young wildlife alone," comes another warning to keep hands off wild animals, especially those acting in an unusual manner.

This warning from Donald Balser, research biologist, who points out that a danger exists of contracting rabies from affected wild animals. Rabies is prevalent throughout much of the state, warned Balser, but is especially to be found in the skunk.

"Handling of live wild animals should be avoided," cautions Balser, "and even dead wild animals along the roadside or in fields should not be picked up and handled. Animals that show no visible sign of the cause of death should be particularly avoided, and skinning of them should not be undertaken. Not using gloves or having cuts on the hands increases the danger.

State health and conservation authorities recommend that children and adults not handle, tease or play with wild animals. Precautions of this kind will reduce the number of persons bitten each year.

Summing it all up — enjoy wildlife in its natural haunts but leave the young ones alone and keep clear of strange acting animals.

Windshields May Bear Park Sticker

Chapter 174, Minnesota laws, relating to highway regulations, enacted by the recent session of the legislature, prohibits obstructions between the driver of an automobile and the windshield.

Because some persons are not familiar with the wording of the new law which also prohibits windshield stickers, NOT required by state law, they question the use of state park entry permits which are required to be affixed to the windshield.

U. W. Hella, director of state parks, has declared that "the new law, Chapter 174, definitely does not apply to park entry permits and cars entering state parks are still required to display the permit."

Says 60 MPH at Night Is Too Fast

You're Overdriving Your Lights Says Patrol Chief

at night, chances are you are overdriving your headlights. That is the advice from Paul Martz, chief of Minnesota's highway patrol. Martz pointed out that the Minnesota highway traffic regulation act requires that headlights be capable of illuminating any object up to 350 feet away. Headlights, said Martz, do meet the specifications. However, an average passenger car traveling at 60 miles per hour with average brakes needs 366 feet in which to stop.

"Properly adjusted headlights," repeated the chief, "do meet these requirements, but at 60 miles per hour, drivers of passenger cars are traveling 16 feet in the dark!" He then explained that by the time a driver under these conditions actually saw danger, he would already be too close to stop in time to avoid a collision.

Martz expressed concern over other factors which increase the danger. Headlamps may be poorly adjusted and lamp lenses or windshields with dirt on them may seriously cut the efficiency of the lamps.

"A car's lower beams won't help, either. Low beams seldom project more than 100 feet ahead, especially when you add the extra trouble of glare from headlights of oncoming vehicles."

Statistics indicate that nationally, chances of a motor vehicle fatality after dark are 3 times greater than during the day.

144 Arrests by Wardens in April

Game wardens made 144 arrests for violations of the game and fish laws in April reports Arthur Emme, assistant chief game warden. Fishing violations accounted for 95 arrests, while transporting loaded or uncased firearms in motor vehicles resulted in 19 arrests. A variety of other infractions accounted for the balance. Fines levied in the 144 cases totaled $4,858.

Editorials...

"To pursue trifles is the lot of of humanity; and whether we bustle in a pantomime, or strut at a coronation, or shout at a bonfire, or harangue in a senate-house — whatever object we follow, it will at last conduct us to futility and disappointment. The wise bustle and laugh as they walk in the pageant, but fools bustle and are important; and this probably is the only difference between them." —Oliver Goldsmith

Continuing The Folly

Over in Michigan state employees have experienced their first payless payday, with perhaps more to come. The Democratic governor and the Republican controlled legislature are busy blaming each other for the state's financial mess. Both probably are to blame.

Here in Minnesota we have been headed for financial trouble through several administrations over a period of years. Since the days of Luther Youngdahl we have been guilty of deficit spending. Thanks to the more abundant harvest of inflation tax dollars each year we muddled through. Finally the recession brought us face to face with the facts of life and Governor Freeman, and the legislature, have met the financial problem by several slick schemes, spending past savings and mortgaging the future.

At the present time Minnesota is not much better off than Michigan. Neither the Governor nor the members of the Legislature seem to be concerned about the high cost of our past folly. Apparently we are going to keep right on making the same mistakes.

Referring to the difficulty Michigan is having, the Wall Street Journal makes some observations that also apply to Minnesota. Says the Journal:

> "We aren't much interested in joining that acrimonious (Michigan) debate. Governor Williams' propensity for welfare-state proposals is well-known, but it can also be said it was up to the legislature to knock down spending schemes if it was not prepared to get up enough tax money to pay for them.
> "The one glaring fact, beautiful in its simplicity, is that this is the price of financial irresponsibility.
> "Somehow the politicans in this country, at all levels of government, have got the idea that public finance is immune from the forces that govern private finance. They appear to think they can spend like crazy and completely mismanage their money affairs, with never a thought for the morrow when the bills come due—a touching innocence indeed.
> "In the national government, to be sure, such politicians have the happy way out of inflation, except that experience proves it is not happy but painful and not a way out at all. No matter how you try, you can't for long spend money you don't have without getting into big trouble.
> "So if nothing more, Michigan at least proves how half-baked (to put it charitably) these politicians' notions really are. Governor Williams says it may be "poetic justice" that the legislators were among the first to have blank paydays. It may be. But the justice applies to more than the legislators. It catches up with all who think they can get away with breaking the laws of sound fiscal practice."

Eight Years is Enough

We can see no good reason for removing the two-term limitation for the office of president of the United States. If it were not for that limitation our present political situation would be worse than it is, we are sure.

As we see it, Ike is a better president now that he definitely is not a candidate to succeed himself. In his approach to the country's problems he now is in a position to express himself frankly and without concern for his own political fortunes. The only thing he now seeks is a good record of service and an honorable retirement.

He now gets along well with the leaders of the opposition that controls congress. A wag has observed that in the Senate there are 98 candidates for the office from which he will retire. Those 98 candidates now have no reason to undermine him personally. If he were a candidate to succeed himself nothing that he might do would be right.

Eight years as president of the United States is enough for one man, as George Washington pointed out.

Seaway A Reality

A 20,000-ton French tanker is hauling a load of wheat from Duluth to Venezuela and will return with a load of Venezuelan oil. The skipper expects to make five round trips in this service before the freeze-up next fall. This is a fair example of what the St. Lawrence seaway means for Minnesota.

Traffic on the seaway has been heavier than was expected and at some lake ports harbor facilities are proving inadequate. A steady increase in traffic is anticipated and within ten years the volume is expected to reach an annual total of 50 million tons.

The opening of the seaway opens the door for seaborne commerce to a vast area in the interior of the continent. One-third of the population of the United States lives in the 14 states with ports on the Great Lakes or close to them. This region produces about 40 per cent of our manufactures, has 80 per cent of the steel capacity, and makes 75 per cent of our automobiles. Three-quarters of the nation's meat, corn, wheat, soybeans and oats are produced in this breadbasket of the United States.

Not all units of the economy in this area will gain by the lower cost of transportation that the seaway will bring, but the advantages should far outweigh the disadvantages. The seaway should do for us what the Panama Canal did for the west coast, and over a period of time the nation as a whole will benefit.

Every Man's Castle

By a five to four vote the Supreme Court has decided that is not always necessary for a government agent to have a search warrant to gain entry to a man's house. The decision supported a Baltimore city ordinance authorizing Health Department inspectors to enter any home during daytime, and makes it an offense to deny an inspector admission. A resident of Baltimore had refused to permit an inspector to enter his house to search for rats.

Under this interpretation a man's home then is his castle only to the extent that the governing body permits, and that surely is contrary to the spirit of the Constitutional provision which states:

> "The right of the people to be secure in their persons, houses, papers and effects, against unreasonable searches and seizures, shall not be violated, and no warrant shall issue but upon probable cause, supported by oath or affirmation, and particularly describing the place to be searched and the person or things to be seized."

Not being learned in the law, we will not take issue with Justice Felix Frankfurter on the legal aspects of the case. But from a practical standpoint we think it is a mistake to encourage health inspectors or any other kind of inspectors to think they can walk into any person's home at any hour of the day without his consent and without specific court authority. If that were to become the general practice our guess is that the job of an inspector would come to be a very hazardous occupation.

There were good reasons why the fourth amendment, along with other provisions of what we refer to as the Bill of Rights, were made a part of our Constitution. The good people who championed these rights at that time knew, from actual experience, how important they are. There may be a recurrence of the conditions that made them so important at that time.

Noting the numerous efforts made during the regular session to relax the requirements on official publications, an able and experienced observer of state, county and municipal governmental affairs says: "Another thing we notice is a steady trend toward relaxation of bid requirements; more and more officials and official bodies are permitted to spend larger and larger sums for more and more things without getting bids — a subtle encouragement, it might be concluded, of the twin evils of favoritism and extravagance." —New Prague Times.

Full Parity

Last Wednesday I introduced legislation designed to provide farmers engaged in the production of barley, oats, rye, soybeans, flax, grain sorghums and corn with the opportunity of achieving full parity in return for their voluntary efforts in reducing the amount of their acreage planted to these crops. Under this proposal, which is very similar to the wheat legislation I introduced earlier in the Session, the small grain farmer would receive an additional ten per cent of parity for each five per cent reduction he voluntarily makes in the average acreage he has planted to any combination of these crops during the past three years.

This program would increase the gross and net income of the farmer who participates — something that is necessary when we consider the fact that reductions in price supports of these crops for this year will mean a corresponding reduction in 1959 cash income to the farmer of 17% or $136 million as compared to 1958, if we have an average crop. This small grain plan, together with my earlier wheat proposal, provides a complete farm program for those farmers engaged in the production of grains in our Ninth district.

Firepower

On Tuesday of last week I saw a "town" destroyed by bombing. The place where this simulated event took place was Elgin Air Force Base, Florida, and the event was the Aerial Firepower demonstration of the U.S. Air Force. The purpose of demonstrations such as this is to help acquaint members of Congress with the offensive and defensive capabilities of our armed forces so that they might be better able to consider legislative matters dealing with our national defense.

Among the more impressive parts of the firepower display were the automatic pinpoint bombing of targets and the setting afire of an entire area thru mass incendiary bombing. Advances in aerial photography were demonstrated through pictures taken of the crowd by planes traveling at speeds of five and six hundred miles an hour and through night photography at the same speeds by using many powerful "flashbulbs" which lit up the entire countryside.

We also saw one of our mammoth B-52 jet bombers refueled in mid-air by three smaller tanker planes while traveling at high speeds, and were privileged to witness a display of precision flying by the world-renowned United States "Thunderbirds." These four jet pilots maneuver their aircraft through countless rolls, dives and peels while flying in a formation so close that their wings overlap by three feet. All of this was an almost unbelievable display of the strength and ability of the U.S. Air Force.

YOUR SENATOR REPORTS

from the Desk of SENATOR
HUBERT H. HUMPHREY

Youth Conservation — Hearings began this week on my proposal for a Youth Conservation Corps of 150,000 young men (ages 16-22) to work on our public lands, forests and parks, before a special subcommittee on Labor and Public Welfare. Senator McCarthy and 18 other senators joined me in sponsoring this legislation, while Congressman John A. Blatnik of the 8th district is leading the fight in the House of Representatives.

Boys on the Land—We are permitting a terrible waste of both natural and human resources today—erosion, fire and waste on our public lands, and a tragic toll of twisted, frustrated young lives. The Youth Conservation Corps is designed to help meet two major national needs—first, to ensure that our public timber, grazing and recreational facilities will be adequate to take care of a rapidly expanding population; and secondly, to provide good useful, creative work opportunities for boys in their teens who cannot find jobs and cannot go on to college.

How it would work—Enrollees in the Corps would be assigned to do regular conservation work under the personal supervision of trained conservationists, such as the national park rangers, and U. S. Forest Service rangers. Working in groups of 40 or 50, they would improve timber stands, plant trees, fight disease and insects in the woods, stabilize eroding stream banks, build upstream check dams, and build additional recreational facilities — camp sites, picnic areas, for example. The boys would be paid an average of $78 per month, with their clothing, food, medicine—and education amounting to one-fourth of their time.

Developing boys — We know what the old CCC of the 1930's did for many young men. They developed stronger bodies, more stability and maturity. They often learned useful trades. And many have gone on to positions of leadership in our society. It took a lot of boys, too, who were headed for trouble, and turned them on the right path. A YCC, with its even greater emphasis on education, with slightly younger boys, and with smaller groups, will do even more good.

Paying their way — Resource economists tell me the work the boys would do would more than pay for the cost of the Corps. In one area alone — increased sales of publicly-owned timber—the work of the Corps by the year 2000 would be resulting in an annual increase of income to the Treasury of $215 million each year. And think of the other benefits in terms of soil conservation, recreational facilities, water stabilization, wildlife conservation—and the benefit to the boys themselves.

SEE YOUR QUALITY BUICK DEALER...AND
Get inside the clean winged beauty of Buick '59
Watch Dale Robertson in Tales of Wells Fargo on NBC-TV Monday Nights
Along with the most talked about style on the road today goes performance new even to owners of previous Buicks . . . and too great for you to miss.
Buick '59 is livelier yet smoother, more powerful yet thriftier, as any previous Buick owner will tell you. And credit goes to the turbine smoothness of Buick transmissions, plus the new responsiveness of Buick "Wildcat" engines.
At the wheel, too, you'll find new handling ease and finned-brake sureness that owners put high on their "most liked" list.
But that's far from all these owners tell us. They talk about new operating economy from the most efficient power plant on the road today. About quality of finish and detail, and of quietness that even beats the best of Buick heretofore. They speak of reliability . . . and they speak of the pure pleasure of owning a Buick '59 . . . in ways that warm the heart.
But the best spokesman for Buick '59—and what it can do for you—is a Buick itself. Why not go to your Buick dealer and get the inside story, today?

MODERN Concrete

"Concrete streets certainly added to the safety of our neighborhood!"

Peace-of-mind goes with concrete pavement! Its grainy surface assures safe, sure stops—gives you dependable skid resistance—even in wet weather. It stays smooth and level, too. There are no potholes to cause dangerous swerves. You're always in control of your car.

And because clean-colored concrete reflects light four times more than any dark surface, you can see and be seen far better at night—a real comfort, driving or walking.

Yet with all this built-in safety, modern concrete offers moderate first-cost and continued low maintenance. Reasons enough to make it the preferred pavement for residential streets everywhere.

In Thief River Falls Your Best Pavement Buy is Concrete

Durable and low in maintenance concrete streets are economical . . . and you get safety, too, because you can see farther on light-colored concrete.

Appearing in newspapers of the Minnesota Editorial Association through the cooperation of the U. S. Soil Conservation Service and the University of Minnesota Institute of Agriculture.

An Anoka County farmer has found a way to raise "continuous corn" and still build up the organic matter content of the soil. He planted rye in the corn during the last cultivation, by using the fertilizer sidedressing attachment with a small "baffle plate" attached so the rye fell on it and scattered on the ground. Dick Swanson, Anoka County agent, says Titterud had a good stand of rye on the ground that fall and winter. As a result, he protected the land from winter wind erosion and added to the soil's organic matter supply.

Forty dollars a month is what it used to cost Shirk Jowstra, Tyler, to haul water to his livestock. The cost even resulted in his selling some of his cattle. He solved the problem, with help from the Soil Conservation Service, by designing and building a pit-type pond. Now he has all the water he would need for any size livestock operation.

Farm Land Prices went up 6 percent between 1957 and 1958, University of Minnesota agricultural economists say that in terms of average values, the jump was from $138 per acre in 1957 to $147 in 1958. Highest 1958 values reported were $212 in southwest counties and $179 in the southeast. Both were more than $10 over the year before.

One way to test a new field practice is to compare it to the "old way" on the same farm. LeRoy Johnson did this with minimum tillage on his farm near Underwood last summer. Here's what he did, as Ervin Junkens, West Otter Tail soils agent, tells it. LeRoy spring-plowed part of a rolling field and wheel-track planted it to corn, with no other tillage involved. The other part of the field was fall-plowed and worked up in the spring by conventional procedure. The first area had much less erosion than the second part that was heavily tilled.

If you plan cover for pheasants, follow this tip from Jacob Von Lingen, supervisor of the Renville county soil conservation district. He says: "For odd area plantings, pheasants prefer a healthy sweet clover stand. This crop does not allow traffic lanes to form, as often happens with fall marsh grasses and which gives predators routes for easy prey on pheasants. Instead, clover encourages random movements, and always leaves a stemmy growth around the bird." Von Lingen farms 5 miles north of Renville.

Farm pond a mosquito haven? Not so, says Albert Rollefson, Pipestone farmer. "I never saw a mosquito last summer, even though I often hauled water from the pond for the hogs." Apparently, the ten-foot depth of the pond keeps the water cool enough to prevent stagnancy and marshy conditions. Rollefson, a cooperator in the Pipestone soil conservation district, built the pond in 1957 with dragline equipment. Cattle drank directly from it during the entire 1958 seasons.

If harvested in early bloom, first-cut hay is equally as good as or better than second or third-cut forage. William Hueg, extension agronomist at the University of Minnesota makes this report from New York research: First-crop legumes cut at late bud or early bloom had 57 per cent digestible nutrients. Second-cutting hay averaged 52 per cent. So the key to higher feed value is earlier cutting.

One of the newest developments in construction is the use of air-entrained concrete. Air entrained concrete contains billions of microscopic air chambers per cubic foot. These disconnected air cells relieve the destructive pressure caused by alternate freezing and thawing.

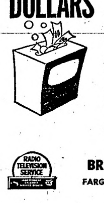
HOW I CAN SAVE YOUR TV DOLLARS



—The biggest single investment you'll have to make in your present TV set will come when your picture tube wears out.

You can save money by replacing your worn out picture tube with an "off brand" picture tube. But it's false economy. In a nationwide test, "off brand" tubes were compared to Sylvania Silver Screen 85 picture tubes. Measured against Sylvania standards, over 50% of the "off brand" tubes failed in less than four months of operation.

The average brightness of "off brand" tubes was 5 years behind the times compared to new-set standards established by the Silver Screen 85. That's why seven out of ten TV set makers use Silver Screen 85 picture tubes in their new TV sets.

To get full value for your money, take our advice and install a genuine "Silver Screen 85" picture tube.

Some time in May, Northwestern Bell will install its millionth Minnesota telephone.
We think the fact that Minnesota people now make use of a million Bell telephones to help them in their daily living and working is highly significant of this region's vitality and progress. Minnesota's millionth telephone also is a measure of our ability to meet the expanding communication needs of this state.
MINNESOTA RANKS 16th IN THE NATION
With one million Bell telephones, Minnesota ranks 16th among the states in the union. This relatively high position has come as a result of the very great growth which occurred in this state since World War II. It took 68 years for Northwestern Bell to install the first half million telephones in Minnesota. The second half million has come in only the 13 years since 1946.
To put this second half million telephones in service has demanded the fullest use of all the resources we possess. It has required an expenditure of more than $300 million, and an increase in employees from 7900 to about 9000.
SERVICE HAS BEEN IMPROVED
In addition to meeting this tremendous demand for more service, we have been able to effect substantial improvements during the post-war years. Dial service has been established in most Minnesota communities, and today 95% of Northwestern Bell telephones are dial. In the Twin Cities and many other Minnesota communities, we have extended the toll-free local calling area to include hundreds of additional telephones. Farm service has been substantially expanded and improved.
Nearly half of our customers in Minnesota may now dial long distance calls directly to hundreds of cities and towns throughout the nation. A state-wide radio relay system has been built to provide additional facilities for inter-city calling, defense communications and network television programs. Hundreds of miles of long distance lines have been weather-proofed by placing them in underground cable.
A PLEDGE FOR THE FUTURE
As we start work on our second million, we know that the inventions and developments from telephone research will bring amazing changes in our communications service. We assure our Minnesota customers that their TELEPHONE OF TOMORROW will offer service that is faster, more convenient and farther reaching than anything you now have. We pledge our best efforts to continue to bring you the most modern and complete service that can be provided.

Showdown on Withholding Due This Week

Senate Scheduled to Take Action on Provision Today

The Minnesota legislature's extra session, beset by budget woes, crept closer to a conclusion last week.

Attention centered on the senate tax committee's hearing room, in the capitol basement. There 19 men worked on the house-passed administration's revenue-raising bill while legislative doodling was about all to occupy the other members.

At week's end, the senate tax committee sent the result of its work to the floor. Liberals harangued Chairman Donald O. Wright for the committee action junking Gov. Freeman's recommendation that income tax collections be put on a withholding basis.

There were outcries that it fails to meet the next two years' spending plans by 20 million dollars. Wright countered that "it won't miss by much" in meeting demands and that he and others feel the administration's revenue estimates are too low.

The appropriation bills that were moved to conference committees foresee a 485-million-dollar budget. Few trims are in sight.

The protests made little difference. The solid Conservative majority approved the work and moved the bill to passage debate stage for today.

Biggest piece of new revenue contemplated would come from the individual income taxpayers, with a 1 per cent boost in each bracket. The tax on cigarets would be jumped a penny, to 5 cents; hard liquor taxes from 55 to 60 cents on a fifth of whisky, iron ore and corporation taxes raised but not as much as Freeman asked.

In the midst of it all, Ed Viehman, Republican state chairman, made an appeal for a "tax truce" largely along the lines that were followed by the senate tax committee.

Viehman urged that the withholding system be abandoned by the governor and Liberals. Taxpayers, without withholding, then would know exactly what Freeman's "program is and how much it costs," argued Viehman.

Also sent to the senate floor during the week and perched for debate was a statewide bill to fix daylight saving time from Memorial day through Labor day. Supporters of DST predicted passage in both house and senate but warned that the vote will be close.

County Wheat Growers Told to List Acres

Producers Must Report Unless They Have Allotments

All Pennington county wheat producers who do not have wheat allotments determined for their farms in 1959 are reminded by Patrick W. Culkins, office manager of the Pennington county ASC, that they are required to report their seeded acreage to the county office immediately upon completion of the seeding operations.

This can be accomplished by the producer by calling the county office by telephone, visiting the office in person or notifying the office by mail.

In the event that the producer makes his report by mail, he must give information of the description of the land on which the wheat is seeded and the approximate acreage seeded.

Failure on the part of the producer to comply with the request may result in serious consequences to him in case he has overseeded the 15-acre limitation permitted under the 1959 acreage allotment and marketing quota regulations.

Beauty Tips

By JO ANNE WEDUL

Mascara, I think, is as important to your makeup as your lipstick — especially if you use it right. Lashes that have been darkened by mascara make eyes appear larger and brighter.

A theater trick that works as an evening trick is to tip mascara-darkened lashes with a mascara or eye shadow that's a shade lighter than your eyes. Even small, narrow eyes seem wider open when tipped with color.

Wonder why you sometimes don't look as radiant as others? Remember that the most important elements in beauty coloring are time and light. Plan ample time for careful makeup and place the mirror near a bright window or a high-voltage light. It will pay off later.

We feature DERMETICS, CONTOURE' and REVLON COSMETICS for the loveliest results. Treat yourself to that LUXURIOUSLY LOVELY FEELING that our three experienced operators can give you at JO ANNE'S BEAUTY SHOP, 107 EAST 3RD STREET. Call MU 1-4405 TODAY for an appointment.

2 Planes Damaged in Gale Last Week

Plane Owner by Greenbush Man Is Heavily Damaged

Two airplanes tied down at the local airport were damaged, one severely, by the high winds which raged over a large portion of the upper midwest last week.

Elwood Ehrenstrom said a Piper Cub belonging to Phil Wilebski, Greenbush, was blown partly across the airport fence south of the airport administration building during the Sunday evening storm a week ago, when one of the screw-type tie-down stakes under the wings, pulled out of the water-soaked ground.

The plane was turned in its back by the blustery winds and when it came to rest was draped across the airport fence. One wing was demolished, the other wing was damaged and the vertical stabilizer of the plane sustained lesser damages as a result of the mishap.

Last Tuesday, during the terrific wind and dust storm which plagued the area, an aileron was blown off a Taylorcraft owned by Ehrenstrom, which was tied on the airport apron. High winds whipping the planes control surfaces were responsible for the damage.

Heavy Fine Levied in Traffic Mishap

Goodridge Man Ordered to Pay Total of $159

A traffic mishap on the west outskirts of the city on highway 1 late Friday evening resulted in fines and costs totaling over $150 being levied against a Goodridge man.

Olaf C. Olson was driving west near the city outskirts when his car struck the guard rail on the rigth side of highway 1 and bounced over to the other side. He was arrested by the highway patrol following the mishap and charged with driving under the influence of intoxicants and driving after license revocation.

In municipal court Saturday Olson pleaded guilty to both counts. For driving under the influence of intoxicants he was fined $100 plus $5 costs, and for driving after revocation he was fined $50 plus $4 costs.

In addition to the fines and court costs, Olson sustained about $250 damages to his car.

Burgars Enter 3 Offices, Get Little

Entry Believed Made from Noon to 9 p.m. Saturday

A bold burglar or burglars are believed to have broken into at least three offices in the city Saturday, in broad daylight, but they got very little for their efforts, according to local police.

A small amount of cash was taken from the office of Dr. C. E. Snyder in the Elks building, while nothing was taken from the offices of Judge H. O. Chommie, Elks building, and Dr. D. M. Travnicek, 214½ LaBree av. N.

Police believe the break-ins were perpetrated between noon and 9 p.m. Saturday. Crookston authorities had similar cases occur in that city the same day and the investigation is continuing in both cities.

Entries were made by forcing the locks with a knife or other thin, sharp instrument, Police Chief Elton Cummings said.

Prowlers Edge Ada as Drees Hurls 1-hitter

Righthander Harley Drees pitched and batted coach Ralph Skay's baseball Prowlers to a 1 to 0 win over coach Paul Johnson's defending regional champion Ada Vikings in an inter-district game played at Ada on Friday night.

The locals have three important games on this week's slate. Tonight, Monday, with game time at 8:00 P.M., the Prowlers will meet Cass Lake on the Fair Grounds diamond. On Thursday afternoon, May 21, with game time at 5:00 P.M., the Prowlers will meet the Crookston Pirates on the Crookston Highland Park diamond. And on Friday night, May 22, coach Horace May will bring his Bemidji Lumberjacks here for a game against the Prowlers on the Fair Grounds diamond. Game time for the Bemidji tilt will be at 8:00 p.m.

The lone score of Friday night's game at Ada was marked up on the scoreboard in the 1st inning, with lead-off man Eddie Lietzow bringing in the all-important run. Lietzow punched out a single into left field to open the game; Jerry Jorgenson chopped a ball in front of the plate, with catcher Steve Sitko making the play at first base, and Lietzow moving on to second base. Drees spanked a ground-single thru the mound to plate Lietzow with what proved to be the game-winning tally.

Drees and DuWayne Stadum, also a righthander, hooked up in a fine duel, with the sturdy Prowler having the edge, giving up but one hit, walking one batter, and striking out ten batsmen.

Only twice during the game did Ada manage to get a runner around to second base, and both times with two men away and Drees retired the next batsmen to snuff out the threat. In the 1st inning, with Jerry [illegible] on second and Merle H[illegible] on first, Drees forced Dea[illegible] to loft a pop fly to [illegible] man Arlan Hjelle. [illegible] 6th inning, with Di[illegible] on second, Drees wh[illegible] dangerous Hasz for the side retiring out.

President Eisenhower recently said he knew nothing in the whole economic structure of the United States that is more important for the ultimate benefit of the country than the U.S. Savings Bonds program. Without it, said the President, the job of managing the public debt would be "well-nigh impossible."

OPENING DAY The power plant dam south of First st. was a popular place Saturday morning as fishermen of all ages and both sexes tried their luck the first day of the fishing season. Generally, little luck was reported although a few walleyes, northerns and panfish were taken.

NEW REEL Jerry Ulferts, 315 Maple ave. S., celebrated the purchase of a new reel by catching this walleye near the east end of the Eighth st. bridge Saturday, the opening day of the fishing season. Although the fish was not too large, Jerry was luckier than most anglers.

LUCKY Wayne Zitzow, rt. 4, caught this northern just above the power plant dam early Saturday morning. The fish weighed in at just above three pounds. Northerns were hitting best at this location.

BIG 'UN Oliver St. Martin, 114 Conley ave. N., caught this 12 pound walleye Saturday at 1 p.m. on Lake of the Woods near Pine Island. St. Martin was accompanied by Leonard Brekke and Frank Sweet of Thief River Falls and Vern Lindquist of St. Hilaire. The fish is the largest to be reported to the Times this season. According to St. Martin, fishermen were having "fairly good" luck over the week-end.

The Match of the Year

If the schedule-making committee had arranged the schedule on purpose they couldn't have come up with a better season-ending match than the encounter between the Viking Tavern and the Hamm's Beer squads on alleys one and two on Tuesday night.

The Vikings—Pat Poole, Dean Anderson, Fred Jensen, Art Overbye, DuWayne Bakke and Dave Carlson—have a half-game lead over Cy Glass' Hamm's Beer squad—Wally and Jesse DuChamp, Reid Stromberg, Phil LeGault, Jack Boyer, Rudy Mehlhoff, Ed Broughton and Bob Wurst. The standings being for the Viking Tavern, 51 wins and 27 losses; and for the Hamm's 50½ wins and 27½ losses.

The two teams will meet, in an early shift match on the Tuesday night Business League bowling, and to win the league championship one of the teams must (and they will) win at least two of the games.

There's not much doubt that the Viking Tavern boys are the "people's choice," and it will be a case of their youthfulness against the age and experience of the Hamm's squad.

Should be a standing-room-only crowd on hand for this one.

Item

Item snipped from Don Engberg's "Standing By In Sports" column in the Detroit Lakes Tribune: "Football at Detroit Lakes high school just missed a promising chance for an excellent coach this week.

"Herb Claffy, who has been the grid coach at Milaca for the past seven years, came here Saturday and agreed to take the DLHS post being vacated by Marlow (Red) Davidson, who has accepted a science scholarship for next year.

"Monday the news came that the Milaca school board refused to accept Claffy's resignation there and that he would not be able to move here this fall.

"There's no wonder that Milaca wants to keep Claffy. In his seven seasons there he has piled up a record of 43 wins and 13 losses. The 31-year old University of North Dakota graduate has nabbed the Rum River conference titles in 1953, 1955, and 1958, and topped the newly-formed Central Five last fall. Rum River members include Cambridge, Elk River, Princeton and Osseo.

"His track teams also won three Rum River championships and have never finished lower than fourth in the district, which includes Anoka, the perpetual powerhouse.

"Claffy's addition to the Laker staff would have been a good break for DL football. Let's hope the final choice will be as promising."

A Real Gem

Harley Drees, the "old pro" on coach Ralph Skay's 1959 Prowler baseball squad, spun a real gem on Friday night when he hurled one-hit ball to shut out the regional champion Ada Vikings at Ada, winning by a 1 to 0 score. And not only did "Dreesy" pitch a shutout, but he also drove in the lone, and winning, run.

Drees, who is one of the finest competitors to don a Prowler uniform, had to be stout-hearted on a couple of instances on Friday night. In the first inning, Ada's lead-off batter, Jerry Petry, gained a "life" on Jerry Jorgenson's bobble; Dave Lambert and Dick Hennen were strikeout victims; but clean-up batter Merle Hasz, a powerful free-swinging right-handed long-ball hitter, managed to poke a ground single past shortstop, sending Petry to second. Drees retired Dean Bowyer on a pop fly to Arlan Hjelle.

That hit of Hasz' was the only bingle the Vikings garnered off Drees' slants. Harley had given Hasz a slow-breaking curve on the previous pitch, and Hasz had whiffed at the pitch. Drees came in with another slow curve, and the over-anxious Hasz was fooled on the pitch but he held up his swing long enough to slap a ground single into short left field.

In the 6th inning, with two away, Drees nicked Hennen with a pitched ball. Hennen stole second, and, carrying the tying run, he was stranded there as Harley threw the ball past Hasz for a strikeout.

Thieves Win from Alvarado Team 4-0

Pitcher Gene Leslie Allows but Three Hits

The Thieves had another "shake down" ball game on Sunday afternoon in preparation for their Northern Minny league opener against the Bagley Merchants in a night game here next Sunday. Playing at Alvarado on Sunday, and with Dale Klungness, Rodney Max, Glenn Carlson, and Tom Fritz making their first appearance in a Thieves' uniform this season, manager John Drury's club scored a 4 to 0 win over the Alvarado Farmers of the Red River Valley league in a seven-inning tilt.

The Alvarado club was shorthanded for the game, with a number of their players attending college and not being eligible until the school term is over. Arlan Hjelle of the Thieves filled in ably at third base for the Alvarado team.

The Thieves scored what proved to be the winning runs in the 1st inning when, with one out, Larry Gilbertson walked, moved around to third base on Marv Mansfield's double to left field, and scored when Carlson lined a hit into right field. Mansfield also tallied on Carlson's drive.

In the 7th, the locals, on singles by Wally Grovum, Gilbertson, and Mansfield; plus a Filippi wild pitch, added two more runs to boost their game score to four to zero.

Righthander Gene Leslie limited Alvarado to three hits, two infield scratches by Ron Nelson and Floyd Johnson, and Hjelle's looper into left field.

Women's Camp Set at N.W. School June 9-12

Minnesota and North Dakota homemakers in the Red River Valley are invited to attend the 34th annual Women's Camp to be held at the Northwest School of Agriculture, Crookston, June 9-12. Registration will be held at the Kiehle building on Tuesday afternoon, June 9, beginning at three o'clock for "resident" campers, and each morning at eight o'clock for "day" campers.

A varied program including speakers and crafts has been arranged for the three-day "Homemakers' Holiday." Mrs. Eleanor Looms, consumer marketing specialist, University of Minnesota, will speak on Tuesday evening on "Old Mexico." On Wednesday morning, Mrs. Lilja Synder, Polk county public health nurse, and Mrs. J. Kruta, school nurse at the Northwest School, will give a talk and demonstrate "First Aid."

Mrs. H. Tabbut, Fargo home economist, will demonstrate on "Outdoor Cookery" at the Wednesday afternoon program. "It's Fun to Make Hats" will be the topic for the Thursday morning program with Mrs. Harold Ikelman of Grand Forks, N. Dak. demonstrating to the group. The Thursday afternoon program will feature "Centerpieces" demonstrated by Mrs. N. Flagstad and Mrs. J. Freeman of Roseau.

The Friday morning speaker will be Dr. M. H. Weatherhorn, of the Northwestern Mental Health Center, who will speak to the group on the work of the mental health centers in Minnesota.

Homemakers who cannot attend for the entire camp period are invited to take part in the "Day Camp" programs. Special craft lessons have been planned for day campers. Day campers are invited to bring picnic lunches, or meals can be bought at the Northwest School dining hall at camp if meal reservations are made by May 27. Coffee will be available to picnickers. Reservations for the camp should be sent to E. N. Reiersgord, principal.

Crafts which will be taught at camp this year include: woodwork—birthday plates; stitchery — Hardanger and cross-stitch; cake decorating, Christmas decorations, ceramic tile, and chenille craft. There will also be a workship each day on "public speaking." Swimming lessons will be given twice daily by Mrs. Wm. Montague of Crookston.

Special features of the camp will include a get-acquainted party on Tuesday evening, and a banquet, folk dancing with Bob and Mae Gee of Moorhead, and movies on Wednesday evening. "A Visit to the Brussels World's Fair" with Mrs. C. L. Oppegaard of Crookston and Freshmen initiation will be on the Thursday evening schedule. A craft display, party recipe exchange, and recognition assembly will conclude camp activities on Friday, June 12.

Miss Marion Parbst, Home Economics Department head at the Northwest School, will serve as camp leader.

The 1959 Womens' Camp officers are: Mrs. Ray Patenaude, Red Lake Falls— president; Mrs. John Taus, Angus—vice-president; Mrs. Otto Haarstad, Newfolden—secretary; Mrs. Emil Holland, Detroit Lakes—treasurer; and Mrs. Henry Nolte, Fertile—sergeant-at-arms.

FIRST TIME FOR EVERYTHING, as the old saying goes . . . and the adage is proven again with this year's milking contest between Princess Kay of the Milky Way and the Minnesota FFA Star Dairy Farmer. Princess Kay has beaten the FFA champ four years running. But the tide turned this year and lovely Diane Schroeder of Kindel was defeated by William Lewison of Owatonna. Using iron will-power to overcome the dazzling smile of Princess Kay, William finished the three-minute contest with three pounds of milk compared with Diane's one. Diane accepted defeat gracefully and immediately challenged young Lewison to a rematch at the Steele County Fair in August.

World Trade Topic of Minneapolis Parley Last Week

Major Steamship Line Executives Confer with Chambers of Commerce

Executives of some of the nation's steamship lines visited the Twin Cities Tuesday and Wednesday to emphasize the importance of world trade and the American Merchant Marine to Minnesota's economy.

Their tour here was sponsored by the Committee of American Steamship Lines, whose members are 14 lines that sail 312 passenger and cargo ships in foreign trade. Heading the visiting group was Lewis A. Lapman, chairman of the Committee and president of the Grace Line Inc.

The steamship officials took part in a World Trade Week celebration sponsored by the Minneapolis Area Chamber of Commerce and the St. Paul Chamber of Commerce.

Assembled from all United States coasts, including the Great Lakes and the St. Lawrence Seaway, the Merchant Marine groups toured Twin Cities industrial plants, attended Chamber luncheons in their honor, conducted a question and answer forum for exporters and importers and stressed the importance of the American Merchant Marine in meetings with bankers and industrialists.

A foreign survey by the Committee revealed that 175,000 industrial workers and 200,000 farmers in Minnesota are affected by foreign trade carried in ocean going vessels. It pointed out that Minnesota's share of the nation's exports of factory and farm production is more than $200 million.

"A nation's military strength reflects its economic strength", Lapman declared. "America's prosperity depends on exports and imports. About 10 per cent of movable goods made in the United States are shipped abroad and the country is more than 50 per cent dependent on imports for 99 raw materials.

"So a nucleus of American-flag merchant ships, insuring shippers of regularly scheduled service on essential world trade routes, is a form of national economic casualty insurance."

OUR INSPIRING NONAGENARIANS

This year's June Dairy Month brings the 90th birthday of Mrs. Andrew Christofferson, Kasson—an accumulation of years which did not deter her from entering a cookie contest sponsored by Dairy Month promoters, Minnesota Dairy Industry Committee—in which this sprightly lady's butter cookies came off among thousands of entries with a notable second prize. . . James Madden, 90 May 1 this year, has lived alone on his 80-acre farm near Waseca for 40 years; does all his own work, walks 14 miles a week on two trips to and from town to keep fresh groceries on hand, and is just getting used to the first glasses he ever wore.

Not A Sacred Cow

In many communities throughout the state there will be an important election tomorrow night. Voters will be given an opportunity to express their preferences for school board directors who will have the responsibility of managing one of the community's largest industries. Besides being one of the largest, it also is one of the most important.

Our school problems are important because they involve two of our most cherished possessions, our children and our dollars. Thinking in terms of the generation that will succeed us, both the children and the dollars are important. The desirability of providing for our children the best education they are capable of absorbing is generally recognized.

Our ability to pay is also an important consideration. Our children will have little reason to thank us for leaving them a heavy burden of public debt. We must, somehow, live within our means. School board members have great responsibilities.

From our observations, school board members, as a group, are the least informed of all our public officials. In too many instances our schools are managed, not by the directors who are elected for that responsibility, but by the hired help. From our experience, it is difficult to get school board members to express themselves on school problems.

In some ways this business of operating our public schools is the most interesting of our various experiments in democracy. In theory our schools are directed by elected officials. In control, however, is the hierarchy of the organized educators whose members agree mainly on one point and that is that educators are underpaid.

It is encouraging to note that educators are not in agreement on some of the basic problems of teaching. We are in the process of emerging from the extremes of "progressive education" that was so successfuly advocated by some of the intellectuals. John Dewey's philosophy was distorted. We are getting away from the idea that the child should be encouraged to follow his own bent, thoroughly contemptuous of authority.

There is reason to hope that once again a place is being found for common sense in the operation of our schools.

These are things the voters might properly be turning over in their minds while on their way to the polls tomorrow night. Our school system should not be looked upon as a sacred cow. Good citizens have a right to ask questions.

In the many communities where school elections will be held, good citizens will exercise their right to vote. All elections are important and school elections, in terms of the future, are especially important.

Trim The Fat, Governor

Governor Orville Freeman says the Senate tax bill is unfair to the people of Minnesota. We are inclined to agree with him but we would add that the same might properly be said about the tax program he advocates.

The Governor says the Senate bill will fall $20 million short of paying the authorized expenditures. That of course is not good. But this defect the Governor can correct.

His Excellency does have the item veto power. He has the authority to strike from the appropriation bills any items to which he may object. That $20 million is only four per cent of the half-a-billion dollar expenditures that will cross his desk for approval. We are sure a good governor could cut that total ten per cent without crippling any necessary service.

The Governor expresses concern about the plight of the taxpayer. A good job of trimming the fat from the appropriation bills would be a convincing way of proving that he is sincere in his concern.

Manitoba Elects

Manitoba voters ended an eleven-month stalemate in their provincial government last week by giving Premier Duff Roblin and his Conservative party a clear-cut majority in the legislature. Mr. Roblin has headed the government as a coalition choice.

So swings the political pendulum. For many years the Liberals had controlled Manitoba and also the Dominion government. In 1957 the Conservatives gained control of the federal parliament but, as later in Manitoba, did not have a majority of the membership. A second election returned Rt. Hon. John Diefenbaker as Prime Minister with 208 of the 265 seats in the House of Commons occupied by members of his party.

In Canada, as in the States, the people seem to think an ocasional change is good. It is encouraging to note that three Communist candidates received only .005 of the total vote, according to the Winnipeg Tribune.

Name Calling No Solution

Dick Wanek, who does a good job of covering the legislative session for the St. Paul Pioneer Press, sums up the reasons for the present deadlock over taxes in the following statement:

> "We are in a financial mess because we have spent more money than we have been taking in from regular sources. We have been living off of balances and extra money made available in lump sums from the changing of several laws (this is a windfall). Much of our tax money comes from iron ore mining and if business conditions shift and the demand for ore drops below expectations, the state is in financial trouble. Now the reckoning has come. There are no more windfalls (except perhaps one available from income tax collection change). The balances have been used up. If expenses can't be cut, new tax money must be found. No one likes to pay higher taxes. A tax increase favored by one group is denounced by others. Where to turn? That's what's keeping the solons in session. They can't yet make the decision."

This is a fair analysis of the problem and, in fairness to all, it is a mess for which both conservatives and liberals are responsible. The present problem is an accumulation of the results of financial irresponsibility of several administrations.

Until the liberals and the conservatives understand and admit their joint responsibility for the state's present financial difficulty there is little hope for a reasonable program of spending and taxing. Reasonable solutions do not come by the you're-a-liar method of argument.

The only encouraging thing about the present situation is that the people are finally getting the facts.

Temper Tantrums

Many a time parents are upset and confused because their child throws a temper tantrum at the least excuse. The other day I was visiting a friend. Her two children were playing in the room next to the one we were in. Suddenly we heard a sound from the other room and went to see what the matter was. Two year old Carol was lying on the floor screaming and kicking. Her four year old brother would not allow her to play with one of his toys. It was clear that frustration and helplessness were the cause of little Carol's temper-outburst. The mother did not try to explain anything to Carol at the time, but picked her up and diverted her attention. After a little while she was all right. Perhaps the easier and quicker solution would have been to take the toy from Danny and give it to Carol, but would that have been a permanent solution? Carol would then have found a tool to get her own way in the future.

Such shows of temper are quite common in children between the ages of one and three. This may, in part, be due to their helplessmenss. Other causes may be hunger, fatigue, irregular hours, over-excitement or lack of play. Quite often, unremedied physical defects lead to temper-tantrums. Our own reactions to troubles and annoyances may rub off on our children. If we lose our temper when the child misbehave and shout at him, he may learn to do the same.

The treatment of temper-tantrums should be suited to the individual child, and should take into account the cause of the tantrum. If they are used by the youngster to get his own way, we must stop giving into him. tention is what he needs but not tention is what he neds but not for the tantrum. Dealing with the cause wherever possible is much more effective than lectures, threats, and punishments. A child recovers faster if we are consistent while offering him help and sympathy.

REPORT from the GOVERNOR

Orville L. Freeman

Within a week we expect to be receiving reports from the mayors of Minnesota cities and towns, as the first step in our preparation for the White House Conference on Children and Youth, which is less than a year away.

I have written to all of the mayors, asking them to serve as chairmen in their respective communities to make sure that the information necessary to prepare Minnesota's report to the White House Conference is assembled and reported.

White House Conference

For the last half century there has been held, about once every ten years, a White House Conference on Children and Youth, called by the President. Next year's conference will open the last week of March, 1960 In preparation for the conference each state is expected to report on planning and activities for youth within that state, especially in terms of progress made during the past ten years.

At the conference, delegates from each state will report on what they have done, and will learn what other states are doing. They will study problems of youth and try to find solutions for those problems. They will plan programs for action for the years ahead.

Minnesota's Committee

Minnesota is ahead of many states in this field. The Governor's Advisory Council on Children and Youth has done outstanding work in the past several years, and it has accepted the responsibility of coordinating Minnesotas' preparation for the White House Conference. To that end, it prepared a comprehensive questionnaire to send to the mayors, so that their task would be easier.

It was the Council that recognized that the best kind of picture of Minnesota activity for youth could be obtained from the local communities themselves, under the direction of the mayors. When the local reports are in, the Council will use them as a source for its compilation of the Minnesota Report.

Minnesota's Leadership

For the past few years Minnesota's leadership in activities for children and youth has won national and even international attention, — with respect to our Teen Age Code and many other programs. We owe much to the dedicated leaders on the Advisory Council, and to the thousands of effective community leaders. I know that our outstanding position will be emphasized by our forthcoming participation in the White House Conference.'

I should like to express appreciation on behalf of all Minnesotans for the work the mayors are now doing, and the efforts of the Committees the mayors have appointed, to make sure that Minnesota's report at that Conference will reflect the progress we are making.

Three prominent Bemidji men died Wednesday afternoon in a boating accident on Crow Lake near Kenora, Ontario.

S. Sgt. Erik Erickson of the Ontario Provincial Police identified the victims as Alfred Allanslee, Andy Lee and Al Stevens, all in their late 60's.

Erickson said the trio's boat overturned. Allandsdale drowned. His body was not recovered.

Lee and Stevens clung to the side of the capsized boat and reached shore, but collapsed and died of exhaustion and exposure. Their bodies were taken to a Fort Francis, Ont., funeral home.

HOME Garden TIPS

Starting Seeds in Garden

Many of the summer-blooming annual flowers can be seeded directly in the flower border. These annuals include sweet alyssum, bachelor's buttons, balsam, calendula, calliopsis, celosia, cosmos, clarkia, larkspur, marigold, moss rose, portulaca, nasturtium, annual phlox, stocks (seven-week), Unwin dahlia and zinnia.

Usually it's most effective to group annuals in the border, using three to five plants to a group. Space the plants six to 12 inches apart, depending upon mature plant size. Plant the seeds very shallow — only one-eighth to one-fourth inch deep.

Often it's hard to identify the seeds you have planted from weeds or other seeds which might be germinating. Plant three to five seeds at each location in the grouping and place a small stick and label by the planting. You can thin the seedlings after they begin to show their first true leaves.

To get a head start with your seedlings, prepare a small section of the border by spading the soil and leveling it with a garden rake. Mark off squares about 18x18 inches — enough for each annual you plan to grow. This small area can be seeded before normal planting time. If frosts or freezing weather is predicted, the area can be covered or protected. Later, when the seedlings are large enough, transplant them to the border.

Warn of Contracts for LaCombe Hogs

Agriculture Chief Says None Available in U. S.

A warning to farmers against signing contracts for Lacombe hogs, a new breed originated in Canada, was issued today by Minnesota Commissioner of Agriculture Byron G. Allen.

Basing his warning on an investigation by the Farmer magazine of St. Paul, Allen points out that LaCombe hogs are not yet available in the United States, nor will any likely be available for some time, despite current selling activity of a Canadian company from its office in Moorhead, Minnesota.

Quoting from a copyrighted story appearing in The Farmer on May 16, Commissioner Allen states that "neither the Big L Ranching Company, Ltd., of Edmonton, Alberta, Canada, nor John McBride of Lacombe Swine Breeders at Moorhead can honestly assure farmers that delivery could or would be made. An embargo prohibits export of Lacombe hogs from Canda, and neither the Big L Ranching Company nor Lacombe Swine Breeders has Lacombe hogs registered in its name."

The Big L Company has to date been refused breeding stock, according to information received by the Farmer from the Canadian Department of Agriculture.

Ralph Dickinson, Bemidji Business Leader, Dies at 86

Ralph H. Dickinson, a prominent figure in the Bemidji area lumber business for more than a half century, died Monday after a brief illness. He was 86

One of his five sons, Leonard Dickinson, is a former state senator and was the Republican candidate for lieutenant governor in 1936.

The elder Dickinson came to the Bemidji area in 1896 and opened a general store at the logging town of Buena Vista. A few years later he built the first box factory in Beltrami county on the shore of Lake Julian.

In later years he operated feed and produce businesses. He sold them in 1938 and established a pole treating plant and small lumber mill. He remained active in those enterprises until death.

Surviving are his widow, two daughters and five sons. Services were held Wednesday.

Public Opinion

Editor the Times:

A short time ago, we received a beautiful sales catalog, and it really is a work of art. This is one of the many types of catalogs that are available today.

After studying it, it gave me the impression that I could buy at wholesale prices, any of the items offered. The retail prices shown and your cost is coded to give the impression that you are buying on a wholesale basis. The operation basically is just another discount house, which is a little deceiving.

In comparing prices I find many of these items can be bought in local stores at equal or even lower prices. In a few instances they have taken a few items and priced low to give the impression that all the items are lower than dealers retail prices.

In the past few years, it has been a common practice to advertise good showing a full list and along with this a lower retail or sale price. On this basis, we as merchants are using this type of advertising to combat competition we are receiving from this source.

Twenty five years ago, we as independent dealers, used Wards and Sears catalogs as a marking guide. Today we are beginning to use so called discount houses and others in the distribution field. Tomorrow they may develop some other type of a price gimmick.

The whole point of this letter is this; The shrewd shopper will take time to shop for the best values, not on the basis of price only, but will take into consideration, quality, service and availability of many of these items that are handled by local merchants.

The local merchant carries stock so that you can examine and compare values. Also the local merchants contribue to the welfare of the community, thru taxes, community affairs, etc. We definitely do not expect your business unless it's warranted. But again all we can ask, be a good and shrewd shopper.'

PEEKIN' into the PAST

THE 1900 -TALKING MACHINE'

About 1900, talking machines like the Edison above began to appear in more and more homes.

The records for this machine were cylinders of wax and it was not until 1907 that they were replaced by flat records or disks. Many of these old phonographs had colorfully painted horns but the tone left a lot to be desired.

Today, the phonograph, which fell into disuse after the advent of modern radio receivers, is making a spectacular comeback due to high fidelity and stereophonic sound equipment.

Dairy Day, June 9

The tenth Northwest Dairy Day will be staged Tuesday, June 9. Since the inception of this event at Thief River Falls, Dairy Days have been initiated throughout the state of Minnesota. This is an important event in promoting the improvement of dairy stock in the area.

With the showing of cattle come various chores that need to be carried out long before Dairy Day. 4-H'ers need to remember that first they need to secure cattle of proper body type and character for showing. Secondly, the animal needs to be properly groomed and trained for the show. Clipping of the dairy animal should have been done prior to this time. This may still be done—if it's done soon. It's desirable to have one month to six weeks regrowth hair prior to the show.

Brushing of the animal as often as possible and washing once a week and just prior to showing will clean the animal up. Use a detergent soap in the wash water. A clean stall will prevent stains. Braiding the switch the night before showing will put waves into the hair. Scraping, sanding, and polishing of horns and hoofs is recommended. Hoofs may need trimming to permit the animal to walk squarely on the hoof. A little olive oil or mineral oil needs to be applied over the entire body of the animal to give the hair a shiny appearance.

Training the animal to lead properly and stand correctly takes much time. Showmen should be leading their animals daily to train them properly by dairy day. Fitting, grooming and showing is a big job and further details can be obtained at the extension office.

Above all, showmen need to remember that the basic product, in this case dairy stock needs to be of high quality. The fitting and grooming is the "wrapping on the product." Selection of good stock is of utmost importance. Selection needs to be carried on many years before a high-producing herd is built. The fact that this task takes time should not be discouraging, providing every effort is made to improve the herd. The wheels of progress grind slow but fine.

Legumes Pastures Good for Lambs

If you are wondering whether alfalfas or clover pasture is good for sheep, well it is.

Despite the bloat danger, it's often more profitable to put lambs on legume-grass pasture than on straight grass.

The reason is that on the average, the larger gains which you can expect from legumes are more than enough to offset the bloat risk.

Bloat losses due to pasturing lambs on legumes vary widely from farm to farm, but usually result in a one or two per cent death loss. However, that loss, in a large flock, can easily be offset by an increase in average weight of one pound per lamb.

Actually, you can expect a much bigger gain increase from legumes than that. Compared to grazing straight grass, pasturing lambs on a legume-grass mixture could easily result in lambs weighing 10 to 20 pounds more at the end of the pasture season. In addition, the legume-grass pasture has a larger carrying capacity than does grass alone.

It's clear that if lambs are heavier at market time, a smaller number of them will bring the same return. For example, it would take only 105 lambs weighing 80 pounds each to total 8,400 pounds, compared to 120 lambs weighing only 70 pounds apiece. In this case, a 10-pound increase in average lamb weight is equal to an increase of nearly 15 per cent in number of lambs sold.

Even though legume pastures may cause bloat, the increase in weight per lamb and the greater carrying capacity is worth the risk on many farms.

Automatic Steering for Tractors

Imagine cultivating corn with the tractor at full throttle—and not having to steer at all!

This may be possible — even with seedling corn — with an "automatic pilot" like one recently developed at the University of Minnesota.

Louis A. Liljedahl, U.S. Department of Agriculture engineer, designed the device. How does it work? The driver simply starts the tractor on the row. Then the "pilot" takes over until the tractor reaches the far end of the field.

Liljedahl also worked out a formula which equipment designers can use to build such a unit. And now he's working on refining the device so it will work on corn or soybeans only two to three inches high.

Even with the automatic pilot, of course, the driver turns the tractor around at the end of the row and into the next one. But in between, he simply rides along.

The pilot has a set of "feelers" hanging from an electric switch on the front of the tractor, which straddle the corn row. If the tractor moves in one direction, the feelers move the opposite way. This movement closes an electric switch, which in turn opens hydraulic valves in the power steering unit and the tractor is guided back into the proper direction.

At four miles per hour, the tractor will go only two or three feet after moving away from the row before it is back on course.

The operator still has full control; the pilot does not affect the normal steering mechanism. Purpose of the device is to make for more accurate cultivating—especially with small plants when steering is ordinarily most difficult.

27,054 hogs in community project return more than $3.50 per bu. of corn fed

For the past two years more than 100 hog raising families in southern Minnesota have kept records as part of a cooperative feeding and management study. They wanted to know what it cost them to produce pork using a proved feeding program. They worked with local Purina Dealers who helped with weighing, feeding and management programs.

Records on 230 bunches of hogs were completed and were consolidated to give area-wide results on Purina during the two years.

QUESTIONS answered for VETERANS

Additional information or assistance on veterans benefits may be obtained by writing or visiting the VA contact representative at the Grand Forks VA office.

Q—I am a service-disabled veteran drawing extra compensation because I have a 17-year-old son. He has just enlisted in the Marines. Will the extra payments continue, since he has not yet reached age 18?

A—Yes. The extra payments will go forward until he reaches age 18, even though he is in service.

Q—I converted my World War II GI term insurance to a VA endowment plan some years ago and am having difficulty right now in meeting the premiums. Is it possible for me to change back to term insurance until I'm better fixed financially?

A—No. You may not switch a permanent plan back to term. You can, however, change to a permanent plan policy with a lower premium, such as an ordinary life policy. This is despite the wording on your policy which says no change is possible, for the law was recently modified.

Q—Does a handicapped child of a deceased war veteran have to wait until age 18 to start training under the War Orphans Education program?

A—No. A law passed recently gives such children the right to begin special types of War Orphans training when they reach age 14.

Q—VA has just informed me I can exchange my Korean GI term insurance policy to one costing only a third as much in premiums, since my policy is one of those with the letters "RS" before the policy number. I am going to change to the new policy. Shall I pay my next premium at the new rate or the old rate?

A—You should continue to pay your premiums at the old rate until the VA notifies you your new, lower-cost policy is in effect. Any overpayment will be credited to your account.

Q—I am a service-disabled veteran drawing extra compensation because I have a 17-year-old son. He has just enlisted in the Marines. Will the extra payments continue, since he has not yet reached age 18?

A—The extra payments may not be continued after he joins the Marines. Once your son is in service, he can no longer be considered a legal member of your household for purposes of the extra compensation payments.

Q—I have arranged to leave my GI life insurance dividends on credit with the VA. Will I continue to get premium-due notices?

A—Yes. Dividend credits are used only to prevent lapse of a policy. Premium notices are not suspended where there are dividend credits.

Q—Recently I changed the list of beneficiaries of my GI insurance policy. Must I inform the former beneficiaries of my action?

A—No. You have the right to change beneficiaries at any time, without their consent or knowledge.

Q—I am going to school quarter-time under the Korean GI Bill. At what rate am I using up my GI training settlement?

A—VA considers that you are using your training entitlement at quarter-time rate. For example, if your course lasts for a year, you will have used up one-quarter of a year's entitlement, or three months.

Market of Luncheon Meats

Each year, the 33,000 northern-Minnesota families whose livelihoods depend upon iron mining and related industries, eat more than 1,800,000 lbs. of luncheon meats—liverwurst, bologna, salami and many other varieties.

These people of the Iron Country spend nearly $1,100,000 yearly on these meat products. For meats of all types—beef, pork, lamb and veal—they spend close to $10,000,000 each year.

The Iron Mining Industry, in producing iron ore, provides jobs for thousands of people in Minnesota—jobs which, in turn, provide markets for the farm products of Minnesota—markets right within Minnesota's own borders.

Would make 8,379,031 sandwiches (four slices to a sandwich)

Would make four lunch-box sandwiches for 2,094,755 days—that's 5,739 years.

Would provide luncheon meat for two sandwiches in the lunches of 20,000 school children for 209 days.

Employment Picture Brightens in State

With Minnesota apparently well on the way to making a reasonably rapid recovery from the effects of the recession year of 1958, the Minnesota State Employment Service is finding that more and more employers and job seekers are turning to the state agency for qualified personnel for bona fide positions, Frank T. Starkey, commissioner, Minnesota department of employment security, pointed out today.

"For the fourth successive month reports from our 33 state employment service offices indicate record increases in finding jobs for non-farm workers," Starkey said. "This upswing in servicing employers and those seeking work is not entirely due to increased emphasis on the placement function by our local offices," Starkey said. "I believe that our employment service is at last entering into a new era of public understanding and acceptance of the services offered by the state agency, such as counseling, pre-selection and testing to final referral to employers."

Starkey said that the state employment service offices placed 9,093 persons on non-farm jobs in April, 2,127 more than in and 33 per cent higher than the April 1958 total. For the first four months of 1959, placements made by the local offices totaled 28,698, the highest January-April figure since 1953, when 31,128 jobs were found for people during the four month period, and 44 per cent higher than the 1958 January-April total of 19,906.

"If we use national figures as a yardstick of success in the placement function in Minnesota, the picture is particularly bright," Starkey said. "The most recent available national figures, for the period January through March, show state employment service offices throughout the country averaging 22 per cent more placements this year than in 1958," Starkey explained. "In Minnesota, for the same period, we were up 41 per cent this year over the first quarter in 1958. This is why we conclude that in Minnesota there is a fast-growing awareness on the part of the people and industry that our state agency is in the job finding business on a large scale."

MINNESOTANS REACH FISCAL HEIGHTS

Only four American corporations have assets topping ten billion dollars: Bank of America, nearly 11 billion, Prudential Life Insurance Company not quite 15, Metropolitan Life just over 16, American Telephone and Telegraph 22½ billion. Such a stupendous display of accumulated wealth is news in itself. But it becomes vastly more significant to Minnesotans when an amazing footnote is added: The present presidents of three of these four commercial giants were born in Minnesota; not only that, but all of them in southern Minnesota; and all of them within a 45-mile radius! At the Fairmont hub, Carrol M. Shanks began the career which has taken him to such dizzy fiscal heights. From Windom, to the west, came S. Clark Beise, head of the nation's largest bank; to the east, Albert Lea was the birthplace of AT&T's Frederick R. Kappel. Mr. Kappel was a recent visitor to the home state, and Mr. Shanks is expected in Minneapolis May 22 for sixth anniversary of Prudentials' imposing North Central headquarters, on the scenic west outskirts of the city.

GOOD NEIGHBORS, TWO AND FOUR LEGGED

A possessive hen and a frustrated tabby cat feud on a farm near Worthington over a lively litter of well-mothered kittens. Swimming in White Bear Lake 12 years ago, Mrs. George Miller lost a diamond ring; neighbor children playing this spring in the sand exposed by low water, found, and returned, the ring, none the worse for its long immersion.

Council Acts Many Matter Tuesday Night

Honebrink Elected Vice President to Succeed S. Sandvig

At its regular meeting Tuesday evening, May 19, the city council rejected all bids submitted for a garbage truck, elected a vice-president, approved $63,900 in building permits and decided to advertise for bids on a speed control device for traffic control.

After some discussion, council members decided that the 10 cubic yard garbage truck for which bids had been received would be inadequate and rejected all submitted bids. A larger unit will be called for when bids are re-advertised.

S. A. Honebrink, alderman from the fourth ward, was elected vice president of the council. The position has been vacant since the resignation of Stan Sandvig as a councilman earlier this year.

Building permits totaling $63,900 were approved. They include a $10,000 dwelling at 445 Maple av. S. by the Lampert Lumber Co.; an $800 garage at 707 Tindolph av. S. by Wilfred Berglund; a $1,000 garage at the T-59 motel by C. E. Becker; a $500 garage at 622 Horace av. N. by Woodrow Craik; a $700 dwelling addition at 219 Crocker av. N. by M. O. Stenberg; a $7,000 office building adjoining the King Koin Launderette on Second st. W. by Prichard Brothers Construction Co.; a $12,000 dwelling at 307 Oak av. S. by Freeman Lanska; a $500 garage at 307 Arnold av. S. by Telof Johnson; a $400 garage at 420 Red Lake blvd. by Tom Belland; a $30,000 motel addition at 1010 Main av. N. by R. L. Noper and a $1,000 addition at 422 Horace av. N. by the Schuster Job Printing Co.

The council approved a resolution authorizing the mayor and city clerk to enter into a lease with the school district for the airport shop building to be constructed at the municipal airport. The lease for $225 a month will begin Sept. 1. Aldermen A. J. Rau and E. B. Benson abstained from voting on the resolution.

Resolutions were offered for the payment of $7,970.50 to the Burroughs Corp. for the accounting machine for the city clerk's office; $1,601.22 to R. E. Burmeister Electric Co. for meter test equipment and $685.05 to Wells & Denbrook for architect's fees for the airport shop building. The approval was unanimous except for the payment of the architect's fees on which Alderman Rau abstained.

The contract bond of $1,557 of B.I.F. Industries for filter equipment was unanimously approved, but Alderman Rau abstained from voting on the approval of bonds of $19,599 by Prichard

Dairy Day June 9 Topic of Four Men at Rotary Monday

Stuart McLeod, President, Gives Program Details for 10th Anniversary Event

Northwest Dairy Day was the subject of a report presented to Rotarians at their noon luncheon Monday. Stuart McLeod, president of the sponsoring organization, who has served in that capacity since the first Dairy Day in 1950, reviewed the progress of the program. He spoke of the special activities that will be included in this year's event commemorating a decade of progress.

J. M. Roche, secretary, and J. J. Womack, the new treasurer, reported on the financial condition of the organization and the solicitation for contributions that is now underway. Roche pointed out that a large portion of the cost is contributed by creameries and banks throughout the 11-county area that participates in Northwest Dairy Day.

Walter Schon, creamery operator at Fosston and vice president of the sponsoring organization, told of the interest that has been building up over the years in the area and the good results that he has observed in stimulating interest in dairying and other farm youth activities.

TOP AWARDS These six Lincoln high school students were winners of top-place honors for the posters they prepared for the American Legion poppy drive May 22 and 23. From left, they are: Leona Dahl, 518 Main ave. N., first place winner in class 2; Linda Noel, 702 Eighth st. S., chairman of the poppy drive, is holding the poster prepared by Kent Lindblom, rt. 3, first-place winner of class 1, who was unable to be present when the photograph was taken. All winners are students at Knox school.

Tenth Anniversary Banquet Planned for Dairy Day June 9th

Plans for the tenth anniversary banquet to be held in this city on Dairy Day, June 9, were discussed Monday afternoon by a special anniversary committee of the Northwest Dairy Day organization.

J. M. Roche reported that many of the former Princesses and championship winners of past shows have indicated that they will be present at the reunion dinner to be held following the parade on Dairy Day.

The guests will include those who have supported the Dairy Days program either by their work or by their cash contributions. Invitations will be in the mail this week.

It was decided that the program would be strictly informal, calling upon some of those who have been active either as participants or as leaders in some phase of the activities for short talks.

Ag Commissioner Bryon Allen Talks Here This Evening

Byron G. Allen, commissioner of the state department of agriculture, will be the speaker at a meeting of the Creamery Operators Association District 3 meeting at the Rex cafe this evening. He will discuss the new quality standards for milk that are becoming effective this year.

Preceding the dinner the operators will have their usual butter grading contest. District 3 covers the 11 northwest counties of the state. Earl Miller of Twin Valley is chairman and Harry Petry of Ada, secretary.

Youngster Under Age of 16 to Win Playhouse May 25

Children under the age of 16 were reminded today to clip entry blanks from Monday's Times and Tuesday's Shopper and to fill them out and deposit them today through Saturday, thereby having a chance of winning an attractive playhouse six by nine feet in size, offered by Thief River Falls merchants in connection with their spring sales promotion, "Maytime Is Playtime." The drawing will be conducted Monday over KTRF.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Stenberg and Mrs. Inga Berg attended the silver wedding celebration for Mr. and Mrs. Joe Stenberg at Ada Sunday afternoon.

House, Senate Groups Confer on Tax Issues

No Agreement Has Yet Been Reached on Withholding

Members of the Senate-House tax conference committee held a 3½ hour session Wednesday during which the discussion became heated and voices were raised.

They were unable to agree afterward whether any progress had been made.

"We had a good conference and made progress," said Rep. Fred Cina of Aurora, leader of the liberal majority in the House.

This brought from Sen Donald Wright of Minneapolis, chairman of the Senate Tax Committee, the comment that "he is kidding."

"We are getting closer together on how much we have to raise," Rep. Cina went on. "How we are going to pay it is something else."

The conferees said they had discussed withholding—the basic issue of difference—"a little bit." The House has voted for withholding, the Senate against it.

The legislature is now in the fourth week of its special session.

Three other major conference committees met during the day with these results:

Legislative reapportionment — "slow progress."

Buildings — did not reach major items in dispute, whether the University of Minnesota should be allowed money to build on the west bank and whether the full amount needed to complete the Brainerd state hospital should be allowed at this time.

Education appropriation—most items agreed upon, clearing the way for consideration today of basic school aids and junior college aids. The House has voted to raise the level of basic school aids, the Senate to maintain the present level. The Senate voted to increase junior college aid from $200 to $250 per student, the House to continue at $200.

Only 42 Per Cent of Red Cross Goal Is Attained Here

With only a few scattered returns received since the last report two weeks ago, contributions to the fund drive of the Pennington county Red Cross chapter this week totaled $1,320, or only 42 per cent of the $3,100 quota assigned this county, Ralph T. Hunt, chapter chairman, stated today. He was notified by national Red Cross headquarters that only 72 per cent of the U.S. objective had been attained, and that the campaign therefore has been extended.

Hailstone Breaks Windshield of TRF Car Near Erskine

Bernard and Alvin Wold of this city came through a severe hail storm Monday afternoon east of Erskine as they were returning from Fosston. One chunk of ice broke through the unbreakable windshield and bounced into the back seat. It was still two inches in diameter when they reached Thief Thief River Falls, according to their father, Adolph Wold.

VOCALIST Johnny Vik of St. Hilaire was one of the three winners in the county Share-The-Fun Festival Friday night, May 15. Johnny, who sang a solo, was accompanied by Sharon Olson of St. Hilaire, on the right. Extending her congratulations is Roberta LeBourveau, Pennington county home agent.

2 More Sets Traffic Signal Lights Go into Use During Week-end

Traffic signals on two more city intersections will be in operation this weekend, although it was not definite whether the work would be completed in time to have the lights working by today. In any case, the signals will be operation Friday.

The signals were installed by the Dalager Electric Co. of Morris and are located at the Main av.-First st., and LaBree av.-Third st. intersections. The signals are placed atop posts located at each corner of the intersections so motorists will have no difficulty in seeing them from any direction.

Police Chief Elton Cummings said today that motorists should become familiar with the law regarding flashing signals during hours the lights will not be fully operative.

The city council Tuesday night passed a resolution setting the time the lights shall be fully operative between the hours of 7 a.m. the following day, with flashing signals from 1 a.m. to 7 a.m. daily.

The law, Cummings said, requires that motorists, on approaching a flashing red signal, shall come to a full stop behind the pedestrian crosswalk and, after ascertaining the way is clear, may proceed across the intersection.

If the flashing signal is amber the motorist may proceed through the intersection without stopping, but should exercise due caution in doing so.

'Fast Time' to Go into Effect Sunday, 2 a.m.

To Continue Only Until July 1 Unless Extended by New Law

The popular song of some years ago, "I Didn't Know What Time It Was," may stage a comeback after next Sunday, May 24.

At 2 a.m., Daylight Savings Time will go into effect, at least temporarily, and Minnesota residents will set their clocks ahead one hour. And, just about the time the sleeping habits of everyone are again adjusted, the clocks will be set back to Standard Time July 1 unless the state's legislators take favorable action on bills which have been kicked around for the past several months.

Locally, the time picture will continue to be confused in regard to transportation. Passenger schedules for the Soo Line railroad will continue to bear arrival and departure time in Standard Time while North Central Airlines schedules, in effect since March 1, will be in Daylight Savings Time. Bus line schedules now being used are in Central Standard Time but, beginning June 1, will bear arrival and departure times in Daylight Savings Time.

In St. Paul, a statewide Daylight Savings Time bill cleared the senate which would put the state on fast time each year from the fourth Sunday in May until the day after Labor Day. The bill, sent to the house of representatives, collided headon with that body's bill which has been passed calling for fast time only in 22 northern and eastern counties.

WINNER Gerald Jorgenson, high-ranking Lincoln high student and athlete, has been offered scholarships by both Harvard and Dartmouth colleges, and he stated this week that he has accepted the Harvard offer, one of 24 scholarships offered Saturday to outstanding students thruout Minnesota. Gerald, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Jorgenson of this city, has been active in Prowler sports, playing baseball four years, hockey three years and football two years. James Sturdahl of Roseau also was the recipient of a Harvard scholarship.

Lions Club Hears Lt. Burkhardt Talk on Salvation Army

Tells of Services Given by Agency; Dr. Norquist Writes Club from Africa

Lieut. Robert Burkhardt, in charge of Salvation Army work in this area, discussed the history and activities of the organization in a talk given at the Lions club meeting Wednesday noon in connection with the current observance of Salvation Army Week.

Introduced by Neal Fox, program chairman, Lieut. Burkhardt told of the founding of the international agency in England in 1875 and its extension to the United States in 1880. He also discussed the many services available to residents of this community through the religious and service phases of the organization. He added that 90 per cent of the money given to the Salvation Army is spent locally.

Lions President John Peterson read an interesting letter to the club written from Africa by Dr. Joseph Norquist, a member of the local group, who is now serving as a medical missionary in Tanganyika, Africa. He gave details of some of his first experiences on arriving there.

John Barzen of Minneapolis arrived here Tuesday by plane to spend a few days visiting with his mother, Mrs. Anna Barzen and other relatives and friends.

Legion Poppies to Be Sold Saturday

A large corps of volunteer workers has been recruited to bring memorial poppies to everyone in Thief River Falls on Poppy Day, to be observed on Saturday, May 23, Mrs. Walter Halvorson, Poppy Day chairman of the American Legion Auxiliary announced.

The women volunteers will be on the streets throughout the day offering veteran-made poppies to be worn in honor of the nation's war dead.

"We are gratified by the response to our call for Poppy Day volunteers," said Mrs. Halvorson. "The response has been enthusiastic from our own organization, the American Legion auxiliary, and from other groups of young women and girls. Some are able to serve only part of the day, but all are welcome to take part in this patriotic effort."

Defeat Dr. Starekow and Wm. Thompson; 1,182 Ballots Cast

In a Thief River Falls school district election Tuesday evening featured by the record turnout of 1,182 voters, Dr. James O. Disse and Dr. Ralph M. Helm were elected to the board of education for three-year terms, winning by a decisive margin over the two incumbents, Dr. M. D. Starekow and Wm. Thompson. The new board members will take over their duties July 1.

The vote was: Dr. Disse, 780; Dr. Helm, 756; Thompson, 411; and Dr. Starekow, 387. With all the candidates living in this city, only a comparatively small number of voters from the large rural area of the district took part in the election.

The 1,000 printed ballots, usually more than ample, proved to be inadequate, and it was necessary to supplement them with mimeographed ballots. Serving as judges of election were Wm. Froiland, Harold G. Rasmussen and Mrs. W. G. Mayes. The polls closed at 9:30, and the work of counting the ballots was completed within two hours.

Some local observers interpreted the large turnout of voters and the rejection of the two incumbents as a taxpayers' revolt in protest against the sharp increase in tax levies for local schools during recent years.

Dr. Starekow is completing his second three-year term on the board, while Thompson has served two full terms and part of a third.

School Board OK's Expanded School Athletic Program

Also Approves Contracts with Three More Teachers at Adjourned Session

At an adjourned meeting of the Thief River Falls school board Tuesday evening, May 19, the report of Ralph Skay, athletic director of Lincoln high school, submitted at the May 11 regular meeting, was further examined and was adopted.

The recommendations included the extension of the football program down into the grades and the addition of a "C" squad, the development of an intramural basketball and hockey program and the transportation of teams traveling more than 75 miles to participate in games by chartered bus rather than by school bus.

Part-time help for the school nurse at special times was approved by the board. The June meeting of the school board was set for June 17.

Three additional teacher contracts were approved Tuesday evening. Mrs. Verna Johnson of Thief River Falls, a substitute teacher during recent years, will be employed on a full-time basis to teach a sixth grade class; Roger Schnaus, who taught at Ponsford prior to returning to the University of Minnesota for additional work, will also teach a sixth grade class; and Marlys Peterson, a graduate of Moorhead state college, will teach Spanish.

The board canvassed the vote of the school district election held earlier in the evening, and no errors in the tabulations were discovered.

2 New Members Elected to School Board in Plummer

Joseph Fallon and Victor Nord Tuesday were elected to the board of education at the annual school election of Independent School District No. 628, Plummer.

The voting was as follows: Joseph Fallon, 144 votes; Victor Nord, 118 votes; Merle Gustafson, 92 votes. There was also a scattered number of write-in votes cast.

Fallon and Nord were elected for the three year term. These offices were previously held by Dave Ostby and Burton Carlson, neither of whom filed for reelection.

Darrell Rude Takes Laurie Haugen For Bride May 16

The altar of Zion Lutheran church was adorned with baskets of orchid chrysantemums, white gladioli, lemon leaves and lighted by candelabra, for the wedding of Miss Laurie Haugen and Darrell Rude, both of this city Saturday evening, May 16.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gust Haugen of this city while the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. George Hempstead, also of this city.

Dr. Walter M. Pedersen officiated at the double ring ceremony, assisted by Miss Corrine Gopein of Warren, cousin of the bride, at the organ. Soloist was Dale Pederson of Fargo, cousin of the bride. He sang "O Perfect Love", "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer", as the couple knelt at the altar.

The bride, entering in on the arm of her father, was attired in a floor length gown of lace and net over taffeta, featuring a sweetheart neckline, trimmed with irredescent sequins, long sleeves, which came to a point at the hand and a billowing skirt of net and lace. Her fingertip veil, trimmed with lace, fell from a crown of pearls and sequins and she carried a bouquet of three orchids surrounded by yellow tea roses and ivy. Her crystal earrings were a gift of the groom. The traditional something old, something new, something borrowed and something blue, was carried out.

Miss Ardell Oswald of Thief River Falls, friend of the bride, was maid of honor, followed by the bridesmaids; Mrs. James Haugen of Beloit, Wis., sister-in-law of the bride, Ceil Gall and Mrs. Bill Noel of Thief River Falls, both friends of the bride.

All attendants were gowned styled identically, in ballerina length, of white dotted swiss, accented by an orchid sash, orchid shoes and white picture hats, trimmed in orchid, and white gauntlets. They carried an orchid on a white lace fan. Crystal and pearl earrings were a gift of the bride.

Attending the bridegroom as bestman was Larry Gilbertson of Thief River Falls, a friend, while James Haugen of Beloit, Wis., a brother of the bride, Wal Grovem of Thief River Falls and Dale Kluagness of Benson, Minn. friends, were groomsmen. Ushers were Bill Haugen of Thief River Falls, brother of the bride, and Gary Humes, friend of the bridegroom. All the gentlemen attendants were attired in white dinner jackets and black trousers with orchid carnation boutonniers.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Haugen chose a light beige lace dress with white accessories while the bridegroom's mother wore a pink lace dress with pink accessories. They wore corsages of pink tea roses and white carnations. The grandmothers of the bridegroom, Mrs. Leona Elgin and Mrs. C. G. Rude, both of Badger, were presented with corsages of pink and white carnations.

Approximately 250 guests were present at the reception held in the church parlors, following the ceremony. The parlors were decorated in the bridal colors of orchid and white, with a four tiered wedding cake baked and decorated by Mrs. G. Sannes, topped with a lighted church, centering the bridal table. The bride and groom drank a toast from a silver wedding cup, a gift to the brides parents on their Silver Wedding anniversary.

Mrs. O. Peterson of Warren, aunt of the bride, and Mrs. G. Stromsmoe, aunt of the bridegroom, cut and served the cake, while Mrs. Willie Windahl of Warren and Mrs. Albert Knutson of Newfolden, both aunts of the bride, poured.

Others assisting at the reception were Gail Lindberg and Mrs. Jerry Hendrickson, friends of the bride, pouring punch; waitresses Carol Carlson, friend of the bride, Gail Stromsmoe, cousin of the groom and Faye Sweet, friend of the bride. Hostesses were Mrs. Art Stordahl, Mrs. George Rockstad, Mrs. Morris Mogen, Mrs. J. O. Botten, Mrs. Eugene Nesland, Mrs. Merle Lindberg, of this city and Mrs. Floyd Bakke of Newfolden. They all wore white net aprons trimmed with orchid ribbon and lilacs. Mrs. Rodney Twistol, friend of the bride, was at the guest book with the Misses Helen Horgen, Grace Haugen and Yvonne Tischart, at the gift table.

For their honeymoon, to an undisclosed destination, the bride chose a brown and beige check linen suit with a three quarter length coat and beige and gold accessories. Upon their return they will make their home at 310 So. St. Paul.

Mrs. Rude is a graduate of Lincoln high school, class of 1956 and of the Area Vocational School, department of cosmotology. She is now employed at LeMoines Beauty Shop. The bridegroom graduated from Lincoln high school, class of 1954 and Concordia college in Moorhead in 1958.

Relatives and friends from Warren, Badger, Moorhead, Minneapolis, Viking, Newfolden, Goodridge, Argyle, Kindred, Bemidji, Fargo and Jamestown, N. Dakota, attended the wedding.

OVER THE BACK FENCE

By STAN PETERSON

My Apologies

The time must come when every editorial writer or columnist must admit that he was obviously misinformed or plead ignorance for his words.

This is the case in a recent "Back Fence" column which expressed the view that city money in the amount of an estimated $30,000 should not be spent for the remodeling of the liquor store when some of the city facilities (long-ignored residential streets) were in need of funds for maintenance.

With no knowledge of the intricacies of high finance or of the earmarking of funds, I had assumed that city revenues from the liquor store were to be used for the improvement of all facilities beneficial to the people of the community. This information, which I must now admit to be erroneous, was contained in a full-page ad in the June 5, 1947, issue of the Times preceding the vote on the establishment of the liquor store and was signed by 576 residents who called themselves the Liquor Control Committee of Pennington County. It was also contained in a later ad signed by the Jaycees.

My thinking on this subject was straightened out about a week ago when it was patiently explained to me that much of the expense of the liquor store remodeling would be paid by the reduction of the store stock which would mean the use of no money from the city treasury and would take no funds away from other city activities or needs. The balance would be paid by using part of the income from the store for some months. (There was, I must admit, no explanation of why the store was so much overstocked nor was there any guarantee that its stock would not be built up again in the future so that this oversupply could be reduced again to provide more funds for additional work.)

Following this explanation, I must, with all honesty, apologize for those upon whose toes I have stepped and publicly ask forgiveness. I had assumed, apparently in error, that funds raised through the sale of city property, such as the stock of liquor bought with city funds, were the property of the whole city. It appears that I was wrong — that this money is earmarked for the city division which controls the property. I assume now, apparently in error again, that if the water department finds itself overstocked on chemicals for water treatment, chemicals which were bought with city funds, that it can sell them, with the approval of the council, and use the proceeds rather than turning them over to the city. Or, if the street department finds itself overstocked with gravel, it can dispose of this material and use the money within the department. It does, however, leave some non-revenue-producing departments which have no disposable property in a definitely sticky position when they find themselves sort of funds—a most unfair arrangement.

I must apologize again to the city fathers for my statements on city expenditures. The only defense is that my knowledge of how the city pays for its improvements and maintenance was wrong. I believed that the interest of more taxpayers would be served through the use of at least some of the money to provide some maintenance which would make streets a little less muddy and dusty—an obviously erroneous idea.

TO ALL MY FRIENDS AND SUPPORTERS

I sincerely wish to thank you for your efforts and votes in my behalf during the recent school board election.

I shall do my utmost to justify your confidence in me.

Dr. Ralph M. Helm

Council Disposes of Many Matters Tuesday Evening

Brothers Construction Co. and $1,860 by the Brodin Sheet Metal Works, both in connection with the airport shop building construction.

A motion was passed directing D. H. Stewart and Associates, consulting engineers, to prepare a feasibility report in connection with the replacement of water mains in the western part of the city where highway 59 will be relocated.

A donation of $1,000 requested by the county fair board for this year's fair was denied by the council which pointed out that it already contributes services and about $1,200 worth of electricity each year for the event.

The council called for bids to be opened June 16 for a speed recorder to be used for traffic control. The unit, an electrical device, would not be used to set up "speed traps," it was emphatically pointed out, but would be for traffic control only.

Victor Anderson, 704 Horace av. N., appeared before the council with a request that the area of the street in front of his property be properly drained. Anderson pointed out that adequate outlets are now provided across the street but that water cannot drain from the ditch in front of his residence. Alderman Rau of the street committee promised to study the situation Wednesday.

A petition bearing the signatures of 651 resident taxpayers was presented to the council objecting to the liquor dispensary remodeling project. The petition, which will be examined by the council, was filed by the city clerk. It was presented by Rev. Alfred M. Larson who headed a delegation present at the meeting.

The American Legion post will receive $10 each time it places and removes United States and city flags on city streets on special occasions, the council agreed. Under the agreement of previous years, the organization received $25. Ormond Johnson, commander of the post, presented the request to the council.

Aldermen Rau and Benson reported on the salt-base method of street surfacing which Benson had observed at Wheaton. According to the report, the salt base is seal-coated with oil and has been satisfactory as well as low in cost. The council approved a survey by the engineer from a salt company which furnishes material for this type of work and, if the survey is acceptable, Davis av. N. from Third to Eighth sts. will be used as a test area.

Preceding the meeting, council members discussed the problems of furnishing water and sewage connections to the proposed home for the aged in the southern part of the city. L. B. Hartz and Waldie Christensen were present to discuss the situation.

Prowlers Trim Cass Lake for Eighth Win

Coach Ralph Skay's baseball Prowlers will be carrying an eight-game winning streak in Crookston's Highland Park diamond at 5:30 p.m. this afternoon, Thursday, when they meet coach Linton Lehrer's district champion Crookston Pirates in an important district conference tilt.

Following the game at Crookston on Thursday afternoon, the Prowlers will return here for a game on Friday night against coach Horace May's Bemidji Lumberjacks. The Lumberjack game is scheduled for 8:00 p.m. on the Fair Grounds diamond.

On Monday night, on a damp diamond and with a chill north wind sweeping the field, the Prowlers met coach Russ Smith's Cass Lake Panthers in an inter-district tilt. The Prowlers, getting one-hit pitching from righthanders Paul Saurdiff and Arlan Hjelle, who shared the hurling chores for coach Skay's club, played errorless ball as they scored a 6 to 2 win, their eighth straight triumph.

Cass Lake tallied a pair of runs in the 1st inning on a pair of walks, a single by Dennis Swearingen, and a steal of home. Bob Ness and Pete Potvin walked; Swearingen drove a ground single down the left-field foul line, scoring Ness. Potvin, attempting to advance to third on the hit, was retired on a Gary Klungness to Hjelle to Eddie Lietzow combination.

Swearingen stole third, and on Saurdiff's long windup, the Cass Lake runner made a clean steal of home.

The Prowlers collected four runs in their half of the 1st inning, utilizing three walks, an infield single by Jerry Jorgenson, a pair of Cass Lake errors, a passed ball, and three wild pitches to score their four-run cluster.

In the 3rd, Hjelle's single and Gene Weckwerth's three-bagger to the fence in center-field, added a Prowler run. And in the 6th, a couple of errors, an infield out, and a wild pitch allowed Klungness to scamper home with the Prowlers' sixth and final tally.

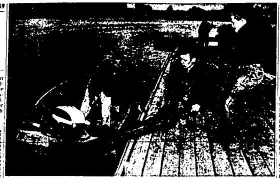
Debris in River Removed Tuesday

T. R. Falls Boating Club Stages Spring Cleanup

Cool weather again prevailed the day the river clean-up by members of the local boating club was scheduled, but several hardy club members turned out Tuesday evening for a fairly successful dead-head and trash hunt in the river pool.

The clean-up was staged in the interest of safer boating on the river and several partially submerged logs and floating tree branches were removed from the water and put on the river bank at the south end of the Elks park for hauling away.

Already this year some motors had been damaged by striking objects in the water and a few incidents were reported by boatmen last Sunday. The river clean-up has become an annual affair made necessary by the debris that is blown, thrown or washed into the stream.



DEADHEAD A large, water-soaked log that could have wreaked havoc with local mariners' vessels was discovered and taken from the river pool here by these three youths who participated in the Thief River Falls Water Sports club's river clean-up Tuesday evening. From left to right they are Dennis and Richard Sculthorp and Elroy Frolland. Delayed a week because of cool weather May 12, the clean-up was rescheduled May 19 but again cool weather cut participation in the event. However, enough boating enthusiasts showed up to make the clean-up a success.

Newfolden Wins 8th Game in Row

Defeat Karlstad 14 to 7 and Middle River 22 to 6

The Newfolden Nordics ran their winning streak to eight games as they defeated Karlstad, 14 to 7, and Middle River, 22 to 6. This was second victory over these two teams for Coach Jack Junker's nine, having previously defeated Karlstad, 3 to 2, and Middle River, 11 to 1.

Dennis Bakke pitched 5-hit ball to defeat Karlstad on May 14, as the Nordics launched an 18-hit attack.

Karlstad .... 016 000 0— 7

John Haglund, Nordic portsider, hurled 3-hit ball as the Nordics collected 15 hits, including two-run homers by Delmore Lofstrom and Darrell Bakke, to defeat Middle River, 22 to 6, on May 18. The Nordics scored at least three runs in every inning, with the biggest inning being the 5-run fourth. John Haglund was his own worst enemy as he walked 5 men, hit one batter and overthrew first base on an easy roller with two out in the fourth to allow two unearned runs to score. John fanned 12 Skippers in going the route.

Thieves, Fosston, Erskine Open Loop Play Next Sunday

Winger Tigers Defeat Cass Lake 6-5; Bagley Team Takes Eldred 8-2

Northern Minny League	Won	Lost	Pct.
Winger	1	0	1.000
Cass Lake	1	1	.500
Bagley	1	1	.500
Thief River Falls	0	0	.000
Fosston	0	0	.000
Erskine	0	0	.000
Eldred	0	1	.000

Results of Sunday's games:
Cass Lake, 5, at Winger, 6.
Eldred, 2, at Bagley, 8.

Schedule, Sunday, May 24
Bagley at Thief River Falls (night)
Cass Lake at Fosston (night)
Erskine at Winger (day)

The Winger Tigers surprised the Cass Lake team on Sunday, scoring a 6 to 5 win in a game played on the Winger diamond. The win gave the Tigers the league lead, with Winger having one win and no losses. Thief River Falls, Fosston, and Erskine have not seen action in Northern Minny league play this season, but the three teams are on Sunday's slate.

In the other game played in Sunday, a night game at Bagley, the Bagley Merchants defeated Eldred, 8 to 2.

Sunday's schedule will be highlighted by the tilt at Thief River Falls, with manager John Drury's Thieves meeting the Bagley Merchants. It is probable that manager Mel Brustad of the Bagley club will send his veteran lefthander, Ken Severud, against the locals. Gene Leslie will get the nod for the locals.

Another important game on Sunday's three-game slate will be the Erskine at Winger game. The Tigers, boosted by their win over Cass Lake, will be "up" for their game against the Erskine Merchants.

In the remaining game on Sunday's bill, Cass Lake will meet the Fosston nine in a night game at Fosston.

Let the Times office know when important news is taking place. We appreciate your assistance.

The Champs

The "Black Knights" of the Viking Tavern bowling team won the Tuesday night Business league championship by defeating the Hamm's Beer team, two games to one, in their "crucial" match on Tuesday night. The Vikings concluded their season's bowling with a record of 53 wins and 28 losses, to finish with a game-an-a-half lead over the runnerup Hamm's.

In the schedule-ending match on Tuesday, the Vikings, with a 35-pin handicap, won the first game, 866 to 824. The evening's best bowling was put on exhibition in the second game, and the Hamm's, with pilot Phil LeGault chalking up a 234, and Wally DuChamp anchoring with a 203, totaled a fine 961-pin score. The Vikings, too, bowled well, having an aggregate of 916 pins.

Moving into the third game of the series, with the championship at stake, the two teams gave evidences of feeling the intense pressure. The Vikings pulled away to a lead early in the game, having a five-fill lead with 14 frames to bowl. The Hamm's made their bid at this point, with Wally DuChamp having a string of four strikes and Reid Stromberg getting three strikes. But, as the adage is, "youth must be served," and the Vikings, with some consistent bowling, kept the game in hand and won by a score of 875 to 839. It was close enough, and if Jesse DuChamp hadn't "blown" three frames in the game, and if Stromberg hadn't "picked a cherry" in the 10th frame, the result could have been reversed.

But it's three cheers for the Viking squad of Fred Jensen, DuWayne Bakke, Art Overbye, Dean Anderson and Pat Poole.

We must make mention of that split that Overbye picked up, and which had a demoralizing effect on the Hamm's. Art had the 6-7-10 split on the alley number one, and then proceeded to pick up the split by sliding the six-pin across the alley to cut down the 10-pin. This was a lift for the Viking team, we can assure you.

Fishing

From personal observation (and we made the circle-route from Warroad, Morris and Wheeler's Points on Lake of the Woods to Washkish and Shotley Brooks on Upper Red Lake on Saturday) and conversation with last weekend's fishermen, it's the consensus that the fishing will be on the upswing within the next week or ten days.

The Warroad area of Lake of the Woods was very "slow" on Saturday and Sunday; Morris and Wheeler's points produced numerous limits, an some hefty walleyes; while Washkish was the "hot spot" as far as fishing was concerened. The lake fishing at Washkish was spotty, though, with most of Saturday's fish being taken out of the Tamarac river.

The biggest fish reported taken by a local angler was the 16-lb. northern pike caught by Arnie Engelstad at Washkish. Arnie was fishing with Russ Williams and Denny Hanson and they bagged their walleyed-pike limit early on Saturday.

The League Opener

The Thieves will be making their opening bid in Northern Minny league play on Sunday night when, on the Fair Grounds diamond, they meet the playoff champion Bagley Merchants.

Now that the Red Lake Falls Lakers have cancelled out of the league, it's perhaps true that the Bagley team is the local club's most bitter rival.

In last season's play between the two clubs, four games were played, and Bagley won three of the tilts. In a game played here last June, righthander Bruce Lindell held the locals to one hit, but lost the game, 1 to 0, by giving up four walks in the sixth inning.

In an exhibition game played here, Bagley, with Bob Bergland pitching, bested the locals 8 to 6. And in a league game played at Bagley in August, the locals clubbed out 13 hits while the Merchants were getting six hits off Bobby Hallameck, and yet Bagley registered a 6 to 3 win.

In a league playoff finals game played at Bagley, the Merchants won the title by defeating the Thieves, 5 to 4, in a duel between lefty Ken Severud of Bagley and righthander Gene Leslie of the Thieves.

It's probable that the Severud-Leslie rivalry will be resumed on Sunday night. John Workman, righthander with the Bemidji Chiefs last season, is now on the Bagley staff, and he may get Sunday's assignment, with Severud being held in readiness for relief duty. We hear, too, that Bemidji's Billy Lawrence, who was in Organized Baseball last season, being with the Thomasville, Georgia club is on the Bagley roster. There is some doubt as to his eligibility to participate in Northern Minny league competition.

And another interesting baseball game is on the local schedule with the Prowlers of coach Ralph Skay meeting the Bemidji Lumberjacks on the Fair Grounds diamond on Friday night. The Prowlers vs. the Lumberjacks is always an attraction.

Langen Blames Grain Imports for Surplus of Oats and Barley

Rep. Odin Langen of Minnesota's Ninth District stated Tuesday to the House of Representatives that American farmers are not responsible for the surpluses of barley and oats which are costing approximately $26 million a year in storage. American farmers, Langen said, have produced no surplus in barley or oats during the past ten years. Instead, the Minnesota farmer went on, this contradictory situation is a result of our having imported more barley and nearly as much oats since 1949 as we presently have in surplus.

Langen released the results of research which he has done, based on Department of Agriculture figures, to back up this contention. According to these figures, our $20 million-a-year barley surplus has grown 95 million bushels in the last ten years, to the point where it now stands at almost 200 million bushels of barley. These imports, he pointed out, are not only twice the amount of our surplus growth since 1949, but are also larger than the total barley surplus on hand today.

With regard to oats, Langen's figures show that our surplus of this crop has increased by 85 million bushels in the last ten years, giving us a total surplus on hand today of almost 375 million bushels. Storage costs for this surplus average roughly $6 million a year. Imports of oats during this same ten-year period have been over 344 million bushels, which is more than four times the amount of the increase in our surplus and approximately equal to the surplus in storage today.

"Why this should be I don't know," Langen concluded his statement, "But it certainly doesn't seem reasonable that our American farmers should be penalized and blamed for these surpluses and for the cost of storing them, when in reality they have produced less than our average domestic use and export during the past ten years. And it doesn't seem reasonable that the effect of these imported surpluses should be reflected in lowered price supports to our small grain farmers, has recently been done, since these are surpluses for which our American farmers are in no way responsible.

"I have introduced legislation which will provide to the small grain farmer the opportunity to achieve full parity prices. In the light of the above, it is even more obvious that there is certainly no more than he deserves. I urge that this legislation be very carefully and sincerely considered."

"In a free republican government, you cannot restrain the voice of the multitude. Every man will speak as he thinks, or, more properly, without thinking, and consequently will judge of effects without attending to their causes." —George Washington.

Surplus Disposal

Representatives of the world's five biggest wheat exporting nations met last week to consider possible new methods of using surplus wheat "to promote economic development and peace." Out of such a meeting may come a few good ideas. Certainly it is well for the nations that have a common problem of this kind to get together and compare notes. The answer to any surplus disposal problem is not competitive give-aways.

Some of our surplus disposal operations by the give-away method have defeated their own purpose by disrupting normal markets. We do not reduce a surplus by giving free food to those who otherwise would pay the regular market price for it. Only when a need cannot be filled because of poverty can the give-aways be justified.

Moderates in Control

The steady decrease in unemployment is going to strengthen President Eisenhower's position in opposing some of the lavish spending schemes that have been thrown into the hopper as pump-primers. There now is hope for a balanced budget and the President is getting support from unexpected sources for his suggestion that debt reduction is essential to a stable economy.

Congress apparently is controlled by the moderates of both parties, with the backing of the Democratic leadership of both houses. The spenders are not having the field day they anticipated when the election returns assured a landslide victory for their party. Reasons for the saner approach are the fear of inflation, an unfavorable trade balance and the withdrawal of gold.

A Tragic Total

There were 58,344 automobile accidents in Minnesota last year, of which 598 were fatal, resulting in the death of 708 persons. The damage cost is estimated at $92 million. We do not have the figures of the number of persons injured and hospitalized. All in all it adds up to an unbelievably tragic total.

In 178 of the 598 fatal accidents one or more of the drivers involved had been drinking. In 95 of them speed was a factor. Exactly 100 pedestrians were killed and bicycles accounted for seven deaths.

Not all of these accidents were due to carelessness, but most of them probably could have been avoided.

Be a careful driver.

Who Knows

Calgary lost a new Canadian citizen of five years' standing when Friedrich Wigand gave up his job as a dishwasher in a hospital and moved to the United States, says the Financial Post of Montreal. Wigand came to the United States at the invitation of Washington to work on a secret defense project. He had been identified as a top-notch chemist who had worked in Germany during the war on missile development.

Just why this German scientist did not reveal his true identity, the Post did not explain. He may have lost interest in science and preferred his dishwashing job, as a result of the destruction of war that he had witnessed. Maybe he had concluded he would make no further contribution to the development of destructive machines.

Germany developed many Wigands and when the war ended disastrously many left their native land, some, perhaps, against their will. Russia obtained the services of some; some are now in scientific service here. Many of them, like Friedrich Wigand, probably prefer obscurity and, unless discovered, will be satisfied with a humble retirement. And, who knows, maybe in the simpler life they find greater happiness.

Those Problem Crops

Alfred Stedman, farm editor of the St. Paul Pioneer Press, suggests that maybe the fellows down in Washington who can't agree among themselves on a farm program, should turn the problem back to the farmers themselves. He would let the wheat growers decide what to do about wheat, the cotton growers about cotton and so on; turning the control of each crop over to those who produce it. Says Stedman:

"That an awful mess has been made of the big federal farm programs almost nobody now denies. The clamoring question is how can a way be found out of the mess. What mess? Ask Uncle Sam.

"He knows. He owns nearly two billion dollars worth of corn and more than two billion dollars worth of wheat. He is spending a million dollars a day on storage costs, most of the cash going not to farmers but to big private warehouse companies. He is running into rising gripes against our surplus give-aways from competing surplus-producing countries around the world.

"And now huge new surpluses are on the way. Piled on top of those Uncle Sam's already got, these seem due to push the government's total investment in farm surpluses beyond the 10-billion-dollar mark.

"So it's high time to find a way out before the mess breaks loose and hurts everybody around.

"Who, who, who, as the owl so aptly put it, can solve the riddle?

"Ezra Benson? Congress won't let him. His proposition calls for a general lowering of government price props. For nigh on six years, Congress has been resisting. You can bet your boots Congress won't take his plan before election.

"Then can Congress solve the riddle? Hardly. Its plans are to boost government props, not cut them. Ezra and Ike won't let Congress get by with that. Congress override a veto? Slim prospect. That body is split into fragments on farm price issues.

"But how about getting Congress and Ezra together on some kind of a compromise? The maneuvering has been not to reach agreements but to shift the blame from one to the other. The faintest streaks of a dawn of an era of good feeling aren't visible on the Washington farm front. Seeking solution of the riddle through a general compromise looks like trudging down a very dead-end street.

"So is a farm program smash-up coming? Probably. But there may still be one outside chance to avoid it.

"Why not pass the buck to the farmers? Why not let them decide the issue?

"Of course, such a way out would take a lot of doing. Just agreeing on fair wording of a referendum question would be a major governmental achievement.

"But events have made the issue plain and clear. These events show that government price supports above the market don't work without real and effective production control. And as Rep. Fred Marshall has emphasized, this means not alone acreage allotments that fertilizers can nullify but supply and marketing control applied in terms of bushels, bales and pounds. Without such tight control, price guarantees pile up huge surpluses to threaten as they do now the farmers, the trades and the government.

"So the issue is whether decisive majorities of farmers (two thirds of those voting is the usual rule) want real production and supply control. Do the corn farmers want such control? Corn price supports without it seem likely to swamp in surpluses everybody concerned. Do wheat farmers want it? They have nothing remotely resembling effective control now. Do dairy and cotton farmers want it?

"Why not let the farmers vote, crop by crop, to settle the issue that's too hot for the government to handle? If once the main issue could be settled, Congress and the Administration could act accordingly."

We may not be ready for the solution that Stedman suggests but we are satisfied that it is the right solution and the one we will come to if we are going to reverse the present trend to a welfare state. Let's keep in mind that most of the products of our farms are sold in a free market and without government subsidies. We have only a few problem crops and they are problems largely because of government tinkering. The pattern for producer-controlled production and marketing organizations is already well established.

Our Not-So-Sure-Footed Senators

(Wall Street Journal)

The $100,000 rubber-tile floor of the new Senate office building may soon be completely covered over by carpeting costing $150,000. Many lawmakers feel that the tile is pretty but just a mite slippery underfoot.

Well, after all the boon-doggling connected with the $88 million structure thus far, a mere $150,000 doesn't seem like an especially dramatic figure. A private subway systems that ends in the wrong place, three bathrooms for every Senator, $5,000 plaques with the names of all the Senators—these are just some of the strange doings connected with the new building.

As for the woven floor-covering the Senators now want, perhaps it is only fitting that they get it. After all, the voters who must pay for all this nonsense can't very well pull the rug out from under the Congressmen until they first get them on the carpet.

Borrowed Nonsense . . .

Nearly every motorist is in the position of this applicant for a driver's license. He wrote "No" to the question, "Have you ever been arrested?" And then he was momentarily stumped by the question that followed immediately, "Why?" In a moment of truth he wrote down, "I just wasn't caught."

Volume Forty-eight | Thief River Falls, Pennington County, Minnesota | Thursday, May 21, 1959 | Number Forty-one

These are the days that everyone is talking about how good or how bad the fishing is. Is fishing quality, like the weather, something that everyone talks about but no one does anything about? Possibly so at one time, but not any longer. We will never issue full creel guarantees with each fishing license, because even though we were to learn to control the weather there are always a lot of variables such as that all-important skill of the individual fisherman. Besides, fishing would not be much fun unless it were a chancy business. However, each year research and modern management is bringing forth more information which will help us keep a jump ahead of the ever-increasing fishing pressure.

For example, most everyone knows that to reproduce successfully northern pike must have grassy sloughs into which they can swim and lay their eggs, but if the water level in these sloughs is not maintained, eggs are killed and reproduction for the year may be very low. Under intensive management these sloughs may be maintained by small dams until the eggs hatch. Going still further, in a dry spring it may be practical to pump water from the lake into these sloughs, and a small inexpensive fishway has been invented which will permit the spawn-filled northerns to swim up over this dam even though it may be four feet higher than the lake level.

More recently a study of the love life of the walleyed pike indicates that it is possible to substantially increase the natural reproduction of this species. In Minnesota we have many large lakes capable of supporting a good walleye population which lack the rocky shores needed by walleyes for successful reproduction.

At present, walleye fishing is being maintained in these lakes through a gigantic stocking program which far exceeds that of any other state. Recently, District Fish Biologist Fritz Johnson at Grand Rapids carried out a very significant experiment. Working with fish managers, rock and gravel was hauled out on the ice of the sandy shores of Little Cutfoot lake. When the ice melted, the rock and gravel dropped to the bottom and formed an ideal spawning area. Walleyes had spawned along the shore on other parts of the same lake, but the study showed only 30 eggs per square yard and 70 per cent of these were dead within five days.

On the other hand, the artificially developed spawning area contained 6,000 walleye eggs per square yard this spring with only 4 per cent dead after five days of incubation. Of course, it is not as simple as just dumping rocks and gravel into the lake. Selecting the exact location and many other factors are equally important. We also believe that some maintenance of these artificial areas will be necessary. Probably a jet pump will be used to clean the rocks every four or five years.

These are just two of many new techniques being developed to improve fishing and obviously this type of intensive management is going to be fairly expensive, but when we think of the return to be had in better fishing, more outdoor recreation and our tremendous resort industry, there seems to be little doubt that the investment would be a good one.

With a million resident anglers and one-third of a million nonresident guests, fishing is big business in Minnesota. As a matter of fact, fishermen spend at least $100 million a year in the state, which amounts to about $4.00 per pound of fish taken, and we are spending only about .08¼c per pound in producing these $4.00 fish. To put it another way, we currently can spend only $1.00 an acre on our two million acres of good fishing water in Minnesota.

Recent studies also show that intensive fish management is something we cannot wait for too long. In some parts of the state fishermen are now catching as high as 50 per cent of all the catchable-sized northern pike every year; 30 per cent of the walleyes; and 25 per cent of the bass. Today's fisherman with his moden tackle has become an efficient harvester of our fisheries.

With the new information coming in from research and better management being developed by practical, experienced fish managers, there is little question that good fishing can be maintained. There is also little question that more money will have to be spent intensive management in order to keep up with the increasing demand.

April Savings Bond Sales Here $17,819

Minnesota People Invest $5,638,000 During Month

"During April, $5,638,000 worth of series E and H, United States savings bonds were purchased by Minnesotans for their thrift programs," County Savings Bond Chairman J. M. Roche reported here today. The state has now attained 32.7 per cent of its 1959 goal of 79 million dollars.

He said that purchases in Pennington county during April totaled $17,819 which increases the total for the first four months of this year to $65,791. This county has now attained 29.8 per cent of its quota.

Roche said during Minnesota's SHARE IN AMERICA campaign in May he expected a substantial increase in Savings Bonds sales.

"Savings invested in series E and H bonds means not only money for strength to help our country keep the peace, but also money for science and education to help find lasting peace.

"We can all help strengthen America's power for peace simply through our regular purchase of savings bonds for they help provide a stronger, safer America and every bond purchased helps our nation in these goals," the chairman concluded.

Series "E" bonds earn 3¼ per cent interest when held 8 years and 11 months.

DIVIDEND

What happens to the money put into savings accounts at FSLIC-Insured Savings and Loan Associations? Here is the chain of events, typical of what happens to the money on the move.

This money, totaling more than $45 billion, is part of the life blood of business. Insured Savings and Loan Associations finance over one third of all home construction in America. This money provides jobs for carpenters, bricklayers, electricians, plumbers, plasterers and all other workers in construction—the nation's biggest industry.

But that's only the beginning! The materials for these homes come from hundreds of other industries—$670 million in wiring annually, $70 million in cement, over 11 billion board-feet of lumber, plus steel, glass, plaster and all other materials it takes to build homes. The production of these materials keeps hundreds of businesses humming and provides millions of people with income, some of which is returned to these Associations as savings.

Here is the cycle of money circulation on which prosperity depends. Money in savings accounts in Insured Savings and Loan Associations is money working for all business. Today more than 22 million Americans save at Insured Savings and Loans ... and directly or indirectly nearly everyone in our country benefits from their thrift.

Last year alone Insured Savings and Loans paid out more than $1.4 billion in earnings to savers. Why not see us about this safe, profitable way to invest trust, pension, endowment, corporate and personal funds?

WHERE YOU SAVE DOES MAKE A DIFFERENCE!

Chevy pickup pulls through "bottomless" pastures to keep stock fed!

'At the Hall Bros. Dairy Farm, Montgomery, Ala., they say this 4-wheel drive Chevy will go anywhere to keep stock fed—even through hub-deep muck that makes it a fight all the way. And yet after a full year of it—no mechanical trouble of any kind!'

That Chevy pickup may not win any beauty awards (till it's cleaned up). But it's sure walking off with the top prize for dependability. And that's standard Chevrolet procedure. Put a Chevy truck to work and it keeps on working until you say quit. Not before. We aren't claiming that every Chevrolet truck is turning out to be a miracle-worker and averaging 100,000 miles before a valve job. (Even though some are going 150,000!) You're sure to find, however, that you can't buy more truck dependability at any price. And that's borne out by the fact more truck owners put their faith, and their payloads, in Chevrolets than in any other make. Take your load and schedule to your Chevrolet dealer. He'll specify the best way to handle both and save in the bargain.

No job's too tough for a Chevrolet truck!

Support Sought for New Buildings for Winter Shows

Meetings Are Being Held in Valley Counties to Seek Financial Backing

A series of 16 meetings is being held in counties which support the Red River Valley Winter Shows, according to the president of the shows, Dr. B. E. Youngquist of Crookston.

The purpose of these meetings is to explore at the "grass-roots level" how much interest and support there is among the farmers in Northwestern Minnesota for a new set of Winter Shows buildings.

To date, meetings have been held in Wilkin, Kittson and Clay counties. Youngquist says, "it is still too early to predict what all of the counties will do; however, to date, the support has been toward going ahead with a new building project for the Red River Valley Winter Shows." The farmers who attended these first three meetings feel that a financial campaign should be run in each county after the crop season this fall.

Beginning Monday, May 18, meetings are being held in East Otter Tail, Red Lake, Lake of the Woods, West Polk and Roseau counties.

The board of managers for the Red River Valley Winter Shows will meet June 9 to hear the report on these county meetings and to make final decisions relative to replacement of the obsolete buildings on a new site outside of the Crookston city limits.

Minnesota Towns Push Safety Check

Advise All Motorists to Have Vehicles Checked

Can your car pass the VSC test? that question, asked today by Minnesota highway department officials, will be repeated throughout the rest of May by hardworking community leaders in Minnesota. The VSC, not a test of horsepower or gasoline mileage, is a test of mechanical fitness—a Vehicle Safety Check. If your car can't pass it, you may be in for trouble.

Many Minnesota communities this year are sponsoring and holding free 10-point safety checks as part of a nation-wide campaign to check accidents. Each car inspected by competent mechanics in the check lanes will be tagged with a small paper circle carrying the date and certifying that the vehicle has passed the test.

The Safety Check certificates carry Minnesota's own traffic safety mascot, Godfrey Gopher. While many states are participating in this safety check campaign, Minnesotans will have a personnel state safety emblem in the smiling little gopher.

Newfolden Pupils Win First Prizes at Bemidji Fair

Forty-seven projects representing the work of 37 of the industrial arts students in the Newfolden school were entered in the Industrial Arts Fair held at Bemidji State college May 9. Two of the projects, a leather handbag by Donald Engelsrud, and a gun rack by Mark Carlson, received first prizes in the judging.

Two second places were also awarded to Newfolden boys: DeVere Chapman, for a lamp, and Warren Sagstuen for a gun rack. Four of the projects were picked to go to Detroit, Mich., for the National Industrial Arts Fair sponsored by the Ford Motor Co. They were: Lamp and shade by DeVere Chapman; boy gun by Ralph Tandberg; handbag by Donald Engelsrud; and the gun rack by Mark Carlson.

The Bemidji fair was a regional event in Ford's Industrial Arts Fair. G. Edwin Mounger is the industrial arts instructor in the Newfolden school.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . .
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Day	Book	Chapter	Verses
Sunday	1 Corinthians	8	1-13
Monday	1 Kings	9	15-28
Tuesday	1 Kings	10	1-22
Wednesday	1 Kings	10	23
Thursday	1 Kings	11	9-25
Friday	1 Kings	11	26-43
Saturday	1 Kings	12	1-15

His garden is the envy of all the neighbors. They say it's because he has a green thumb.

But the truth of the matter is, he loves to see things grow . . . and he works hard to help them grow . . . and he enjoys the hard work because he finds deep satisfaction in the beauty of its fruit.

The same spirit pervades the churches of our community. Congregations thrive and souls grow in spiritual strength because of consecrated men and women who love to see this God-given growth . . . who work hard to implant Christian truth in their hearts and yours . . . who enjoy this unselfish dedication of their time and talents and treasure because they share the joy of Christ in its spiritual fruit.

Be an active church member! Volunteer for enriching service in your congregation's busy, fruitful life!

1,197 Acres of Wheat Land in Soil Bank Here

P. W. Culkins Makes Report Covering Pennington County

About 1,197 acres of Pennington county land are being retired from the annual production of allotment crops as the result of whole farms placed in the Soil Bank under contracts executed or expected to be executed in that program to date, Patrick W. Culkins of the county ASC office announced today.

The allotment acreage retired under the whole farm conservation reserve program all consists of wheat land.

Some additional allotment acreage will be retired under part-farm contracts, but the exact amount to be retired each year cannot be determined because of the choices of crops available to farmers under their contracts, Mr. Culkins said.

Nationally, whole farm Soil Bank contracts are taking out of yearly production about 2.3 million acres of cropland expected to be included in the conservation reserve throughout the country in 1959. Since the average whole farm Soil Bank contract covers a period of 5 to 6 years, this land will not be producing crops for that length of time.

Mr. Culkins points out that this should help in holding down surpluses and should also reduce price support expenditures, since no price support commodities will be harvested from these farms.

Even though all eligible cropland on a farm is placed in the Soil Bank under a whole farm contract, the house and any other buildings may still be occupied and a home garden may be grown.

Eight County Boards Told of New Laws Here

30 Members Advised of Changes Made by State Legislature

Members of the board of commissioners of eight area counties met in Thief River Falls Tuesday, May 19, to discuss changes in laws made during this session of the state legislature.

The meeting, presided over by Ralph Kayes, secretary of the Minnesota County Commissioners' association, was attended by 30 representatives from Roseau, Lake of the Woods, Kittson, Marshall, Pennington, Red Lake, Polk and Clearwater counties.

More than 30 changes in the laws were discussed during the main session in the afternoon. Included on the agenda were changes in highway laws, courthouse closing laws and changes in laws regulating the taxation of trailer homes. On the latter item, which will require further examination and clarification, owners of trailer homes will now be required to pay a registration fee.

At a special session later in the afternoon, changes in the probation laws were explained. The creation of the position of probation officer in the counties is required and, if the position is set up in a county prior to July 1, 1959, it may be filled by a person of the county's choice.

If the position is not filled before July 1, 1960, the services will be provided and will be charged to the affected counties. The present probation officer, provided by the Youth Conservation Commission, is responsible for 11 counties and much of his time is spent in travel which could be spent on probation affairs.

Several counties have already discussed joining together in providing a probation officer. Kittson, Marshall, Pennington, Roseau and Red Lake counties have already held such discussions.

At the close of the meeting, refreshments were served by the Chamber of Commerce.

The invocation will be given by the Rev. Piet Arden, assistant pastor of St. Ann's church. Also participating in the exercises will be the Goodridge school band; Karen Jensen and Dale Johnson, who will give recitations; and a duet by Lorine Anderson and Kathy McEnelly.

The memorial ceremony in tribute to the Unknown Soldier will take place on the athletic field with the assistance of the Grygla VFW post.

Judges Are Selected for Dairy Day Calf & Princess Contests

Two men prominent in the dairy industry are scheduled to judge the 10th annual Northwest Dairy Day show to be held at Thief River Falls Tuesday, June 9th. They are Hugo Albrecht and Olaf Kjome. Mr. Albrecht is a past president of the Minnesota Holstein Breeders association and a lifetime breeder of Holsteins. He has judged at some of the leading shows in Minnesota and other states, including some of the larger state fairs.

Mr. Kjome was for many years associated with the Boulder Bridge Farms, one of the leading Guernsey breeding establishments. He now has a Guernsey herd of his own and has judged many dairy cattle shows.

This year brings about the celebration of the 10th annual Northwest Dairy Day. The area has been honored this year by having its 1958 Princess, Diane Schroeder, chosen as the fifth Princess Kay of the Milky Way. Many county contests have already been held to determine the entrants in the Northwest Dairy Day Princess contest for this year.

Three judges selected for the Princess contest are Mrs. Elsie Bringold of Hudson, Wis., Dan Donahue, feature writer for the Minneapolis Tribune, and Ray Wolf of the University of Minnesota Extension staff. Mr. Wolf is a familiar figure at Northwest Dairy Day, having judged three princess contests in the past.

As indication that more and more people are becoming interested in the phase of the industry, Beltrami county is sending several cattle entries to Northwest Dairy Day for the first time in its history, as well as three contestants for the princess title.

Foot Specialists Adopt New Name of Podiatrists

The Minnesota Podiatry Association announced today that their new name, "Podiatry," approved by an act of the past legislative session, will now be used officially by practicing foot specialists in this state.

Dr. D. A. Peterson, Crookston podiatrist, said that the profession has been known under the dual terminology "chiropody" or "podiatry" for the past 50 years and that the action was taken by his state association to conform with the name change adopted by their American Podiatry Association at a meeting in Chicago two years ago.

Dr. Peterson practices podiatry at the Bratrud Clinic, Thief River Falls, every Tuesday.

From the Office of the President

MEMO TO ALL FAMILIES
IN THE THIEF RIVER FALLS AREA

Today, your local Gamble store joins 2200 other Gamble stores across the country in launching our 35-Trainload Royal Deluxe Food Freezer Purchase—a merchandising milestone of such importance that I am taking this unusual means of telling you about it.

For some time we have wanted to make available to our friends and customers a really great food freezer value. We set the wheels in motion months ago designing the Royal Deluxe 15 cubic foot freezer. Despite its low price, it has all of the deluxe features and is not a stripped down economy freezer—not a discontinued or old model. It is manufactured by the world's largest freezer producer, using new dies and top quality materials supplied by famous companies like General Electric, Dupont and U. S. Steel. In fact, we compared it side by side with six top brand freezers selling at as much as $120 more. Feature by feature, it is equal or superior to any of them.

Very likely, you are wondering "how can Gambles sell the Royal Deluxe for so much less?" Here are some of the factors that make it possible:

Tremendous buying power. It just couldn't be done on an ordinary purchase of 100—or even 1,000—units. We ordered 35 trainloads (each train 20 to 25 cars long) of one model. Consequently, our manufacturer could make huge savings in production costs.

Lowered distribution costs. We are eliminating about 50% of our normal expense in bringing this freezer to you. We cut out warehousing costs, because these freezers are shipped from the factory direct. We are sending them out in carloads to your town or near your town. In fact, most customers will take delivery direct from the freight car, eliminating expense of delivery, store handling, uncrating and other overhead, such as inventory insurance.

Now, here's the big news you have been waiting for. As a result of tremendous buying power and lowered distribution costs, we are offering the Royal Deluxe 15 cubic foot freezer at the unprecedented low price of $199.95 during this 35-Trainload Event. During our 35 years in merchandising, we have never seen an appliance value to equal it. Remember, you could pay as high as $319.95 and still not get all the fine features of this freezer.

When we planned this great event, I was determined that despite the low price, we would offer you our regular liberal credit terms of only $5 down. And our stores will take anything with resale value that you may wish to use in trade. An item in your home that you no longer have use for and wish to sell, may well serve as the down payment.

You'll love the freezer way of living. It saves time and work for mother, makes fewer shopping trips necessary, cuts food bills, and permits the whole family to enjoy a greater variety of tastier, more healthful foods all year around. Certainly, there is no other item of household equipment that pays for itself so quickly.

May I ask you to do one thing? Take your family down to the Gamble store this week and examine the Royal Deluxe freezer. Compare our $199.95 price, and compare quality with other freezers on the market. The facts are there for all to see. Only after you examine them for yourself will you realize what a tremendous opportunity for saving Gambles are offering you.

Thank you for your interest.

Thieves Edge Bagley 5-4 in Windy Contest

Gene Leslie's sacrifice fly to centerfielder LeRoy Riewer with Jack Poole scoring from third base after the catch on a neat slide into the plate in the last half of the 9th inning broke a 4-all tie and gave the Thieves a wind-swept and dust-filled 5 to 4 Northern Minny league win over the Bagley Merchants Sunday.

The two teams, with a remarkable exhibition of baseball considering the near-gale that prevailed, moved along in a 1 to 1 tie entering the 8th inning. Bagley, on a walk to Jim Lawrence and singles by Bruce Lindell and Tom Wolhowe, scored in the 2nd inning; while the Thieves, in the 3rd inning, put together a walk to Glenn Carlson, a stolen base, a poor throw to second base by pitcher Lindell on a pickoff play, with Carlson advancing to third, and Rodney Max' single to right field, evened the game at 1-all.

In the 8th inning, Carlson was safe on an error, and moved to second on a wild pitch; Darryl Rude whiffed; Leslie lofted a pop single into left field, with Carlson stopping at third; Max rammed a single off Billy Lawrence's glove at second, scoring Carlson and moving Leslie to third; Frank Gunderman struck out; Jack Hoppe scratched out an infield hit past first base, with Leslie scoring, and Max tallied on Hough's low throw to the plate, giving the locals a 4 to 1 lead.

Bagley bounced back with a three-run rally to tie the game. Ken Brustad doubled to left field; Jerry Riewer was out, third to first, with Brustad moving to third, and when Carlson's throw to third base, in an effort to nab Brustad, was into the dirt, the Bagley runner scored on the error. Larry Yonemura came around to second base on third baseman Max's bad throw to first; and when Billy Lawrence parked a homerun over the left-field fence, the game was in a 4-all knot.

Came the game-winning 9th inning. Larry Gilbertson bounced a ground single into center field; Marv Mansfield was nicked by a pitched ball; Carlson was out, third to first, with the runners advancing; Rude drew a walk to fill the bases; and then Leslie poled out a fly ball to center field, with Jack Poole scoring the winning run.

The Thieves will meet the Erskine Merchants at Erskine next Sunday night.

Bemidji Team Loses to Prowlers 5-3; RLF Here Tonight

A tense Prowler ball team, committing five miscues, and all in the first two innings, made hard work of defeating the Bemidji Lumberjacks, 5 to 3, in an interdistrict baseball game played on the Fair Grounds diamond Friday night.

The Prowlers will be in action tonight, Monday, when they meet the Red Lake Falls Eagles on the Fair Grounds diamond. This game is a re-scheduling of the game that was postponed on May 14.

In Friday night's hectic game, coach Horace May's Lumberjacks, on a single by Pete Barthelmy, an error, a double by Harold Moen, a stolen base, and an overthrow, scored two runs after two men had been retired in the 1st inning, to take a 2 to 0 lead.

The Prowlers, in the bottom half of the 1st inning, chalked up two tallies to knot the score. Eddie Lietzow walked; Arlan Hjelle's attempted sacrifice went awry when Barthelemy made a quick recovery of the bunt and threw to second, forcing Lietzow. Harley Drees doubled down the left-field foul line, scoring Hjelle, and on the throw to the plate, Drees advanced to third. Paul Saurdiff bounced a slow roller to shortstop, and Drees beat the play at the plate, tieing the game at 2-all. Weckwerth lofted to left field, and Jerry Jorgenson was out, short to first.

With one away in the 2nd inning, three Prowler throwing errors permitted Jim Dale to score for the Jacks.

The Prowlers moved into the lead with a two-run flurry in the 3rd inning. Lietzow walked; Hjelle whiffed; Drees was hit by a pitched ball, putting runners on first and second; Saurdiff walked to fill the bases; Weckwerth grounded to shortstop, who made the play at second, forcing Saurdiff, with Lietzow scoring, and Drees moving to third. Weckwerth stole second, and when catcher Dean Fossand's throw went into center-field, Drees tallied the tie-breaking run.

In the 5th, a single by Weckwerth, and an error by the centerfielder on the hit, with the ball rolling to the fence and allowing Weckwerth to sprint around to third, and Jorgenson's infield out plated the locals' fifth and final tally.

The Jacks threatened to get back into the game in the 6th and 7th inning, tagging Drees for a pair of hits. With two out in the 6th, Fossand doubled to deep left-center, but Drees forced Russ Anderson to ground out, second to first. In the 7th, lead-off man Bill Bleth opened with a single, but the Prowler hurler set down Fawbush, Barthelemy, and Moen, the second, third, and fourth men in the Bemidji batting order, down on strikes.

Crookston Breaks up Prowlers' Win Streak

Prowler righthander Arlan Hjelle limited the Crookston Pirates to but two hits in the district conference baseball game played at Crookston on Thursday afternoon, but those two hits produced runs and gave coach Linton Lehrer's club a 2 to 1 win over coach Ralph Skay's squad. The loss broke an eight-game winning streak for the Prowlers.

The Prowlers will conclude their pre-tournament schedule this week when they meet coach Ken Severud's Bagley Flyers at Bagley on Wednesday night, in an 8:00 p.m. game; and on Thursday night, May 28, the Crookston Pirates will play in an 8:00 p.m. game on the Fair Grounds diamond.

The 31st district baseball tournament will be played here on June 3, 4, and 5.

In Thursday afternoon's tense game at Crookston, the Prowlers picked up a run, and an early lead, in the 1st inning. Southpaw-batting Eddie Lietzow punched a looping single over shortstop to lead off the inning. Lefty Bill Taylor, on the mound for Crookston, uncorked a wild pitch, with Lietzow moving to second base.

Jerry Jorgenson rapped sharply to shortstop, and was out, short to first, with Lietzow holding second. Harley Drees drew a walk. Paul Saurdiff drove a ground single through the mound, with shortstop Boyum making a valiant try to make a play, but the ball caromed off his glove into short center-field for a hit. Lietzow tallied on the single. Hjelle grounded to first; and Gary Klungness lofted a fly to shortstop.

The Pirates knotted the game in the 2nd inning when Jim Turner, on a three and two pitch, lined a homerun over the left-field fence at the 340-foot mark.

The game moved along swiftly in a 1 to 1 deadlock until the last half of the 6th inning, when the Pirates notched their game-winning tally. Taylor, leading off, gained a life on Jorgenson's boot of a ground ball; Art Oliver moved Taylor to second on a sacrifice, pitcher to first base; Turner whiffed on a shoulder-high fast ball; Bob Irwin was hit by a pitched ball; and then Bruce Gronbeck looped a handle hit that fell safely between shortstop Lietzow and left fielder Saurdiff, with Taylor scoring easily from second with the tie-breaking run.

Taylor retired the side in order in the 7th inning to preserve the win, which was Crookston's eighth in a row.

Canoe Derby Set for Aquatennial

To Start at Bemidji July 8 and End July 17

The adventuresome Minnesotans who enter the Aquatennial Canoe Derby will be competing against crack Canadian two-man teams, according to the chairman of the revived 450-mile, 10-day Bemidji-to-Minneapolis race down the Mississippi river.

John C. Skoglund said he has had several inquiries on the race from Canadians anxious to take a shot at the record jackpot of $10,000 in merchandise and money.

"I'm sure we'll have at least three Canadian teams in the field when the entries close June 29," he added. The race begins July 8 and will end July 17 in Minneapolis to herald the start of the Aquatennial.

Last run on a full 450-mile scale in 1953, the revival is generating "tremendous enthusiasm" not only in the 10 towns along the derby route, but throughout the entire state as well, according to Skoglund.

"It's also attracting considerable national attention," Skoglund said. "Several big national magazines are interested in covering it."

The unique frontierland event matching men's muscle against the mighty Mississippi will be run in daily laps ranging in distance from a gruelling 76 miles the second day to a 20-mile Anoka-to-Minneapolis finale.

Other host towns along the way where the contestants will make overnight stops are Bena, Jacobson, Grand Rapids, Palisade, Aitkin, Brainerd, Little Falls and St. Cloud.

Skoglund pointed out that all entrants must be men 17 years of age or over and must furnish their own canoes which must meet standardized specifications.

Entry information can be obtained by writing the Minneapolis Aquatennial Association, 116 Times building.

Four Records Fall in Grade Meet Thursday

Four records were broken as the city's grade schools competed in the annual grade school track and field tournament at the Lincoln high school athletic field on Thursday. The Northrop Indians, scoring seven points in the final event on the program, the girl's softball throw, edged out the Knox Tigers, 101½ to 99½, to win the team championship.

The new records that were established on Thursday were as follows: In the 5th grade boy's baseball throw, Tommy Cummings of Northrop made a toss of 186 feet, 10 inches, bettering the old mark of 142 feet set by Adolph Meyers of Washington in 1956; in the 6th grade girl's step-hop-jump, Marquitta Bendickson of Washington had a leap of 21 feet, 7 inches; in the 6th grade boy's standing broad jump, Jerry Forsberg of Knox, with a leap of 7 feet, 2½ inches, beated the old mark of 6 feet, 11 inches set by Mike Soeby of Washington in 1957; and in the 6th grade boys' running broad jump, Bruce Olson of Northrop, with a leap of 14 feet, 5 inches, surpassed the old record of 13 feet, 7 inches set by Eddie Lietzow of Northrop in 1955.

The first place winners in the various events were:

He'll be a Great One

We take this means of placing into nomination as one of Region Eight's potential all-time greats in athletics the name of Baudette's sophomore Jack Nielson.

Nielson, apparently a "chip off the old block," won the 32nd district's 100- and 200-yard dash events, as well as the broad jump. And in Region Eight track and field competition at Bemidji on Friday, Jack placed second in the 100- and 220-yard dash events, and won the broad jump. With two more years of eligibility in track and field competition, there's no telling what marks he will establish.

But Nielson isn't a one-sport athlete. Ever since he was in the eighth grade, and that's only a couple of years ago, he was a regular on the Baudette Bears hockey team. And he is a good all-around hockey player, even though his play last season was handicapped because of ankle injury suffered late in the year. With his speed, Jack was a threat on Baudette's center-ice "sleeper" play.

We advise the University of Minnesota "talent scouts" to keep an eye on Baudette's Nielson. And another high school athlete the Gophers should watch with interest is Roseau's burly Don Ross. Ross, the possessor of that famed slap-shot in hockey, was an all-state tournament choice in hockey, but in addition he is a valuable member of the Roseau Rams' track, football, baseball and golf squads. He is only a junior, so he'll be around to plague the Prowlers for another year.

An Ill Wind

The weather forecast predicted Saturday's weather as producing winds, from a south-westerly direction, of 15 miles per hour, and with sunny skies prevailing, lifting the temperature into the high 60's.

With that favorable forecast in hand, we made plans to venture up to the Lake of the Woods for a walleyed-pike fishing expedition. After an uneventful 2¼-hour drive we arrived at Morris Point, and filled with high hopes and anticipation of a heavy stringer of walleyes.

So what happened? The winds were from southwest alright, but instead of a modest 15 miles per hour, the velocity was up to 20 miles, with gusts of 35 miles per hour. With the gusts predominating.

We managed to swivel out to the gap between Morris Point and Pine Island, tossed the anchor, baited up our hook with a shiner, and waited for the "beasties" who were supposed to be lurking thereabouts.

Well, we caught a couple of walleyes, one weighing about a pound, and the other we judged at a half-pound. Wind or no wind, the fishing at Morris Point on a May 23rd should have been better than that! We are not convinced of the statement that low water produces better fishing.

After four hours of pitching and bucking the choppy waves in the gap, we pulled anchor and called it a day. Two fish!

The Lake of the Woods is a peculiar water. The winds can blow from the west or the east or the south, yet the white-caps come boiling in to the Morris Point gap from the northwest!

Notice to Stag Night Golfers

Due to the fact that the men's bowling association will hold its annual trophy awards night and banquet on Wednesday night, May 27, the golfer's stag night, usually held on Wednesdays, will be postponed until Thursday, May 28.

Miscellany

Neil Junker, who turned in an efficient brand of catching for the Thieves in Northern Minny play last season, was a standout member of coach Dick Siebert's Big Ten baseball championship Gophers this season. According to the reports we have received, Neil will play his independent ball with Stillwater, his home town, this summer . . . Ross Sloan, who will be remembered as being a fleet-footed ball-hawking outfielder with the Prowlers and Thieves several years ago, is playing his baseball in Germany this season. Ross, in army service overseas, was named to the 15-man Karlsruhe Dozers, who compete in the Northern Area Command League in Germany. More than 150 candidates tried out for the club, and Ross was the only Upper Midwest candidate to make the squad. . . . And speaking of outfielders, we doubt if we'll ever witness an amateur outfield that had more defensive speed than the Thieves' outfield of Al Williamson, Herb Claffy and Swede Lund.

Slow Down—and Live.

Roseau & Crookston Share Regional Title in Track Meet Friday

In one of the most evenly-contested regional track and field tournaments in recent years, the Roseau Rams of the district 32 and the Crookston Pirates of district 31, tied for team honors with 22 points each in the meet held at Bemidji on Friday. Blackduck of district 29 scored 21 points, and Baudette of district 32 tallied 20 points, as did the Warren Ponies of district 31. Other team point totals were Park Rapids, 16; East Grand Forks, 12; Fisher, 10; Red Lake Falls, 8; Mahnomen, 6; Ada, Halstad, Bemidji, Oklee, and Waubun, 5 each; Bagley and Red Lake, 4 each; Stephen and Walker with 2 points; and with one point apiece were Thief River Falls, Fosston, Humboldt, and Kelliher.

One new record was established when Blackduck's Dick Jacobson heaved the shot a distance of 51 feet, 8 inches, bettering the old mark of 50 feet 2½ inches set by Oklee's Martin Johnson last season.

Dr. Joseph Norquist Writes from Africa

Dr. J. L. Norquist, formerly with the Falls Clinic of this city and now serving as a medical missionary in Africa, has arrived at his destination, according to a leter received by his former associates last week. Following are interesting extracts from the letter in which he gives his first impressions of the problems with which he and Mrs. Norquist will be confronted:

"We have been in Africa three weeks now and are studying the Swahili language at a nice place 18 miles from Iambi where we shall be stationed. Our address will always be the same and we'll welcome any letters you have time to send us. Although we are so near to the equator, the 5,000 foot altitude makes the climate here very pleasant.

"Last week we visited Iambi to see our hospital and house. The house is a big one built by unskilled hands in 1929. It has a large living-room and dining room, kitchen, bathroom, two bedrooms and an extra room off of the front veranda. No one has been living in it for a long time so it needs much repair.

"We hope before we move in they will have repaired the bedroom wall that is moving from the foundation, replastered the kitchen, installed a kitchen sink, rescreened some of the screens with large holes and patched up the big hole in the chimney which causes smoke to pour back into the kitchen and attic whenever the wood stove is lit. We also hope to paint the walls which heretofore have been only whitewashed.

"The house is made of mud brick and plastered with mud plaster, a material which seems to be very attractive to white ants. There is a water shortage because the water cistern, both here and at our future home, developed leaks and there are no wells, rivers, lakes or streams nearby. That means that we have to be extremely careful as there will be no more rain now until November or December.

"The hospital has about 50 beds in three very old mud-brick buildings, and also a new building with a nice surgery theatre and some offices. There is a terrible out-patient building which is to be replaced in a year or two. There is a great deal of leprosy, malaria, tuberculosis, amoebiasis, and the OB service is very active. I hope we can improve the laboratory facilities and increase our public health and preventive medicine program. It's going to be quite different from the Falls Clinic or Northwestern Hospital, but it is a great challenge and full of possibilities.

"My Polaroid camera which you gave me made a sensation last Sunday when I took a picture of an African family and immediately showed them their picture. They giggled and laughed and thought it was unbelievable. I think I am going to use this means of attention the same way another doctor out here uses his false teeth. They can't understand how in the world he takes his teeth right out of his mouth and puts them back again."

The Norquists' postoffice address is Singida, Tanganyika, East Africa.

Four Months Deficit Is Below Figure for 1958

The Soo Line railroad reported Tuesday its business for the first four months of 1959 was slightly better than in the comparable period last year despite a falloff in grain movement.

President G. A. MacNamara forecast a rise of about 5 per cent in gross revenues this year, based on expected heavy movement of Commodity Credit grain later this year.

He told stockholders the firm's estimated deficit before contingent charges was $489,005 for the first four months compared with a deficit of $693,471 for the same period of 1958. Grain movement was off about 14 per cent, he said.

Two new directors were named at the annual meeting.

Frank T. Heffelfinger II, vice president and general manager of the Peavey Feed Mills division of F. H. Peavey and Co., replaces W. P. Heffelfinger, who resigned. John Hjellum of Jamestown, No. Dakota, was named to succeed Henry H. Westlie of Minot, No. Dakota.

VA Explains Rule on Medical Care

Must Get Prior Approval for Hometown Treatment

Prior authorization from the Veterans Administration must be obtained by veterans with service-connected disabilities in order to receive "home-town" medical care, W. R. Byrd, manager of the Fargo VA Center, pointed out today.

Byrd said numerous veterans have neglected to obtain the necessary authorization before starting treatments, and added that without prior approval of VA, physicians rendering the treatment cannot be reimbursed for their services. The only exception is where it is established that emergency treatment was required, and VA must be notified no later than 15 days after the treatment was received.

Both the veteran and physician should determine that prior authorization has been given by VA, Byrd said.

Contracts between VA and the medical associations of North Dakota and Minnesota provide that designated physicians may render "home-town" treatment in service-connected cases when treatment in a VA installation is not conveniently available.

Property Taxes in State Rising Sharply

Property tax rates in most Minnesota cities and villages are zooming upward at an alarming rate, with tax levies increasing more than twice as fast as taxable property values.

In 78 of the state's 102 cities and villages of more than 2,500 population tax rates for 1959 have leaped past the 200-mill mark, according to statistics compiled in a recent issue of "Minnesota Municipalities," official publication of the League of Minnesota Municipalities.

The dubious distinction of having the highest rate among the 102 communities again goes to Eveleth with 588.70 mills, while New Ulm has the lowest—142.63 mills. Both rates are higher than in 1958.

The total taxable value of real and personal property advanced 3.5% over the previous year ($41,791,554), but taxes levied jumped 8.5% from $217,370,321 in 1958 to $235,822,712 this year, or $18,452,391.

"These figures point up the already excessive and rapidly increasing tax burden real and personal property is being forced to carry under Minnesota's jumbled tax structure," Charles P. Stone, general counsel of the Minnesota Taxpayers association, commented today.

"With tax rates climbing much more rapidly than taxable values are increasing, it is obvious that they will reach confiscatory levels unless something is done soon to relieve property taxpayers of at least a part of this terrific load.

"Many responsible citizens are coming to the conclusion that a broad-based tax, such as a retail sales tax, is the logical method for producing sufficient revenues to the replace the most inequitable and destructive part of the property tax burden."

At 2 p.m. Sunday, baccalaureate services will be held in the college gymnasium. Rev. Joseph Mulvey, pastor of St. Philips Catholic church, Bemidji, will deliver the sermon, "Spoken as This Man."

From 3:30 to 5 p.m., graduates, their parents and friends will be guests of college president Dr. C. R. Sattgast and the BSC faculty at a tea at Birch Hall.

Concluding the day's program will be commencement exercises at 8 p.m., also in the college gymnasium, with Dr. Dora V. Smith, professor emeritus at the University of Minnesota, giving the commencement address.

The college orchestra, band and choir will provide music for the day's events.

Social Security Has Effect on 9 out of 10

On June 1, 1752, the first insurance policy in this country was issued at Philadelphia, Pennsylvania and Benjamin Franklin was responsible for organizing that first insurance company.

Today there are insurance systems to insure you against almost anything from loss of limb to unfavorable weather on the day of your annual picnic.

One insurance system that effects nine out of every ten people who work for a living in this country today is a social insurance program commonly known as social security. In 1935, the Federal Government passed the first Social Security Act. Today there are more than 12½ million people receiving old-age, survivors, or disability monthly payments.

The basic idea of social security is a simple one: During working years employers, their employees, and self-employed people pay social security taxes which go into special funds. When earnings have stopped because the worker has retired, ir died, or is disabled, benefit payments are made from the funds to replace part of the earnings the family has lost. You will note the purpose of the law is to partly replace lost earnings. Your social security office advises that you should use social security as a base upon which to plan to build your family's financial security.

There are two pamphlets available that furnish information that can help in this planning—"Your Social Security" and "How to Estimate Your Social Security Payments". Address your request to Social Security Administration, Grand Forks, North Dakota.

Within us all there are wells of thought and dynamos of energy which are not suspected until emergencies arise. Then oftentimes we find that it is comparatively simple to double or treble our former capacities and to amaze ourselves by the results achieved. Quotas, when set up for us by others, are challenges which goad us on to surpass ourselves. The outstanding leaders of every age are those who set up their own quotas and constantly exceed them.

—Thomas J. Watson

The Right Answer

Steel workers justify their demands for more pay by pointing to company profits. The companies can pay them higher wages without increasing the price of steel, they tell us.

And that may be true at the present time with production at a high level. But it also would be true that if wages were not increased the price of steel products could be reduced and that, we are sure, would be a much better solution.

The worst thing about a wage increase for the steel workers is the fact that it would set the pattern for all other pending wage disputes and would be inflationary even if steel prices were not advanced. It would set the stage for another general round of wage and price boosts and be responsible for another decline in the buying power of the dollar.

Included in the cargo of one of the ocean freighters that arrived at Duluth last week was a shipment of steel wire that had been manufactured in Europe. We will all agree that that steel wire should be made in our country by American workers. Some will argue that there should be tariff protection for American industry, but that is not the right answer. The right answer is for American industry to remain competitive and now is the time to hold the line against any further wage and price adjustments that will make us less competitive in world markets.

Our City's Problems

We can understand the position of those who are opposed to the city's municipal store operation. The store is here, however, because a majority of the voters, on two occasions, have given approval to that operation. The second vote, taken after the store had been in operation several years, was much more favorable than the first.

Now the Council is considering a remodeling plan for the store. We have not seen the plan and we are not in a position to say it is either adequate or too elaborate. We do know that some remodeling and improvement is justified. After nearly 12 years it is reasonable to assume that changes are needed.

In the discussions of the present problem reference has been made to a pledge signed by some 500 citizens back in 1947 in the campaign to repeal prohibition in Pennington county. We are satisfied that that pledge was a sincere promise, made by responsible citizens. Here is what they promised:

> "We, the undersigned citizens of Thief River Falls, pedge our opposition to any form of private liquor store operation. We will support the present city administration and any future city administration in restricting public sales to a municipally operated store in this city.
> "We furthermore subscribe to the thought that whatever profits may be derived from the operation of a municipal store in Thief River Falls should be used in the improvement of facilities that will be beneficial to all of the people of the community, urban and rural."

In this pledge there is no mention of any specific needs for which these profits should be dedicated, but while the language was general, the meaning certainly was clear. It is not unfair, however, to raise the question as to whether or not such a promise has been kept. As Al Smith would put it: let's take a look at the record.

In the spirit of this pledge legislative approval was secured for direct contributions for two community projects, the new court house and the expanded hospital. One law authorized the council to make contributions from these profits to the county court house fund. The law is merely permissive but it was requested by city officials and up to now the city has contributed some over $65,000 to the county for this purpose. This may be looked upon as a moral obligation and we have no doubt about the contributions being continued, benefiting directly the taxpayers of both the rural areas and the city.

The second enabling law gave the city the right to contribute municipal store profits toward the cost of a community hospital, with the approval of the voters. In a special election called for this purpose the voters approved a $200,000 bond issue and with this year's payment the city will have repaid $60,000 of this loan.

The list of improvements that have been made during this time without borrowing would be long. There have been extensive improvements in our system of parks and playgrounds. Costly parking facilities in the business section have been added and are being improved. Indirectly much of this spending was made possible by municipal store profits. We say indirectly, because, unfortunately, we think, these profits have been transferred into the general fund and have lost their identity. But year after year the operation has given the city an assured net income of $80,000 and without that income our taxes would have been much higher.

Another reasonable question is, why then is the tax for municipal purposes so high? Why the increases of recent years?

Practically all of the tax for municipal purposes is for debt service. We think it is needlessly high and should be substantially reduced. It is needlessly high because we are paying our debt too fast. Bond payments this year will total $178,000. Coming due next year will be another $178,000. From then on the annual maturities drop rapidly. Due in 1961 is $148,000; in 1962, $128,000; in 1963, $103,000. Half of the city's debt comes due in the next four years, and to pay it off that fast of course is stupid.

Those who argue for the fast pay-off say we have costly improvements ahead of us. We can see nothing alarming ahead of us. We need a couple of water tanks. A $200,000 water tank is less than $14,000 a year over a period of 20 years. There are many desirable things that we can acquire in stride, but there are few "musts."

Until a few years ago we managed very well with only a small levy for municipal purposes. Then our finances got out of hand and a period of austerity was justified. Now the city is in excellent financial condition again and by spreading our present peak of debt maturities over a longer period of time the city could get along now with only a token levy.

And getting back to what we started talking about, the municipal store is much in need of some improvements.

Canadian Point of View

An Oregon Senator is the sponsor of a bill that has made some progress in Congress, its purpose being to make available a sum of money, to be matched by Canada, for the improvement of the Alaska Highway. In a not-unfriendly editorial the Toronto Telegram suggests that such an appropriation, even though well intentioned, may be taking a litle too much for granted.

Our neighbors question our title to a part of the narrow strip of land along the coast that extends far to the south of Alaska, and which serves as a barrier to ocean commerce for a large area of Canada. The Telegram expresses the opinion of many Canadians when it suggests that before the Alaska Highway is improved our country should make a concession by "returning" to them a part of the Alaskan Panhandle. Says the Telegram:

> "Senator Richard Neuburger, a Democrat from Oregon, has been mixed up in what can only be described as an attempt at panhandling in the highest circles. He is the sponsor of a bill that has been going through the congressional mill. It would provide for an outlay of $60,000,000 from the U.S. treasury, on a 50-50 sharing basis with Canada, to pave the Alaska Highway.
> "We are disappointed in Sen. Neuburger. He should know the U.S. Congress is not the place to initiate negotiations with Canada for a sharing of costs on a Canadian project. The Alcan Highway is a Canadian project, under Canadian jurisdiction, on Canadian territory. The good Senator's bill, in effect, seeks to tap the Canadian treasury. This is something denied even to members of Canada's own Parliament. Only the Government (i.e. the Cabinet) can initiate money bills.
> "Of course, Canada might be willing to discuss paving the Alaska Highway. Let us say 50-50 on paving the highway in return for 50-50 on Alaska itself. At the very least we should expect to have returned the Alaska Panhandle, that annoying strip of U.S. territory that cuts off the Yukon and northern B.C. from the Pacific. Okay, Senator?"

REPORT from the GOVERNOR

by Orville L. Freeman

This is the time of the year when the greatest number of Minnesota citizens are looking forward to vacations. I am thinking specifically of the hundreds of thousands of children in our schools. As they look forward to the summer months immediately ahead of them, especially those in high school, are wondering about the future. Thousands of high school graduates must yet decide whether to go on to further higher education.

An Important Decision

For thousands of young people the decision as to whether to go on to college may be one of the most important decisions of their lives. Their success in whatever occupaton they may choose, and their ability to contribute to their communities and to society, may depend upon the choice they make now. They should have the benefit of the best advice and guidance that is possible. This is why we are intensifying our efforts to provide guidance and counselling in our schools.

An Individual Matter

Counselling is primarily an individual matter, depending on the abilities and interests of each boy and girl. There are some general trends, however, that apply to all.

It is a characteristic of our times that higher education is becoming more and more necessary for an increasing number of jobs. The need for higher education works two ways. Individuals with ability need it for their own maximum development; and society needs the contributions that can be made most effectively by individuals with high ability only if they have had education commensurate with that ability.

Minnesota Survey

A recent survey of graduating seniors in Minnesota high schools indicated that school officials believed that 46.7 per cent of the graduates had the ability to do college work, and that 35.7 per cent would enter college. They also indicated that 8.9 per cent of the graduates would not be attending college because of financial reasons.

Comparative Survey

A nation wide study was made last year to find out how many students with superior ability were failing to go on to college. This "talent loss" was calculated on the basis of study of more than 14,000 near winners in the National Merit Scholarship program. These near winners were in the top one per cent in intellectual ability.

Minnesota ranked 4th among the states in the number of graduates in this talent pool. Yet Minnesota ranked 42nd in the proportion of these talented near winners who did not enroll in college immediately. This indicates a failure to make the most of high level talent that ought to be of real concern to us.

Not Only Graduates

It is not only the high school graduate and his parents should be concerned with the problem of high education. To be really prepared for college work, high school students from the first year on should be concerned with choosing those courses that will be most necessary as college preparation, and with doing the quality of high school work that will really make for college ability.

A Joint Responsibility

Providing maximum opportunity for our young people to get the kind of education they should have is a joint responsibility of parents, communities, state government and the young people themselves. We need more colleges, more classrooms, more scholarship and loan programs and better high school preparation. For in only ten years we may have twice as many students in college as we have today.

QUESTIONS answered for VETERANS

Additional information or assistance on veterans benefits may be obtained by writing or visiting the VA contact representative at the Grand Forks VA office.

Q—I'm a Korea veteran with a GI term insurance policy with the letters "RS" before the policy number. I understand I may now exchange it for another policy which will cost me a great deal less in premium payments. Will you please explain this?

A—Since you have an "RS" Korean GI term policy, you have the right to exchange it for another new type term policy with premiums costing two-thirds less. However, it is not renewable after you pass your 50th birthday, and must be converted to one of VA's permanent plans before then, if you wish insurance protection.

Q—I am taking courses under the GI bill which lead to a standard college degree. I understand there is a new requirement about reporting classroom absences. Does this affect me?

A—No. Since your courses lead to a college degree you're exempt from reporting monthly absences from class. Students not headed for a college degree or some professional goal must, however, now report classroom absences, using the special Certification of Training form for that purpose.

Q—I'm changing my job and am going to have to sell my home bought with a GI loan. Must the loan be paid off in full before I can sell?

A—Not necessarily. The buyer may assume your GI loan as well as all liability, if he is willing, if your payments are up to date, and if VA determines the new buyer is a satisfactory credit risk.

Q—I have a dental condition connected to injuries in service but for which I am not entitled to receive compensation. Is there any deadline in my case for applying for outpatient dental treatment?

A—No. Veterans with service-connected noncompensable dental conditions or disabilities may apply at any time and receive as many treatments as are needed.

Pruning Evergreens

Evergreens need training and pruning each year. A little attention to your evergreens each spring will reward you with added beauty in your home landscape.

Prune evergreens just as new growth begins to start actively in spring. There are two basic methods of pruning them: (1) cutting the terminal growth at each growing point and (2) shearing. Of the two, the first is most satisfactory. It provides a less stylized looking plant and gives better control of growth. It also eliminates the danger of too severe pruning. Using the first method, you prune off a third to half of the current year's growth, or cut back to a side branch or an adventitious bud.

When shearing, do not cut back the previous year's growth too heavily. Consistent heavy pruning will lower vigor and will ultimately destroy the shrub.

Yews, junipers and arborvitae may be pruned a second time during the summer. Do not prune after August 15, because any new growth that's encouraged after this time will not withstand the winter.

Flowers for Mass Effect

To give a mass effect in the flower border and reduce maintenance, you may want to group annual and perennial flowers together. When planning for mass effect, you will want to give consideration to continuous bloom, flower color, textures and form.

Here are some suggestions on planning a flower border for mass effect:

Select various annuals and perennials that will bloom from early spring until late fall.

Plan to have three or four different flowers in bloom at one time. It isn't necessary to have the entire border in bloom at the same time.

Use a predominace of cool colors. Use warm colors (red, yellow, orange) sparingly.

Repeat colors at various locations in the border.

Avoid color clashes by using white as companion plants.

Mix textures for contrasting interest.

Keep coarse textures toward the back of the border.

Don't use too much of any one plant type. You can create interest by using various plant forms and shapes.

Plant large perennials or annuals individually rather than in groups. Use various plant forms and shapes.

Remove all dead or faded flowers and prune when necessary to improve the appearance of the border.

Plan for National Youth Conference

Minnesota to Share in 1960 White House Parley

At the request of President Eisenhower, Minnesota is joining in preparations for the 1960 White House conference on Children and Youth, to be held in Washington, D.C., March 27 thru April 2.

Governor Freeman has appointed the mayor of each community as special chairman of a local committee to help develop Minnesota's report to the nationwide conference. To this end a questionnaire covering local services to young people has been prepared by the Governor's advisory council on children and youth and sent to all Minnesota mayors.

Under the chairmanship of Judge Theodore B. Knudson, Minneapolis, the Governor's council has accepted the responsibility of coordinating Minnesota plans and preparing a statewide report for the national meeting. And the even greater responsibility of channeling the general conference findings back to local committees and communities for practical application in the Minnesota program.

Sixteen separate committees, under general direcion of Judge Knudson's council, are working on various phases of Minnesota's national participation.

Our LAND

Appearing in newspapers of the Minnesota Editorial Association through the cooperation of the U.S. Soil Conservation Service and the University of Minnesota Institute of Agriculture.

"Continuous corn" is becoming more and more popular in many areas of Minnesota. But University of Minnesota soils scientists and agronomists say the practice should be limited to fields with no more than 2 per cent slope. That's a maximum of 2 feet drop in every 100. Also: raising corn year after year on the same field calls for proper tillage; plenty of fertilizer; high plant populations; seed treatment and weed and insect control. If handled wisely, continuous corn won't result in any more erosion than where corn is alternated with other crops in a rotation.

Both sheet erosion and run-off losses became less of a problem for Elroy Anderson, Hoffman, Minn., thanks to contour strips. As a result, he was able to shape, seed and stabilize a gully. Treasurer of the Grant soil and water conservation district board, Elroy plans more contour strips for 1959. He also is taking steps to improve internal drainage, soil structure and tilth.

Thirty acres of corn in contour strips now yield as much as 50 acres did planted "up and down hill" for Lester Hall, Plainview. "I'm saving soil and building fertility in my soil at the same time," he says. A cooperator in the south Wabasha soil conservation district, Hall uses lime and fertilizer according to test on his grass-legume seedings. He also plans to use peas instead of oats for a companion crop on some contour strips. This will give him a "high-profit" corn-pea-hay-hay rotation. He is also going to terrace 60 acres which will be used as rotational pasture, according to Al Fischer, SCS conservationist at Wabasha.

Interseeding legumes between corn rows continues to hold promise in Minnesota. Last summer, USDA and University of Minnesota researchers and three Lac qui Parle county farmers tried it out and got good alfalfa and clover stands as a result. There are still many questions on the practice, however, and it needs more study before it can be widely recommended.

He cautioned the audience to guard the freedoms of speech and the press which, he said, are being taken away by small numbers of people controlling news media.

Turning to education, Wettergren warned the audience that "when it comes to spending money for education, we must provide the best." What appears to be economy in the construction of facilities or in other expenditures today will most likely be found to be false economy tomorrow, he said.

Washington 1st Graders Inspect Two Dairy Farms

The first graders of Washington school with Mrs. Florence Bredeson and Mrs. Ellen Peterson their teachers, had an interesting visit to the Maynard Mehrkens and Albert Koop farms Monday and Tuesday of last week. The school bus took them out.

They viewed the Holstein cows, saw the milk truck, whose driver, Don Swanson, sampled the milk, then emptied the milk storage tank into the truck tank and brought it to the Land O'Lakes dairy plant where it is processed and put into milk bottles.

The milk from the Guernsey herd at Koop's farm is brought into town where milk products such as butter and cheese are made from it. The children were interested in the young calves of which some were being raised for county fair exhibition. The various tractors and other machinery were examined and on the way back, they stopped and viewed Mr. Koop plowing with a five bottom plow.

Both days were a satisfying culmination of a farm project studied by the classes at school.

Pupils Reminded of Dental Checks

Two More Classes 100 Pct., Says School Nurse

The school year closed this year with three rooms having 100 per cent of the class completing their dental work, said Mrs. Margaret Race, school nurse. A month ago, Mrs. Edna Kankel's fifth grade at Knox reported all their pink dental cards returned. This week Mrs. Adeline Aune's first grade at Knox and Mrs. Millard Peterson's first grade at Washington added their classes to the 100 per cent list.

The health council and the faculty, said Mrs. Race, are anxious for every child to have dental care at least once a year, but it takes constant reminding and encouragement to get young children to the dentist.

Knox school again has the highest record of dental cards returned with 74 per cent. Northrop finished the year with 64 per cent; Washington, 58 per cent; and St. Bernard's, with 41 per cent.

Children who go to the dentist during the summer are reminded to have their dental cards signed and to return them to school in the fall.

Ten persons were fined in municipal court Monday for a variety of law violations while seven persons forfeited bond for non-appearance in court to face charges. Judge H. O. Chommie presided over the hearings.

Two persons were fined after being brought to court by the highway patrol. Lloyd R. Knutson, city, pleaded guilty to a speeding charge and was fined $10 plus $4 costs, while Sybil K. Torgerson, Minneapolis, pleaded guilty to violating restrictions on her drivers permit by driving without a licensed driver in the car. Her fine was $10 plus $4 costs, also.

Dorothy N. Nordstrom, St. Paul, forfeited $17 bond for non-appearance on a speeding charge.

Two persons appeared on charges by Sheriff Charles Richards. Martin Nelson, rt. 1, pleaded guilty to careless driving in which an accident was involved, and was fined $15 plus $5.50. A plea of guilty to selling beer to a minor resulted in a $100 fine plus $5.50 costs being levied against Martin Sund, city.

Andrew Norlack, rt. 1, Alvarado, forfeited $18 bond on a speeding charge.

The remainder of the cases were brought by city police. Theodore L. Larson, St. Hilaire, pleaded guilty to an open-bottle-in-car charge and was fined $10 plus $4 costs, while Munro Poole, forfeited $15 bond on the same charge.

Roy D. Jablinski, rt. 2, pleaded guilty to speeding and was fined $10 plus $4 costs. Leslie R. Halvorson, Crookston, was fined $25 after pleading guilty to a drunk and disorderly charge. Daniel W. Lee, Crookston, forfeited $54 bond for non-appearance to face charges of driving after license revocation.

Sybil L. Sergeant, city, forfeited $15 bond for non-appearance on a charge of drinking by a minor and, in addition, a suspension order on a previous conviction was revoked and she also paid $10 on that count.

Drinking by a minor was also charged against John M. Wegner, Chisholm. He, too, chose not to appear and forfeited $15 bond. Arden C. Hoff, rt. 2, Oslo, forfeited $23 for speeding.

A local man, Art Guterud, was in three times in three days the past week. The second time he was brought in, he was charged with disorderly conduct as well as drunkenness and was fined $25, of which $15 was suspended.

Darrel J. Wilson, city, appeared on two charges Monday. On the first his guilty plea to driving too fast for conditions resulted in a $15 fine plus $4 costs. He was also in violation of the restrictions on his drivers permit at the time of his arrest by not having a licensed driver with him, and his guilty plea to this charge resulted in another $15 plus $4 costs being levied against him.

In addition to the above, a number of cases of drunkenness were disposed of in Monday's hearing.

Protective Speed Controls Urged

Drivers Requested to Observe Speed Limits

Noting the advent of summer vacations, and an increase in travel generally, the Minnesota highway patrol is preparing for increased activity in its law enforcement also. Noting that speed control is for the protection of every individual, Chief Paul R. Martz today urged all motorists to cooperate fully with law enforcement officers.

"To hear some people talk, you'd think speed limits are made simply to make life hard on drivers," Martz said. "The fact is, there's a good reason for every regulation and speed sign posted."

The chief pointed out that speed regulations represent the combined thinking of traffic engineers, police, often local officials and others, well qualified to consider such important aspects of traffic. Speed limits take into consideration such things as roads, traffic, intersections, the surrounding countryside and many other factors.

"The driver who flouts speed laws based on such careful study has very little respect for his own safety. Worse yet, he is endangering others who may be in his path," Martz said. "The wise driver saves himself and his community taxpayers many enforcement dollars by being his own traffic officer," he added.

Midwest Grains Pass Thru Seaway

Large Shipments Going Overseas from Duluth

Significance of the St. Lawrence Seaway to Upper Midwest farmers became evident during the opening days of the Lake Superior shipping season when the first four ocean freighters loaded record shipments of farm products for foreign markets.

The first ship docked at the Peavey terminal in Duluth for 100,000 bushels of oats; the second docked at the Globe terminal in Superior for 315,000 bushels of barley; the third at the Occident terminal in Duluth for 60,000 bushels of barley and the fourth docked at the King Midas Flour Mills for 10,000 cwt. of durum flour.

All four shipments were bound for Europe or Middle East markets. The largest shipment of grain for direct export ever to leave the Duluth-Superior harbor previously was 60,000 bushels.

Drunken Driving Revocations of Licenses Are up

Harry A. Sieben, safety director of the Minnesota highway department, noted today that license revocations for drunken driving during the month of April reached almost 1,000, about 300 more than for the month of March. He pointed out that thus far in 1959, license revocations resulting from convictions of drunken driving number 3,246.

"We are most unhappy about this," Sieben said, "as people don't seem to realize that they become extremely menacing to others after they have had a few drinks. Clinical experiments have shown that the average subject's reactions are impaired by only one drink. In today's traffic we need all our facilities operating at peak efficiency."

The manager of the company will present his report on the activities and the finances of the company for the past year.

Air Force Reserve Meeting Tuesday

Interested Men of Area Asked to Attend Session

Several area air reservists and others have indicated an interest in forming a new Air Force reserve unit or specialized training group in this city, according to M/Sgt. Verne B. Hanson, liaison non-com for the 9749th Air Reserve Sqdn., Fargo.

An organizational meeting, to be attended by Hanson, has been set for 8 p.m. CDT, Tuesday, June 2, in the downstairs assembly room of the city auditorium, according to V. M. Draper, who is in charge of arrangements for the meeting.

In addition to former members of the now-defunct Flight E, 9749th AR Sqdn., several new prospects are expected to attend, Hanson said. He is contacting all known reservists and those with reserve obligations in the Thief River Falls area but those who may not be on Hanson's mailing list are reminded they should attend the meeting to avail themselves of information concerning participation in the reserve.

For many of the reservists, particularly those enlisted airmen who have not been out of the service too long, a local reserve unit would present the opportunity for extra income with very little effort. The type of specialized training offered is also quite valuable in civilian occupations, Hanson reminded the reservists.

June Dairy Month Has Its Kickoff Tuesday

Minnesota's annual salute to its $400 million dairy industry—June Dairy Month—was launched Tuesday, May 26, at a kickoff luncheon attended by some 400 persons at the Lowry Hotel in St. Paul.

Gov. Orville L. Freeman put his official weight behind the month-long celebration with an official proclamation urging all-out participation to "increase our appreciation of dairy foods, improve our health and our own financial well-being."

On the program were kickoff speeches by state June Dairy Month co-chairman Ron Kennedy, vice president of F. H. Peavey & Co., Minneapolis, and Mrs. Orville L. Freeman. Special citations were the order for William Lewison of Owatonna, state Future Farmers of America Star Dairy Farmer of 1959; John Husty of Mazeppa, winner of the annual statewide Spring Buttermaking contest; and John L. Weis of Zumbrota, state champion cheesemaker.

Annual kickoff luncheon sponsor and coordination agency for June Dairy Month is the Minnesota Dairy Industry committee.

Erskine, 9, at Winger, 0.

Schedule, Sunday, May 31
Thief River Falls at Erskine (night)
Winger at Bagley (night)
Fosston at Eldred (day)

A full complement of league games were played on Sunday, with Thief River Falls, Erskine, and Cass Lake scoring victories. The Thieves edged out Bagley, 5 to 4, at Thief River Falls; Cass Lake nudged Fosston, 3 to 2, at Fosston; and, in an afternoon tilt, the Erskine Merchants, getting a two-hit shutout from righthander Bobby Hallameck, defeated the Winger Tigers, 9 to 0, at Winger. In addition to limiting the Winger Tigers to two hits, both singles, Hallameck struck out nineteen batsmen.

This week's schedule will be highlighted by the Thief River Falls vs. Erskine game at Erskine on Sunday night. The two teams are deadlocked for the league lead, with each team having posted a triumph in their only league encounter. The game, too, will have added interest in that Hallameck, the Erskine hurler, was formerly a valued member of the Thieves' squad.

In other games on Sunday's slate, Fosston will travel to Eldred for an afternoon game; and the Winger Tigers will meet the Bagley Merchants in a night game at Bagley.

Newfolden Loses to Prowlers Here 13-0

Prowler right hander Arlan Hjelle limited the Newfolden Nordics to one hit, a looping single into short right-field by Bob Dahl in the 2nd inning, and struck out fifteen batsmen as he hurled coach Ralph Skay's club to 13 to 0 win in an inter-district game played on the Fair Grounds diamond Wednesday night.

Tonight, Thursday, the Crookston Pirates will invade the Fair Grounds diamond for an important tilt with the Prowlers. In a previous game between the two clubs, played last week, the Pirates edged out the Prowlers, 2 to 1.

Wednesday night's game here was handicapped by a slow and heavy field, and by a persistent drizzle that thoroughly dampened the playing field and the players.

The Prowlers, after being held scoreless by the southpaw slants of John Haglund in the 1st and 2nd inning, erupted for four runs in the 3rd inning. Eddie Lietzow opened with a walk; Hjelle dropped a bunt to the mound, and when Haglund made a wild throw to second base, both runners were safe and advanced an extra base.

Harley Drees was given an intentional walk; Paul Saurdiff blooped a single into left field, scoring Lietzow; Gene Weckwerth struck out; Jerry Jorgenson sent a slow roller to third base, and Hjelle beat the play at the plate; a wild pitch permitted Drees to score; and a throwing error by the catcher allowed Saurdiff to score.

The Prowlers added five runs in the 4th inning, with Lietzow and Hjelle banging out single, Jorgenson a double, and Gary Klungness a two-run triple. The locals added two runs in the 5th, and in the 6th, off righthander Dennis Bakke, the Prowlers added another pair of runs.

The Nordics made their bid at averting a shutout in the 6th inning when, on an error and a pair of walks, they loaded the bases with two out. Hjelle checked the threat by setting Bob Dahl down on strikes.

Some Anxious Moments

Until the guide booted the animal off the boat, Mrs. Carl Hovie experienced some anxious and hectic moments one day last week, thinking that she would be forced to share her boat-seat with a frantic and unsociable Canadian lynx.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hovie and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Knudsen were on a fishing expedition in the Sabaskong Bay area of the Lake of the Woods when the incident occurred. The party was fishing in the vicinity of Blueberry Narrows, a considerable distance from their headquarters at Nestor's Falls, when they came upon the lynx. The quartet had two boats, with Marie Hovie and Iolas Knudsen in one boat, and Carl and Clarence in the other.

The lynx, which had apparently been "fishing" along the rocky shores of the island, was first seen as it swam from an island to a rocky reef.

The guide, in an effort to intercept the animal's avenue of escape, and to provide an opportunity for Clarence to take some pictures of the lynx, maneuvered the boat containing Marie and Iolas between the reef and the island. The lynx, made bold by fear, jumped off the reef and reached the boat. The animal had its fore-paws on the gunwale of the boat when the guide gave the big cat the boot. Its weight was estimated at 40 pounds. The incident surely enlivened the fishing trip!

City Softball Opener

The seven-team city softball league — V.F.W., Bridgeman's, Bjorkman's, Sportsman's Store, Hamm's Len's Tire Service, and the Bums — will begin play on the East Side diamond on Monday evening, June 1, at 6:15 p.m.

The first round games will have the Vets meeting Bob Carlson's Bridgeman's team on Monday evening; on Tuesday evening, manager Mukkett Collins' city champion Bjorkman's will play the Sportsman's Store; and Thursday evening, the Hamm's Beer team will play the Len's Tire Service squad. The Bums, a newly-organized team, will draw a first round bye.

At an organizational meeting held recently, Ed Hamerski was elected city softball league president by unanimous vote; and Mrs. Ed (Florence) Hamerski, by a like vote, was elected secretary-treasurer of the organization.

A league meeting will be held on Friday night, 7 p.m., at which time the final details for the 1959 season will be arranged. Team rosters and player contracts will be studied and accepted or rejected at this meeting.

Prowlers, 5; Bemidji, 3

When the Prowlers defeated the Bemidji Lumberjacks, 5 to 3 on the Fair Grounds diamond last Friday night, it marked the first time since 1955 that the locals had beaten coach Horace May's Jacks in a high school basketball game. And Bemidji didn't give up easily on Friday night, either.

Since that 1955 season, when the Prowlers won the regional title and the consolation title in the state tournament and scored a pair of wins, by scores of 9 to 8 and 6 to 2, over Bemidji, the Jacks had rolled up a string of five victories over the locals. In 1956, Bemidji won a pair of games, 4 to 2 and 12 to 3; in 1957, in a pair of shutouts, Bemidji defeated the Prowlers, 6 to 0 and 11 to 0; and last year Bemidji won by a 11 to 4 score in a lone game.

Friday night's win should have provided Harley Drees, Jerry Jorgenson and Gene Weckwerth with considerable satisfaction, for these boys, all seniors were important factors in the Prowler victory. They must be feeling quite happy in closing out their high school baseball careers by defeating Bemidji.

Of course, the season isn't over, and it could perhaps happen that the Prowlers and the Lumberjacks will meet in the regional tourney.

Newfolden Coach Rejects Offer to Serve at Perham

Coach John R. Junker, who has directed the Newfolden Nordics in football, basketball and baseball, for the past two seasons received an offer to be head basketball coach and assistant coach in football at Perham high school for the 1958-1959 school year. The Newfolden board of education granted him a release from contract, but he decided to turn down the Perham job to cast his lot with Newfolden for another season.

Mr. Junker has had a very successful season at Newfolden this year with his football squad having 5 wins, 2 losses, 1 tie, basketball squad having 20 wins, 6 losses while winning the District 32 championship, and his baseball squad, which is still in the running for the district title, has a 10-2 record placing second to Roseau in the East Sub-District 32 tourney.

Coach Junker is a native of Stillwater, Minnesota where he starred in sports and is a 1957 graduate of Denver University.

Prowlers Today Face Crookston; Edge RLF

Coach Ralph Skay's baseball Prowlers defeated coach Pete Carney's Red Lake Falls Eagles, 8 to 7, in a district conference game played on the Fair Grounds diamond Monday night.

The Prowlers will meet the Crookston Pirates tonight, Thursday, on the Fair Grounds diamond, with game time at 8:00 p.m.; and on Monday night, June 1, the Goodridge Huskies will play the Prowlers on the Fair Grounds diamond in a schedule-ending game.

The 31st district baseball tournament will be played here on June 3, 4, and 5.

Monday night's hectic game found the Eagles, after being held to no hits and no runs for three innings by righthander Harley Drees and trailing by a 7 to 0 score, erupting for seven runs off Jack Goulet's delivery in the 5th inning to knot the game at 7-all.

The Prowlers scored the game-winning tally in the last half of the 5th inning on a single by Larry Poole, a fielder's choice, and Eddie Lietzow's double.

The Eagles had scoring threats in the 6th and 7th innings snuffed out by double plays. With one out and runners on first and second in the 6th inning, with Paul Saurdiff pitching for the locals, Darrel Hinrichs lined to first baseman Goulet who tagged the bag to double Bob Berry and retire the side. In the 7th, Bob Luxenberg led off with a two-bagger, but he was doubled off by Larry Poole when the Prowler infielder made a fine grab of of Bill Phillion's line drive, and then stepped on second to complete the twin killing.

Fishing and Hunting License Sales Rising

Are hunting and fishing on the upswing in Minnesota? You bet they are and all predictions point to more hunters and anglers in the Gopher state in the years just ahead.

Just how fast Minnesota's outdoor sporting public is growing was revealed today by George A. Selke, commissioner of conservation. Hunting and fishing licenses sold in 1958 exceeded 1957 sales in nearly every category. For example, Dr. Selke lists the following comparisons:

	1958	1957
Res. Ind. fishing license	271,154	258,551
Res. Combination license	390,879	372,274
Res. spearing license	54,557	50,534
Res. small game license	378,071	318,230
Res. firearms deer license	203,430	180,028

Increases like 12,603 in resident individual fishing; 18,605 in resident combination fishing; 59,841 in resident small game hunting and 23,402 in resident firearms deer licenses, represent significant increases in Minnesota's hunting and fishing public. Increases were also noted in virtually all other lesser licenses sold such as beaver trapping, wild rice harvesting, bow and arrow, etc.

"Only our non-resident fishing licenses showed no appreciable change last year, staying at about the 300,000 level," explained the commissioner. "Cold, unseasonable weather occurring on many of the weekends last summer are thought to have discouraged some out-of-state visitors here to enjoy Minnesota's Centennial celebrations. The caprices of the weather are all-important to vacationing folks, especially when fishing may just be part of the things they plan to do.

"We know from earlier economic surveys that hunting and fishing are responsible for $145 million being spent annually in Minnesota. With the steady increase in folks taking up these sports we can expect that an even greater amount will be spent in the coming years. Hunting and fishing are truly big business and it is important that we have a conservation program equal to the challenge these increases represent," concluded Mr. Selke.

Losses for the first four months of 1959 now total $401,402,000.

Serve Local Dairy Products in June

Home Agent Calls for Observing Dairy Month

Plan your June meals around dairy foods to take advantage of their abundance during the month ahead, suggests Home Agent Roberta LeBourveau.

Whole and skim milk, buttermilk, cheese, butter and ice cream are all choice ingredients to spark family and company menus. Because of the liberal supplies of milk and dairy products heralding June Dairy Month, the U.S. Department of Agriculture is giving these foods top billing on its list of plentiful foods for the month.

June will bring many spring vegetables to brighten spring menus, including locally grown asparagus, lettuce and radishes. Snap beans, cabbage, celery, sweet corn, cucumbers, green peppers and tomatoes will be shipped to Minnesota markets. New potatoes will be plentiful, along with the last of the storage potatoes.

Broiler and fryer chickens, family-size turkeys and eggs are among the protein food in good supply.

Vegetable fats and oils are in plenty for favorite salad dressings for indoor and outdoor meals.

Editorials...

"I hold that a little rebellion now and then is a good thing, and necessary in the political world as storms in the physical. Unsuccessful rebellions indeed generally establish the encroachments on the rights of the people which have produced them. An observation of this truth should render honest republican governors so mild in their punishment of rebellions as not to discourage them too much. It is a medicine necessary for the sound health of government."

—Thomas Jefferson

A Job To Be Done

Last week's school election has been referred to as a taxpayers' revolt and that probably comes as close as anything to explaining the large number of voters and the dissatisfaction with the present administration which the vote indicated. Most of the opinions we have heard expressed indicated that in the background the dissatisfaction was a feeling that tax dollars have been tossed around pretty recklessly.

The reorganized board that will assume responsibility for the direction of our school affairs for the coming year should recognize as one of its problems the restoring of public confidence in the school administration. That is going to require a new approach in public relations. School boards are not intended to be secret societies. School business is public business and we are sure the new board will discover that an informed public is generally a reasonable public.

In keeping the public informed on school matters, the Times, as a community newspaper, shares a responsibility with the school authorities. By cooperation the best interests of all will be served.

Oils Well

An American oil company official justifies the importation of foreign oil on the basis of long range need. He points out that our known national reserve is only 11 times our annual consumption. At the present time our country uses about one-half of the free world demand. The free world has a supply that will last a long time.

On the cheerful side of this picture is the observation that our present reserve will be extended by new discoveries. There apparently is no need for immediate viewing with alarm. And it is encouraging to know that atomic energy has already proven itself to be a dependable substitute.

Big City Nonsense

A St. Paul official has served notice on a contractor that under the provisions of a city ordinance only residents of Ramsey county may be employed on a city job. The contractor, a St. Paul firm, has six truck drivers and a front end loader, who are not residents of the county, it is charged.

St. Paul is a big city, and a good city, and the thing that should be done to solve this problem is to repeal the ordinance. There is the possibility of course that Minneapolis has a similar ordinance and that St. Paul has acted in self defense. If that is true then both cities should be ashamed.

They Help Themselves

We have read with interest a recent special report of the Red River Valley Potato Growers Association. It is the statement of a committee that was named to study the problems of the growers and, under the title "Fitting Our Potato Industry to the Changing Times," the report contains eight specific recommendations.

We were impressed by the fact that all of the eight recommendations pointed up possible means of improving the processing and handling and marketing of their product. They contained no mention of government assistance but stressed the things they might do to help themselves.

The potato growers are following the pattern of self-help established by the fruit growers. Probably the best thing that could happen to other segments of the agricultural economy would be the gradual withdrawal of all federal assistance and force them to help themselves. The dairy industry would be in a much stronger position now if it had thrown away the crutches of government aid years ago and set up its own marketing operations along the line of the John Brandt plan.

France Pays

Finance minister Pinay of the year-old De Gaulle government of France, came to Washington last week to announce proudly that after six months of his control of the economy, France is making payment of $118 million on its debt in advance of the due date. He is able to report that France is making good progress in economic recovery, and that is good news for our side.

Drastic dictatorial action was required to hold the line against further inflation. Government decrees forced wages and prices to remain steady. Subsidies were drastically reduced. The things he did were not popular, but they were effective and the decline in the value of the franc has been checked.

That France may still have a bright future is an encouraging thought. French experiments in the republican form of government have not been notably successful. Much of their difficulty came to them as a result of circumstances over which they had no control. Much of it however came as a result of their own folly.

We can learn much from their mistakes.

Something for Nothing?

(Morris Sun)

One of the more enduring and damaging illustrations of the time is that federal aid to states and cities and other local governments is somehow "free" — that it really provides us with something for nothing.

Economists Fred G. Clark and Richard Stanton Rimanoczy of the American Economic Foundation clearly and simply show the hole in that kind of reasoning by citing two prime principles of economics.

First: "Nothing in our economic life comes from nowhere or goes nowhere; there is always a source and a destination." Second: "Government cannot give the people anything that it does not take from them."

To supply federal aid, the government first takes away money that otherwise could have been spent directly at the local level, and then gives part of it back. A certain and substantial percentage disappears in the process. Indeed, according to Messrs. Clark and Rimanoczy, only one state, Mississippi, gets as much back from the federal government as it puts in.

So federal aid, far from being "free," is as expensive a device as we could think up.

Borrowed Nonsense . . .

Having noticed that the minister invariably read his sermons, one young member of the congregation arrived early and unnoticed, removed the last page from the manuscript lying on the pulpit.

As usual the minister commenced reading his sermon. The last line on what was now the final page ended with these words, "So Adam said to Eve . . ."

Lifting the page there was, of course, nothing left. He riffled through the other pages, gained a little time by repeating: "So Adam said to Eve . . ." and then in a low voice, but one which the amplifying system carried to every part of the church, added ". . . . there seems to be a leaf missing."

Farmers Not to Blame

"Mr. Speaker, American farmers are not responsible for the surpluses of barley and oats which are presently costing us appoximately $26 million a year in storage. American farmers have produced no surplus in barley or oats during the past 10 years."

It was with these words that I began a prepared statement to the House of Representatives last Wednesday, based upon research done here in your office and showing that the surpluses of barley and oats on hand today are a result of imports during the past ten years. They are not in any way due to overproduction on the part of the American farmer. Our research, based on United States Department of Agriculture figures, proved that this country has imported more barley and nearly as much oats since 1949 as we presently have in surplus.

I felt it was necessary to point out this situation to the House, not only because of the great deal of blame which is being laid upon the farmer for what is termed "the high cost of the farm program," but also because the surpluses caused by these imports have in turn caused price supports on barley and oats, as well as on other small grain crops, to be continually and severely lowered.

All this, I feel, once again points up the need for legislation to provide to the farmer full parity prices. I mentioned to the House that I had introduced legislation which does this, and urged that it be very carefully and sincerely considered.

The School Lunch Program

Early last week the House passed the Agriculture Appropriations Bill for fiscal 1960. Since this bill includes appropriations to run the Commodity Credit Corporation, the Soil Conservation Service, the Farm Credit Administration, and all the various other branches of the Department of Agriculture, it is of great importance to the Ninth District.

One of the most satisfying features of the bill is the amount allotted to run the school lunch program for the next fiscal year. As you may recall, I expressed concern in my newsletter of Mar. 4 over the amount which had been requested for this program.

Wisely, the bill as it passed the House provides for an increase of $43 million over the amount requested and $8 million more than was appropriated last year. This increase, necessary because of the expected growth in the number of participating school children from twelve million this school year to thirteen next, is a sensible expenditure. For this program provides a dual benefit to our country. It provides wholesome meals for our elementary and secondary school children at very reasonable costs, and at the same time it helps keep down our agricultural surpluses. The school lunch program is an investment in the present and in the future.

Beekeeping for honey (apiculture) was an important branch of agriculture in some countries in ancient times, but it is only a tiny percentage in the modern economy.

Linguists estimate that at least 145 different languages are spoken in the Soviet Union.

Receives Award at Church Services

The Lutheran God-Home-Country award for 4-H club members was presented to Mary Ann Lendobeja at a service at the Telemarken Lutheran church Sunday, May 24. Mary Ann is the 16-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Lendobeja and a member of the Kratka 4-H club.

The God-Home-Country award is a recognition given by Lutheran congregations to their young people who have a commendable 4-H club record, and who have given evidence of faithfulness and service to their church.

Only after three years of satisfactory 4-H club work does a member become eligible for the award. Each candidate submits a summary of 4-H projects completed and activities engaged in during his period of membership in the club. The report covers the member's work in regular 4-H projects such as crops, gardening, clothing and foods; and his activities in health, safety, conservation, and community service.

Mary Ann has completed 41 projects in clothing, gardening, yard improvement, food preparation, bread, canning, poultry, home furnishing and home making assistance. She has taken part in such activities as safety, conservation and junior leadership.

The candidate was also required to give evidence of Christian character and conduct, actively take part in the regular church program of his congregation and make use of every opportunity to prepare himself for the responsibility of adult church membership.

In addition the candidate is required to write a theme on such topics as: How 4-H has helped me to become interested in better country homes and living; Farming as a Christian vocation; What the church and 4-H club mean to me; or Better living or world understanding. Mary Ann wrote her theme on "What the Church and 4-H club Mean to Me."

Bert K. Johnson, leader of the Kratka 4-H club presented the candidate to Nels Lillejord, Intern pastor at the Trinity Lutheran church of Thief River Falls, who conducted the ceremony. The medal was placed on Mary Ann by her mother, Mrs. Ted Lendobeja.

The design of the God-Home-Country medal combines the symbolic four H's of the club program with the traditional Luther emblem, which was designed by Martin Luther himself in 1528 and is used in Lutheran churches throughout the world. Elements of the Luther emblem which may be seen on the medal include the Cross, the Christian heart, and the rose symbolizing Christ. Thus the complete design is a symbol of those spiritual values emphasized by the 4-H program and nurtured by the Christian church.

Traffic Safety Day Set by Legion Friday

George Kaisersatt, former state American Legion commander today announced American Legion state traffic safety day has been set for Friday, May 29. Kaisersatt, chairman of the Legion's safety committee, pointed out that this is the second such statewide Legion program.

"The theme of the 1959 Slow Down and Live program," Kaisersatt said, "will be 'Can YOU Stop in Time?' Because of the success of this program in 1958, we were asked to begin the summer campaign in Minnesota."

Legionnaires all over Minnesota will be out in full force to help kick off the national program for summer traffic safety. Thief River Falls Legionnaires will pass out safety leaflets to motorists Friday evening at the corner of Third st. and Main. av.

In 1958, on July 3, more than 700 men and women of the Minnesota American Legion distributed over 60,000 safety cards during their two-hour period of activity on the eve of the holiday weekend. This year, each post has been asked to take an active part in its own community. Legionnaires will cover the state giving passing motorists a card reminding them to keep a safe distance from the car ahead.

Sites will usually be busy highway intersections controlled by traffic lights. Uniformed Legionnaires will hand drivers the safety message as each car stops for the light, and will then step back to allow traffic to proceed unimpeded.

64,784 Acres of Wetlands Bought

Land in 65 Counties Purchased for $2,034,000

Some 64,784 acres of valuable wetland areas have been purchased in 65 counties at a total cost of $2,034,183 under the "Save Minnesota's Wetlands Program," reports David Vesall, state game supervisor.

"During the past year the number of active wetland projects have increased by 40%. The program was started in 1951 and to-date is about 25% completed. The primary goal is to acquire 250,000 acres," Vesall stated.

The 1957 Wetland Acquisition Act which placed a $1.00 surcharge for wetland acquisition purposes on the small game hunting licenses, helped materially to finance the program. These funds, plus Federal Aid Pittman-Robertson and game hunting license monies have made available more than $500,000 per year during the past biennium for wetlands acquisition work. "With no sign of abatement in the rapid rate of drainage of surface waters in Minnesota, it is important that the acquisit of wetlands be given continued emphasis," concluded Vessall.

Whether you're building or buying a home . . . let us help you!

Chances are, if you're like most people, the two important things you need to get a home are money for a down payment and a loan to make up the difference. Our association specializes in helping you get both these things. In fact, there's no more ideal place you could go for home financing help. And here's why:

1. We know more about home loans because we make more of them—last year, one out of every three home loans in the U. S. was arranged by associations like ours.

2. You get friendly understanding and attention to detail from our staff which is experienced in home financing.

3. You repay your loan just like rent. A single monthly repayment is usually set up to include principal, interest and property taxes.

4. While you're saving for the down payment, your money earns excellent returns, and is insured up to $10,000 by the Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation, an agency of the U. S. Government.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

When does a baby start to think?

Nobody knows, exactly. But thoughts do come by association. Baby eagerly responds to the sight of a bottle because experience has proven that the bottle offers both satisfaction and comfort.

Because baby does learn by association, it is important that parents take care to enlarge their childrens' horizons as they grow. A very small child will respond to a simple prayer. And a child of three will find great enjoyment in attending Church School geared for youngsters of that age.

Religious instruction and guidance is not for the mature only—it is needed regularly by everyone. The spiritual life of your child needs constant cultivation, just as the mind needs day by day development and the physical body needs exercise and training.

Summary of the School News

With the completion of the school year, the following is a brief summary of some of the events thus far.

In the beginning of the year the enrollment was 89. Since then several families have moved away which left the enrollment at 75. The main highlights of the year were the carnival and Christmas program and the Shrine circus.

The pupils and their teachers attended the operetta at Newfolden Oct. 15 and enjoyed it very much.

Diphtheria shots were given to the children in December.

The boys and girls have enjoyed their skating facilities. The improved conditions inspired the children to use the rink the entire skating season.

During the first part of March the school played basketball with Holt at the Viking gym. The 5-6 grades played the first game and Holt won. The second game played by the 7-8 graders was in favor of Viking.

This spring the school was favored with a movie and talk by Mr. Mansfield of the Mud lake Game Refuge concerning Wildlife and work at the refuge.

In April, Mrs. Walberg of Duluth affiliated with the W.C.T.U. visited the school and presented a film strip and talk on temperance. Use was made of the film strip attachment.

Spring Round Up was held May 6 at the school. Ten out of fifteen pre-school children attended. Games and lunch were enjoyed.

Playday was attended at Holt. The children were entertained by playing softball, baseball, races, relays, etc.

Climaxing the school activities for the year is the school picnic held this week on Thursday.

Thousands of new-car owners were recently asked by a private research organization what they liked and disliked about their cars. (See typical answers below.) The results showed Mercury owners were best satisfied—and by a wide margin.

ALL THIS AND ECONOMY, TOO! 210-HP ENGINE USES REGULAR GAS. "It's like getting every tenth tankful free," say Mercury owners. More than that, every Mercury engine (the industry's newest!) really squeezes extra miles from a tankful of gas. Notice that Mercury beat 19 cars in Mobilgas Economy Run—including Buick, Olds and Pontiac.

"The middle passenger gets a real seat." Mercury cut the center hump in half. You get reasonable foot room and seat cushioning.

"I can step into my Mercury like a lady." Mercury has the widest doors of any car. No need to back, fall or crawl into your seat.

"So much room!" Even the tallest Mercury owners can relax in these seats. Arrow indicates 9 inches extra knee room.

CHEVY GIVES YOU 7 BIG BESTS!

Take it, not from us, but from the published opinions of outside, independent experts and from on-the-record facts and figures: Chevrolet gives you these 7 big bests over any other car in its field!

CHEVROLET

BEST BRAKES
In direct competitive tests of repeated stops from highway speeds, conducted by NASCAR*, Chevy out-stopped both the other leading low-priced cars—and why not: Chevy brakes are far larger, built with bonded linings for up to 66% longer life.
*National Association for Stock Car Advancement and Research

BEST ENGINE
Every motor magazine has given Chevy's standard and Corvette V8's unstinted praise. As SPORTS CARS ILLUSTRATED puts it: "Indeed, this device is surely the most wonderfully responsive engine available today at any price."

BEST ECONOMY
No doubt about this: two Chevrolet Sixes won their class in the famous Mobilgas Economy Run, got the best mileage of any full-size car.

BEST ROOM
Official dimensions reported to A.M.A.‡ make this clear. For example, Chevy front seat hip room is up to 5.7 inches wider than competitive cars.
‡Automobile Manufacturers Association

BEST STYLE
POPULAR SCIENCE magazine sums it up: "The fact is, in its price class the Chevy establishes a new high in daring styling . . ." It's the only car of the leading low-priced three that's unmistakably '59 in every modern line.

BEST TRADE-IN
Check the figures in any official N.A.D.A.† Guide Book. You'll find that Chevy used car prices last year averaged up to $128 higher than comparable models of the "other two."
†National Automobile Dealers Association

BEST RIDE
You'll be able to tell this yourself, instantly. But MOTOR TREND magazine expresses it this way: ". . . the smoothest, most quiet, softest riding car in its price class."

+ PLUS THESE TREMENDOUS TRIFLES
Who'd want to do without Chevrolet's extra luxuries? Like Safety Plate Glass in every window, the protection of full wraparound bumpers, crank-operated ventipanes, the convenience of single-key locking, a real overhead curved windshield, oil-hushed hydraulic valve lifters in every standard engine for quieter running, a bigger luggage compartment with side wall lining . . . and the convenience of automatic choke in every model!

Rain Hamper Memorial Day Services Here

Rites Conducted in Armory; Rev. Marvin Carlson Is Speaker

Thief River Falls citizens paid homage to the war dead Saturday at Memorial Day exercises which, due to drizzly weather, were transferred from Riverside park to the adjoining National Guard Armory. The scheduled procession thru flag-bedecked streets was canceled.

The impressive exercises, conducted by Ormond Johnson, commander of the local American Legion post, opened with the playing of a medley of World War I tunes by the Legion municipal band directed by Alvin Anderson, followed by the advance of the colors, the rendition of "The Star-spangled Banner" by the band; the invocation by Charles Rodekuhr, substituting for the Rev. Keough Patnode; and a song, "God Bless America," by Bryant Ulseth.

The address was delivered by the Rev. Marvin Carlson, pastor of the First Lutheran church. He stated that men need to appreciate the significance of past wars and other historical events in order to profit by them. The sacrifices that were made in order that we might have freedom in America, he said, should never be forgotten.

Pointing out that there is much injustice, sinning and abuse of freedom in the world today, Mr. Carlson said we should so live as to justify the sacrifices made by the war dead.

Mark Larson, Lincoln high school student, read the "Tribute to the Unknown Soldier," after which wreaths were placed on symbolic graves by Mrs Rex Sullivan and Mrs. Clarence Dicken, presidents respectively of the American Legion and VFW auxiliaries.

The exercises closed with the salute to the colors by the National Guard firing squad, followed by the sounding of taps, the benediction and the retirement of the colors.

Three Injured in Pair of Week-end Traffic Mishaps

Four Cars Involved Are Damaged to Extent of over $1,000, Says Patrol

Two week-end traffic accidents, one near the south approaches to the city on U. S. 59 and the other on the outskirts of Middle River, resulted in injuries to three persons and well over $1000 in property damage, Capt. Walter Anderson of the highway patrol office reported today.

The more serious mishap of the two occurred Saturday morning about 15 minutes past midnight when cars driven by Herbert F. LeMire, 26, Minneapolis, and Robert J Anderson, 18, city, collided near Kife's cafe.

LeMire was hospitalized overnight but was released Sunday, having suffered minor head injuries, while a passenger, Richard Langevin, 19, a passenger in the LeMire car was treated and released immediately, as was Anderson.

Damage to the LeMire car was estimated at $600 and the Anderson car was a total loss. LeMire was cited for making an improper turn.

The other mishap occurred about 1:15 p.m. Sunday on the south edge of Middle River on highway 32, when a car driven on 32 by Duane McFarland, city, collided with another vehicle driven by Ole Brenna, Middle River.

According to the highway patrol, Brenna was crossing highway 32 when his car was struck by McFarland. He was cited for failure to yield the right of way. Damage to the car driven by McFarland was estimated at $200, and to Brenna's, $100.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Mold and daughters Barbara and Marie of Minneapolis spent the weekend at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry H. Olson.

Applications Coming in for Plane Course; Equipment Arranged

[illegible]craft power plant technol[illegible] [illegible]reparatory training will be [illegible]ered for the first time in Minnesota by the Thief River Falls area vocational-technical school. The course will be 18 months in length and will start September 8, 1959.

Stan Nelson, director, stated that more than a dozen applications have been received from prospective students.

A metal shop building, 60 by 80 feet in size, is being constructed at the Thief River Falls municipal airport. The major portion of the course will be given in this building, which will enable students to receive practical experience on modern type aircraft. The shop is being equipped to meet specifications prescribed by the Federal Aeronautics Administration.

The technical course has been developed to comply with the standards of instruction set by the federal agency and will permit graduates to become licensed aircraft and powerplant mechanics upon satisfactory completion of the course, which includes the passing of the necessary FAA examinations. The vocational section of the department of education will supervise the course under the provisions of the National Defense Education Act.

All students will be required to pay a fee to cover the cost of consumable supplies, tools and aircraft manuals.

Ada Youth to Receive Choice Brown Swiss Calf Here Dairy Day

A purebred heifer calf from one of the finest Minnesota Brown Swiss herds will be presented to an Ada farm boy at Northwest Dairy Day in Thief River Falls, June 9.

Merle Hasz will receive the calf as his award for showing the Grade Champion animal in the 1958 Northwest Dairy Day show. The calf is intended to help establish a foundation for Merle's purebred Brown Swiss dairy herd.

W. S. Moscrip, eminent dairy cattleman and dairy industry spokesman, purchased the calf on behalf of the Northwest Dairy Day association from Rudy Luedtke and Son, Brown Swiss breeders of Hutchinson, Minn.

The Luedtke herd, on Dairy Herd Improvement Association test for 15 years, has maintained a butterfat production average of more than 400 pounds.

The dam of the prize heifer calf has a record of 528 pounds of butterfat on a 305 day test. She has been judged a grand champion and took second place in the Minnesota State Fair showing.

The calf's sire, Orangeville Gallant's Buster, was grand champion at Ohio and Michigan State Fairs and has produced daughters that have made 746 pounds of butterfat under general farm conditions.

Chester Sylskar, 37, Karlstad construction worker, was killed Wednesday when his head was crushed in a concrete mixing machine.

Sylskar was washing out the mixer after completion of the floor in the basement of a new home in Karlstad when he was believed to have leaned into the machine to inspect it.

A physician called to the scene said Sylskar probably was killed instantly.

He is survived by his wife and three sons, Kenneth, Daniel and Thomas, all at home; three brothers, Toryus, Willard and Melvin, all of Karlstad; three sisters, Mrs. Etalo Becchetl of Minneapolis, Mrs. Vernon Gustafson of Morris, Minn., and Mrs. Ole Koland of Karlstad, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Torkel Sylskar of Karlstad.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Geldaker and Mrs. Henry Storhaug attended the funeral services for Henry Simon at Crookston Saturday afternoon.

Former TRF Truck Driver Has Unusual Mishap in Texas

Big Cargo of Angry Bees Released in Collision with Highway Grader

Dewey Robson, a Roseau truck driver, formerly of Thief River Falls, made headlines in Texas recently when 500 colonies of bees he was bringing back from the Rio Grande valley were released during an accident between his truck and a highway department grader.

According to the report, the grader swerved into the road after hitting a rock and hit the truck spilling its load on the highway.

Robson jumped from his truck and shouted to the grader operator to keep going. "I knew the best thing was to keep going—to get distance between the bees and us,' he said. Both men were stung and Robson received an injured arm in the accident.

Motorists were warned to keep their car windows closed while driving through the mass of infuriated bees. Highway patrolmen tried smoke and tear gas bombs to subdue the bees but that made it harder for them to see and only made the bees angrier. They finally saturated the broken hives with kerosene and set them afire after a cable was tied to the truck to pull it out of the swarming bees.

According to one highway patrolman, "We didn't have to warn anyone to get back from the scene of this accident.'

Senate, House Deadlock Now in Sixth Week

Conferees Unable to Reach Agreement as to Withholding

With the special session of the state legislature now in its sixth week, no progress toward a solution of controversial issues was made, as the deadlock continued between House and Senate conferees continued over the question of withholding state income taxes.

The Senators were willing to grant the administration most of the tax boosts requested. The biggest item is the 30 per cent increase in individual income taxes. But they revolted at granting the withholding system.

They want a thorough-going tax system overhaul with elimination—or at least, easing—of the personal property taxes.

They see little prospect of that in future legislative sessions if the income tax is paid on a week-to-week basis from the paycheck of a wage-earner, rather than a lump sum once or twice a year.

House conferees insisted that before any tax increase is levied the tax chiselers should be caught by way of getting their money at the source — the paycheck. The state will pick up 7 million dollars in two years by such a move, they argued.

The senate boosted its own tax bill—charged by Liberals as being 20 millions dollars light of meeting proposed spending—as a swap for the house for withholding.

Senators suggested raising the cigaret tax to two cents, instead of a penny and the corporation tax jump to 2 per cent instead of 1 per cent.

The house conferees wouldn't agree.

There was some politics on both sides. The Republican-toned senate Conservatives have no desire to do anything that might help Freeman or the DFL-tinted Liberals.

The Liberals figure the income tax withholding system would help them, by easing the tax impact.

The Liberals believe public pressure, and time, is on their side, that the senate Conservatives will be so daubed with the brand "obstructionists" that they eventually will cave in.

304 Pennington Farmers Share in U. S. Wool Program

Incentive Payments to Be Made after July 1, P. W. Culkins Reports

A total of 304 Pennington county wool growers have applied for incentive payments under the national wool program for the 1958 marketing year, according to Patrick W. Culkins of the county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office. The deadline for applications was April 30.

On the basis of wool applications received throughout the country, the national percentage rate of payment will be calculated, and payments will then be made to growers through their county ASC offices. Payments are expected to be made some time after July 1.

Payments will be made at the percentage rate necessary to bring the national average farm price of wool up to 62 cents a pound, which is the anounced incentive level. That percentage will be applied to each grower's marketings to calculate his payment. On unshorn lambs, payment is made at a rate based on the wool rate.

The purpose of this program, Culkins points out, is to increase U.S. production of wool, of which this country produces less than its needs. This is done by means of an incentive payment to growers, which is applied on a percentage basis to encourage growers to do the best possible job of marketing their wool.

Plans Ready for Dairy Day June 9

Number of Calves in Show May Eclipse 1954 Record of 278

Reports from the 11 counties participating in the tenth annual Northwest Dairy Daly, to be held at Thief River Falls next Tuesday, June 9, indicate a near record number of livestock entries. Incomplete reports accounted for 168 boys and girls definitely entered in the competition, and according to Stuart McLeod, president, with favorable weather this total may be increased to match the record of 278 in the 1954 show.

There has been a big increase in the number of animals exhibited since the first show when the total was 156. The average for the past nine shows is 218. The most notable growth however, has been in the quality of the animals entered and in the capacity of ahe boys and girls as showmen, the judges of reecnt years have agreed.

This year's Princess contest will be especially interesting with Northwestern Minnesota's own Diane Schroeder presiding as the state's Princess Kay of the Milky Way. Also present as special guests for the tenth show, will be most of the young ladies who have had the distinction of serving as princesses in the nine previous years. As usual three girls from each of the 11 counties will compete for this year's title.

Other special guests at the tenth annual show, celebrating a decade of progress, will be the grand championship winners of previous shows and many of the officials who were active in the program in various capacities.

The Fertile high school band, under the direction of Waltee Lindberg, has agreed to serve as the Princess Kay Band for the Parade of Champions to be held following the show.

GROWING WITH YOUR CHILD

Institute of Child Welfare
University of Minnesota

Stuttering

Recently I heard a mother say to her husband, "It seems to me as though Steve just can't get the words out as fast as he is thinking. He has so much to say and is so eager to get it across to us. I think he will out-grow it." She was talking about their four-year-old boy who was having a little difficulty trying to speak fluently.

This mother was taking a very sensible view of the situation and by adopting a relaxed attitude, was giving her child the best possible chance to overcome hesitant speech.

At the age of three and four almost every child does some repeating. At this age the child tries to make up longer sentences to express new ideas. So he starts a sentence two or three times but breaks off in the middle, because he is unable to find the right words. Unfortunately this hesitation worries some parents, because they feel their child has started to stutter. This concern may show in their facial expression and in the way they urge the child to "go slow" or "stop and think." Instead of helping the child this may make the problem worse by making him self-conscious about his speech. What the child needs is an easy going atmosphere, free from anxiety and fear.

These repetitions are a normal part of childhood speech and there is no cause for worry unless the defect persists after the pre-school age. Nine out of ten children out-grow it, if the environmental conditions are favorable.

There are certain situations which may make the child stutter more than usual. A youngster who is seriously frightened or very excited is likely to speak with more hesitation and repetition than when he is calm and secure.

It used to be commonly thought that stuttering was related to changes in handedness. Studies show that it is not the change itself but the methods used to make the change that may influence the child. Where the change is accompanied by a good deal of emotional strain and stress, some stuttering may develop.

In very rare cases, stuttering may be due to physical causes. These causes can usually be corrected. A relaxed and accepting atmosphere at home during the pre-school years is a sound preventive measure.

Nancy Snyder Is Graduated Today from Macalester

Nancy Robbins-Snyder, Macalester senior from Thief River Falls, is a candidate for graduation from Macalester college at commencement exercises at 10 a. m., Monday, June 10, in the Macalester Field House. Commencement speaker will be Eugene Black, President, International Bank for Reconstruction and Development, Washington, D.C.

Correction—

An error in Thursday's Times, concerning a Crookston man, listed Leslie R. Halvorson as being fined in municipal court for being drunk and disorderly.

The item should have read, "Leslie R. Halvorson, Crookston, pleaded guilty to disorderly conduct and was fined $25," as there was no drunkenness involved, according to the court clerk.

Halvorson was arrested after a ruckus in a local restaurant and pleaded guilty to the disorderly conduct charge in last Monday's court session.

The Times' court reporter regrets the error.

Two TRF Students Graduating June 7 from N. Dakota 'U'

Ara Peterson and Bruce Bakke Included in 531 Candidates for Degrees

With 531 students listed as candidates for degrees at commencement Sunday, June 7, the total number of graduates from the University of North Dakota the past year will total 865, according to Miss Ruby M. McKenzie, registrar.

Last August, 193 students were awarded degrees while 141 were graduated at January mid-year commencement. The University, which annually graduates more students than any other institution of higher learning in North Dakota, is the only one to hold three commencements per year.

Speaker for commencement exercises at 2 p.m. June 7 will be Alexander G. Budge, Hawaiian business executive and former UND student.

The tentative list of candidates for degrees, subject to satisfactory completion of the current semester; includes from this area:

To Form Air Force Reserve Unit Here

Organization Meeting In Auditorium Tuesday

Former air force men, particularly airmen who have been discharged within the past year or so, are reminded again that M/Sgt. Verne B. Hanson will be in the downstairs assembly room of the city auditorium Tuesday at 8 p.m. CDT to accept applications for membership in a proposed air reserve unit here.

Sgt. Hanson is the liason noncommissioned officer for the 9719th Air Reserve squadron in Fargo. Several flights attached to the squadron are located in northwest Minnesota and eastern North Dakota, and an attempt will be made Tuesday to reform Flight E, which was formerly located here.

The nucleus of a flight already exists in Thief River Falls, as there are approximately eight air reserve officers in the city and trade area, Hanson said he hoped sufficient former enlisted airmen will apply for membership Tuesday to fill personnel requirements for a reserve unit here.

As an additional inducement, airmen who take a reserve specialized training course are offered pay for participation, Hanson said.

TRF Bums Defeat Plummer Here 8-1

Locals to Play Goodridge Here Sunday Afternoon

The Thief River Falls Bums, champions of the Pen-Ro-Shell league, opened defense of their title on Sunday afternoon as they scored an 8 to 1 win over the Plummer Red Sox in a game played on the Fair Grounds diamond.

Next Sunday, in an afternoon game on the Fair Grounds diamond, the Bums will be hosts to the Goodridge nine.

A big five-run outburst in the 4th inning gave the Bums a commanding lead in their tilt with Plummer. The Bums took advantage of some loose defensive play by the Red Sox, plus several bases on balls, and a run-producing double by Jack Poole.

Mickey Hanson and Ralph Thunder shared the pitching duties for the Bums, with Hanson the winner and hurling shutout ball for the six innings that he toiled. Fred Dablow did the catching. For the losing Plummer Red Sox, Jerry Nelson started, being relived by Arnold Casey) Stengel, with LeRoy Westerlund behind the plate.

Erskine Team Edges Thieves Sunday 2-1

Two unearned runs, scored in the 4th inning, gave the Erskine Merchants and Bobby Hallameck a 2 to 1 decision over the Thieves and Gene Leslie in a bitterly-contested Northern Minny league tilt played at Erskine on Sunday night. The win boosted Erskine into first place in the league standings, with the Merchants having a two wins and no losses record.

The game was a duel between a pair of stout-hearted righthanders, with Bob Hallameck giving up but two hits to the Thieves, both by Arlan Hjelle, striking out thirteen batsmen, hitting one batsman, and walking seven. Leslie doled out five hits, struck out eleven batsmen, and didn't issue a walk or hit a batsman.

The game ended on a dramatic note, with the Thieves having the bases loaded, one run across the plate, two out, and Hallameck experiencing a lapse in his control; but the righthander struck out Tom Fritz to retire the side and preserve his 2 to 1 win. In the top half of the 9th, after Marv Mansfield had popped to second base, and Dale Klungness had whiffed, Hallameck doled out four successive walks, giving passes to Gene Leslie, pinch hitter John Drury, Jack Hoppe, and Darryl Rude, with Rude's walk forcing a run across the plate.

The Merchants tallied what proved to be their winning run in the 4th inning. Lead off batter Bob Berger gained a life when his ground ball trickled through shortstop Harley Drees. Dave Sigado banged a ground ball to third base, and when Hjelle heaved a high throw to first base, Berger scooted around to score, and Sigado came around to third base. Ronnie LaChance, the Red Lake Falls "import," sent a ground single into left field, scoring Sigado. LaChance stole second base, but was then picked off the bag on a neat play, Leslie to Mansfield. Earl LaChance and Darrel Sykes were strikeout victims, but Erskine had their two big runs on the score-board.

The Merchants threatened to add to their lead in the 8th inning when Tom Trandby led off with a triple to right field, Jim Christianson lofted a pop fly to first baseman Larry Gilbertson. Erskine, with Roger Bagne at the plate, attempted to "squeeze" Trandby in for a score, by the runner was erased at the plate, Leslie to Hoppe, with catcher Hoppe putting a heavy block into the runner.

The Thieves had an opportunity to enter the scoring column in the 4th inning when they moved Mansfield around to third base with none out. Mansfield walked to open the frame, stole second, and advanced to third when Hallameck's pickoff throw to second was low Hallameck set down Frank Gunderman on strikes; forced Leslie to bounce to first base, and then retired Rod Max, second to first.

Both teams were shorthanded for the games, with the Thieves playing the game without the services of Glenn Carlson and Joe Poole; and Erskine was minus the services of Sherm Oftedahl and Lyle Westrum.

Eldred will play at Thief River Falls next Sunday night, and Erskine will be entertaining Cass Lake.

Keeping Score with "Huck" Olson

We're for the Prowlers

Neutral observers have installed coach Linton Lehrer's Crookston Pirates as slight favorites to make a successful defense of their baseball title in the district tournament that begins play here on Wednesday afternoon. But we aren't neutral on this matter, so we'll stick with the Prowlers to regain the championship they gave up last year after having held the title for six straight years.

There's no arguing the fact that the Pirates are strong and well-balanced, being particularly fortunate in having what can be termed an ambidextrous pitching staff in southpaw Bill Taylor and righthander Jim Turner. And they do boast an undefeated record.

But the Prowlers of coach Ralph Skay have a praiseworthy record, too, having compiled a mark of eleven wins, one tie, and one loss. The one loss was by a 2 to 1 score to the Crookston Pirates, and in that game the locals out-hit the Pirates, five to two. The result of that game could easily have been reversed.

More important that the won-and-lost record, though, is the manner in which the Prowlers have shaken off the bad breaks they have suffered this season. Just before the start of the season the Prowlers lost the services of Phil Hanson and Mickey Hanson, senior veterans who were expected to provide much of the batting punch this year. And just ten days ago, Gary Anderson, a sophomore who was making great strides as a Prowler first baseman, and as an addition to the pitching staff, was forced to give up baseball for the season because of illness.

It is unfortunate, though, that the Crookston Pirates and the Prowlers are forced to meet in a a first round game on Wednesday night. The two clubs are unquestionably the district's strongest, and it is surely an injustice to have them paired in the first round.

This arrangement came about as a result of a decision by the district's baseball coaches, and on a secret ballot, to determine the district tournament pairings by lottery. And this is the way the wheel turned.

The City's High-average Bowlers

The men's bowling association held their annual trophy-awards night and banquet Wednesday evening at the Legion club rooms, and the bowlers who were presented with the high average trophies for their respective leagues were: Del Harbott of the Grain Belt team of the Service league, for his 173-pin average; Gene Leslie of the Ace Hardware team of National league, for 178-pin average; Ken Onken of the Union State Bank team of the American league, for his 167-pin average; Wally DuChamp of the Hamm's Beer team of the Business league, for his 185-pin average; Lloyd Samuelson of the Hartz Wholesale team and Ambrose Wysoski of the Northern Chevrolet team shared the high average in the Commercial league, having 178-pin average; and in the City league, Am Wysoski of the Northern Woodwork posted a 177-pin average.

In addition to Wally DuChamp's 185-pin average, there were a couple of additional 180-pin plus averages posted. Phil LeGault, a member of the runner-up Hamm's team in the Business league, had a 183-pin average; and Jesse DuChamp, also a member of the Hamm's, had an 182-pin average.

Have A Look

A three-game total-pins bowling match was held at the Family Bowl lanes on Saturday. What makes this match newsworthy is that it was for the bowling championship of the American Legion, and the contestants were the American Legion team of the men's Service league and the Legion Auxiliary.

And the result? A 2280 to 2250 win for the Auxiliary, and the ladies had only a modest 65-pin per game handicap.

Here's a recital of the Legion's scoring: Clair Larson, 129-161-133; Milan Borsheim, 165-169-136; Rex Sullivan, 153-179-151; Charles Rodekuhr, 141-112-136; and John Holzinger, 148-170-167. The Legion's game totals were 736-791-723.

For the Auxiliary: Vi Jaranson, 146-147-136; Ade Quam (and her three-game total of 489 was high for the match) 165-177-147; Emma Homme, 114-144-150; Gelene Peltier, 99-118-110; and Joyce Sullivan, 160-146-126. And their actual-pin game totals were 681-732-669.

No Money Problem for State until July 1st, Says Auditor S. King

State Auditor Stafford King said Thursday the state of Minnesota has no financial problem between now and June 30.

He made the statement to set at rest rumors that the state was stopping some payments.

"The Legislature financed the activities of the state for the biennium ending June 30, 1959," he said. "Since we are financed appropriation - wise through that date, we have no immediate problem.

"However, if this Legislature makes no appropriations effective July 1 and provides no tax program to finance them, we will be able to pay old obligations contracted prior to June 30 but no new obligations and no payroll.

In his quarterly report for the period ending March 31, King said the balance in the general revenue fund amounted to $1,594 compared with $6,163,466 a year ago. March 31, however, is frequently a low point for the fund, which sometimes shows a deficit on that date.

The auditor estimated there would be a greater revenue fund balance of 10 to 12 million dollars on June 30 because the occupation tax on iron ore will be collected during the month.

The report also showed the income tax school fund overdrawn by 18 million dollars and that two million dollars in school aid obligations will continue unpaid until the Legislature approves a deficiency appropriation.

The report showed trust funds totaled $298,423,397 on March 31, an increase of about four million dollars during the past year.

Public Opinion

Editor Times:

Ire Pederson, who lives at 109 No. Kendall Ave. can tell us from his own experience what happens on a fast moving passenger train when the engineer suffers a heart attack.

At the time of this incident Mr. Pederson was the fireman on our Soo Line train no. 9 and 10 that runs daily between Winnipeg and Mpls.

It seemed like an everyday trip all the way up from Glenwood until they left Plummer. They were not very far out of Plummer, HI balling along about 55 M.P.H. when Ire sensed something wrong; his engineer had collapsed from a heart attack.

Fireman Pederson took over the controls at once and took the train safely into T.R. Falls and his engineer was rushed to Northwestern hospital for treatment that saved his life.

We firemen, along with the rest of the 'Rails' have been branded as featherbedding, and it has been said the locomotive fireman is no longer needed which is complete falsehood, as you can plainly read from the above.

We intend to fight for these jobs in order to keep our railroads a safe place to work, a safe carrier for public transportation and the most efficient and dependable mode of transportation yet known to man.

Progress in Little Rock

Governor Orval Faubus was the big loser in the Little Rock school election last week. All three of the candidates for the school board that he had openly supported as segregationists were defeated by "moderates."

The result encourages the hope that the South will solve its race problems over a period of time. It will be a gradual process, and it should be, in the best interests of all.

More Piggyback

The Soo Line is expanding its piggyback freight service. The company apparently is satisfied with its experience in its "Rail-Van" between Chicago and the Twin Cities and is now set to haul trailer-trucks on flat cars between the Twin Cities and Duluth.

That is good news for all who are interested in the company's progress, and hereabouts, where the company's payroll is such an important part of the local economy, that progress is particularly important.

Our railroads are making some progress in adjusting to new forms of competition. In the passenger and mail service they have lost much ground and the prospect for recovering lost business in these fields is not bright. But while they have lost much of their less-than-carload freight business, this is being regained to some extent by the piggyback method of shipping, reducing substantially the handling costs.

In the overall freight transportation system our railroads are basic. Reorganization in the interests of efficiency and the elimination of unnecessary duplications of service should be encouraged. Such changes come slowly but the changes are in the making.

Piggyback is a development that is overcoming one of the handicaps under which the railroads have operated in competition with trucks, making possible speedier and more flexible freight service.

Progress—It's Wonderful

(Financial Post, Toronto)

In Toronto recently the International Reading Association wrestled with the question why many children can't read after several years of exposure to education. Part of the answer is easy.

A generation ago, boys and girls of five or six who could read fluently were not at all uncommon.

Denied the benefits of modern pedagogy, these children had been taught by their mothers that there are 26 letters, beginning with A, B and ending with Y, Z; and that these letters, standing for sounds, combine to make words like C-A-T and D-O-G. It's surprising how quickly a bright or even average infant will grasp the idea.

But one of today's systems calls on the child to "recognize" words 'as a whole" without paying attention to component parts. He is supposed to learn "horse," for example, without knowing or observing that the word consists of h, o and other letters.

No wonder there are many children who can't learn to read by this hare-brained method. It's identical with the classical Chinese system—a separate picture for every word in the language—that kept the Chinese more than 90% illiterate for millenniums.

Yet most parents are in a state of abject and idiotic funk when it comes to dealing with the pedagogues on this question. In a syndicated advice column in a daily paper recently there was a letter from a mother who was alarmed because her four-year-old boy had discovered the alphabet and the art of reading on his own. Believing he would damage his brain if he didn't learn at school in the orthodox manner, she wanted to know how to cut his self-education short.

Progress — it's wonderful.

Severe Censure

Minnesota's Supreme Court administered a verbal spanking to Attorney General Miles Lord for misconduct in his references to the court's daylight saving order. The court had ruled that only the governor had the right to establish a daylight saving time schedule and that the action of several county boards ordering fast time for their counties had been improper. In public statements and in advice to the county attorneys the attorney general had stated the Supreme Court order did not apply to counties that had already acted.

Governor Freeman then established a statewide time change and the supreme court ordered the erring county attorneys and the attorney general to appear and explain their conduct. Miles Lord refused to obey the court order, stating that he was an officer of the executive department and that the court's order violated the division of powers principle of government. Governor Faubus Freeman supported him in this questionable position.

The attorney general does have some administrative responsibilities but the office functions primarily as an agency of our courts. Its regular staff is engaged mainly in interpreting laws, giving legal advice to other agencies of the government, including the legislature, and represents the state in court actions. Certainly the attorney general's opinions on the Supreme Court's order on daylight saving could not be justified as an executive function, giving him immunity from court authority.

A Supreme Court reprimand, expressing the unanimous opinion of the members of that tribunal, would be severe punishment for most lawyers. Unfortunately it probably will have no punitive effect on Miles Lord. For him it will mean no loss of prestige, mainly because he had no prestige to lose.

Good Place To Start

President Eisenhower is going to hear a lot about the high cost of operating the White House before the present session of congress ends. The estimated cost for next year is $10.2 million, an increase of $343,630 over this year's figure.

Percentagewise that isn't a big increase, but in terms of dollars it is quite a tidy sum. In view of the fact that the President has been insisting that every agency, bureau, division and department of the government must cut down on spending there might be justification for the suggestion that the White House management committee should set a good example.

In every household, in every business and on every farm there come times when it becomes necessary to reduce spending in order to make both ends meets, and when it must be done it can be done and it is done. The consequences of mismanagement of our own personal affairs are not pleasant.

In the management of our public affairs, however, it is common practice, in facing these situations, to increase the taxes rather than reduce the costs and, worse yet, too often the increased spending is provided for by increased debt.

So we think Ike and Mamie might very properly take another look at that White House budget and check the items of cost just as if they were running their own household and the bills had to be paid out of their own income. A little demonstration of austerity at the top level would be very helpful, we are sure, in encouraging the spirit of thrift down through the ranks.

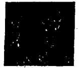
REPORT from the GOVERNOR



by Orville L. Freeman

Minnesota's superb assets in lakes and streams have put us in a leading place not only in water recreation but in the new and expanding industries that are related to the boom in boating. Satistics indicate that water activities have more than doubled in the past ten years.

Fun on the Water

It is estimated that at the end of 1957, 35,000,000 people had enjoyed boating activities throughout the nation. Over 5,000,000 outboard motors were in use, and Minnesota was credited with about 250,000 of this total. Since that time the number has substantially increased.

Responsibility for Safety

With every asset goes a responsibility. Because we in Minnesota have greater opportunity for swimming, fishing, water skiing and other boating activities we must all learn the rules and practices that will help avoid drowning and other water accidents. This is the time of the year when special emphasis must be placed on this aspect of safety.

Drownings in Minnesota

For the past fifteen years Minnesota has averaged over 130 drownings each year. When we recall that most of these occur during the three summer months, and when we realize that our water recreational activities are expanding each year, we recognize that our water safety problem can rival in importance our problem in traffic safety.

Fewer than half of our drownings are due directly to swimming. An analysis of the figures indicate that approximately 40 per cent are due to swimming, 20 per cent are associated with motorboat operation, 2 per cent to other boating, and 19 per cent to child play.

Some accidents are hard to explain. Others are directly attributable to the failure to follow known safety precautions. Boats are overloaded, or carelessly operated. As usual, when an activity reaches such magnitude that more rules are necessary, we seek legislation to provide some of the rules.

Water Safety Legislation

In August, 1957 I called a conference on water safety at the State Capitol at the suggestion of the Minnesota Safety Council to assume leadership in this troublesome area. Subsequently a 21-member state-wide committee studied boat and water safety problems, held more than 20 meetings, and recommended legislation in the field. These recommendations conformed to the provisions of the Federal Boating Act of 1958. They attempted to balance the wishes of groups that might have conflicting ideas, such as those of water skiing and fishing. As a result the Legislature passed the Boat and Water Safety Act of 1959.

The New Regulations

Under the law most boats must now be licensed, and licenses can be obtained from the county auditor or his agent. Boats operating between sunset and sunrise must be equipped with lights, with varying specifications depending upon the size of the boat. The law now requires certain safety measures in water skiing; and it is illegal to overload a boat with passengers beyond safe capacity or to equip it with a motor beyond safe power capacity.

The Commissioner of Conservation will issue regulations and explanations relating to the new law.

Individual Responsibility

Safety here as elsewhere depends mainly on individual responsibility. Owners and operators of boats, by being alert, by watching out for swimmers and others, and observing safety rules, can make our water recreation an even greater asset.

YOUR SENATOR REPORTS

from the Desk of SENATOR HUBERT H. HUMPHREY

Longer life—Thanks to spectacular advances in nutrition, medicine and public health, millions of Americans are living far beyond the biblical three-score and ten. In 1900 only 3 million Americans were over 65. Today there are 14 million! The retirement years, the years of the sixties and seventies, even the eighties, can be golden years—when men and women who have worked hard all their lives can settle down in dignity and peace and security. The great and growing tragedy is that far too many of our people are finding the "golden years" tarnished with sorrow, pain and poverty.

Unique problems—The heart of the problems of our elder citizens is in two areas—ill health and low income. The meager income which a growing number of Americans over 65 must live on just puts out of reach adequate medical care, proper housing, decent clothing—yes, and even the kind of good, nourishing food they need. Two-thirds of all Americans over 65 who are living alone have less than $1000 in cash income each year. And half of the families whose head-of-family is over 65 were getting along on less than $2000 cash income yearly. For the chronically ill, we are desperately short of nursing homes and other long-term facilities to make life easier and more pleasant.

Congressional study — I am pleased that a special subcommitee headed by Senator Pat McNamara of Michigan will undertake hearings this summer on the problems of the aged and aging—including the increasing difficulty relatively young people over 45 are running into in employment opportunities.

New legislation—I have proposed this year four specific measures which I feel would be of great help to our senior citizens:

1. Revisions of the old-age assistance programs (S. 937) to:

a. lower the age requirement for women to 62;

b. raise the permissable monthly income;

c. allow home ownership free of lien (up to $5000);

d. provide uniform treatment of old-age beneficiaries in various states;

e. requirement that names of of recipients be held confidential;

f. permit distribution of surplus food without deductions from aid.

2. Insurance to cover the costs of hospital and nursing home care through the Social Security system, to provide at least four months combined hospital and nursing home care each year. (S. 1151).

3. Permission to OASI social security pensioners to increase their annual earnings from salaries to $1800.

4. Establishment of a food plan to channel more of our food abundance onto the dinner tables of those who are getting along on meager diets — meat, milk, poultry products, fruits and vegetables. (S. 1680). There is no excuse for any American to go without good food. It is a scandal and a shame that in this rich and bountiful country, we permit this to happen.

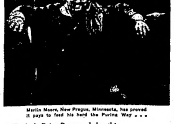
MORE PROOF... it pays to feed PURINA



Merlin Moore, New Prague, Minnesota, has proved it pays to feed his herd the Purina Way . . .

Purina's Dairy Program helps this Minnesota dairyman develop big, strong high producing heifers in 23 months!

There was a time when Merlin Moore, like many dairymen, took 30 months . . . even three years' time to grow heifers from calfhood to first freshening.

"I didn't think it possible to put heifers into the milking string at 23 months," he recalls. "But, I have six good ones in the string now, 23 to 25 months of age. They're big . . . and already they're milking 44-45 lbs. a day!"

Merlin Moore starts his calves on Purina Calf Startena. At four months they're switched to Purina Bulky-Las and oats. Off to a good start, they keep right on growing, are big enough to breed at 14-15 months, and by the time they freshen, they're well grown out, producing like mature cows.

A LOT OF PUPPIES

By F. L. Rowley

When I was ten years old my father said that I could have a bicycle—if I bought it myself. Then he smiled, as if he had made the noblest of concessions. After which he picked up his beer can and headed for Harry's.

For a long time I sat on the front porch wondering what Africa was like. After awhile Willie Smith came along kicking an empty cigar-box. I liked Willie. He owned three rabbits. He said I could have one if any of them had 'pups.'

"Got any baby rabbits yet?" I asked hopefully.

"Nope." He came over to our front stairs. "Rabbits ain't worth very much these days, Charlie," he confided. "If I had a partner I'd go into the guinea pig business. That's where the money is."

I brightened. "Enough money to buy a bicycle?"

"Enough money to buy a million bikes," Willie assured me. "Do you know what an honest to goodness guinea pig sells for? Seventy-five cents, that's what. Suppose you had a pair and they had a hundred puppies—wow!"

"That's a lot of puppies," I agreed.

"That's a lot of money," said Willie.

"But who would buy a hundred guinea pigs?" I asked cautiously.

"Are you kidding? The man at the pet shop says they're going like hot cakes. He said the price might go up to a dollar by next week."

"Let's form a company!" I cried. "I'll buy a guinea pig and you buy one. If they have enough puppies we'll both be able to buy bikes."

It was agreed. Between us we had a dollar and thirty-five cents. The man at the pet shop said he could let us have one good guinea pig and a forlorn little thing with pink eyes that he called an albino. Since I was the junior partner in this transaction the albino fell to me. I named him Albie.

Albie liked the front room. The first day I had him my father floated home from Harry's, took one look at Albie who was perched on his favorite chair, and let out a howl: "This is too much! Fetch the traps, Charlie!"

"It's my new guinea pig," I said proudly.

"Then it belongs in the cellar," said my father. "Who ever heard of keeping a pig in the front room?"

Suddenly Willie's guinea pig, followed by Albie, followed by Mike the cat, dashed through the kitchen and into the front room. Albie, who'd been playing in the cellar all week, was sorely in need of a bath.

Shrieks and moans came from the front of the house. "The beast has red eyes!" screamed one hysterical woman. We heard chairs over-turn, heels clicking through the front hall.

My mother was furious. She stormed into the kitchen. "I've never been so embarrassed in my life!" she cried, glaring at me. "I'll be surprised if any one of those ladies sets foot in this house again. Charlie, you get rid of that beast at once!"

I looked at my father. He had all he could do to keep a straight face. I took a deep breath and said: "I only wanted to raise guinea pigs so I could buy a bicycle. Now I'll never get one."

Then my father spoke and his voice was unusually soft: "The house is no place for pigs, Charlie. Especially for pigs that—that look like something else. You do as your mother says—get rid of this pet—and I'll buy you a bicycle!"

Also there was Mrs. Helmer Christopherson.

FARMING TODAY

by your County Agent

Paul Stelmaschuk

Dairy Feeding

Is green-chopping a good feeding system for Minnesota dairy herds?

On many farms, yes. But to answer that question for your farm depends on a number of things.

Herd size. In general, green-chopping is profitable only for herds of more than 25 cows. And the bigger the herd, the more efficient it is. It takes, on the average, using a power wagon, 7 hours per week to green-chop for 30 head and only one-half hour more for 50 head.

Labor supply. If a farmer is hard-pressed in summer, green-chopping is not for him. But if there's plenty of help around to chop and haul the feed daily, it may be a good bet.

Equipment. Green-chopping calls for a 3-plow tractor, a direct-cut chopper, and, preferably a power-unloading or a self-feeding wagon. The latter cuts time 2½ hours per week.

Buildings and facilities. The barn lot should be paved or else a large lot with shade and water away from the buildings should be used. Feed bunks may be necessary, depending on the system used.

Type of pasture and location. If you have highly-productive legume pasture which you want to harvest as efficiently as possible, green-chopping is something to consider. But it may still pay to graze most hilly, permanent grass pastures. Green-chopping is especially handy if the pasture is far from buildings and water or is across a busy highway or railroad.

Skill. Green-chopping requires careful management.

Some farmers may prefer to graze pastures early in the year and feed from storage or green-chop for the balance of the pasture season. In other words, it's o.k. to keep the feeding systems flexible, in order to meet changes in weather and pasture conditions.

First-cut Hay

Don't put too much stock in the notion that second or third-cut hay is better than what you harvest in June.

If harvested in the early bloom stage, first-cut hay is equal in every respect to second or third-cut forage.

Food value. Recent research in New York state shows that: Legumes cut at late bud or early bloom stage had 57 per cent digestible nutrients and 13.1 per cent digestible protein. This hay was cut between June 6 and 15—and if things go right we will be cutting alfalfa about that time or soon after.

Later cutting. On the other hand, second-cutting legume hay averaged 52 per cent TDN and 12.9 per cent digestible protein. Comparisons in feeding value of non-legume hay showed about the same thing in respect to TDN, but protein content was lower.

Early cuting. The key to higher feed value, is early cutting. As the first crop hay matures, it rapidly drops in TDN, protein and overall palatability. Usually, early-cut forage has a higher proportion of leaves than later cuttings and leaves contain twice or 2½ times as much protein as stems.

Also, early cutting allows the stand to recover sooner, making your chances better of getting a good second and third cutting. Although yield from three cuttings may be only a fourth to a half ton per acre over two cuttings, protein quality in the total yield from three cuttings may be as much as 50 per cent higher.

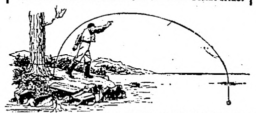
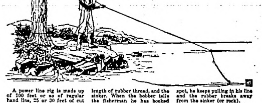
NEW FISHING TECHNIQUE REALLY STRETCHES!



A new form of fishing, inspired by a rubber band, makes it possible for an angler to retrieve his catch and "cast" his line again without moving his sinker.

Called "power line fishing", the fad has been catching on along the Atlantic coast and in the Mid-west. Several firms are expected to market low-priced kits, containing highly stretchable rubber thread made by United States Rubber Co., but most fans have found it simple to assemble their own rigs.

The unusual method of fishing came to light when an official of U.S. Rubber noted that sales of cut rubber thread were unexpectedly booming in New England and in the Mid-west. The thread, called T56 rubber and sold through hobby shops, is ordinarily used for model airplane motors. It developed that fishing fans, not model plane hobbyists, were buying the thread in long lengths.



A power line rig is made up of 100 feet or so of regular hand line, 25 or 30 feet of cut rubber thread, hooks, a bobber (optional), heavy sinker (rock), some swivel connectors.

The hand line leads to the bobber. Then come some more hand line with leaders and hooks, the swivel connector, the length of rubber thread, and the sinker. When the bobber tells the fisherman he has hooked a fish, the line is "stretched" in, with the sinker staying in place. With the fish taken off the hook, the fisherman merely lets go of the line; it whips back into its original spot. When he's ready to leave the spot, he keeps pulling in his line and the rubber breaks away from the sinker (or rock).

Power line fishing is said to be an ideal method for hole fishing in rivers, lakes and bays. The advantage is that if a good fishing spot is found, the line goes back to the exact place each time.

SURPRISE INVITATION

By F. L. Rowley

GEORGE PEABODY was a grouchy old man. He neither denied this fact nor apologized for it. All this, of course, before the widow Simpson came.

Notoriety, however, travels with the speed of sound. The widow Simpson was apprised of George Peabody's bad temper the very day she rented the house.

This disturbed George Peabody. For once in his miserable life he wished to be looked upon as a genial gentleman. The widow Simpson was pretty. There seemed little that he could do to alter the situation—until fate, with the help of Johnnie Wilson, sent the baseball through his front window.

"I'll have the law on you, you young whippersnapper!" cried George, shaking his fist at the boy. Then he paused. This attitude certainly wouldn't soften the widow Simpson's opinion of him.

"I'm sorry, Mr. Peabody," said Johnnie Wilson.

George saw his chance. Although the effort was painful, he forced a smile. "I was only joking, son. Forget the window. You're a brave lad for not running off like the rest of them."

"Yes sir," said Johnnie.

"Before you go will you give me a hand measuring the window? I'll have to order a new pane of glass."

"Yes sir. Will—will I have to pay for it?"

"Not at all. I'll get it for myself—as a birthday present." He lowered his voice to confide: "I'll be sixty years old next Wednesday."

George noted with pleasure that the boy was puzzled; could this be the grouchy old man of whom everyone was afraid?

The next day George was replacing his window when a voice sang out: "Hi ya, Mr. Peabody! Need a hand there?" It was Ned Cooper.

Ned opened the gate and came up the walk. As they applied putty to the window a few minutes later he said: "See you got a new neighbor; charming lady, isn't she?"

"She certainly is!" agreed George warmly.

"My wife tells me she met her at the beauty shop. Didn't talk much though. Seems that Mrs. Simpson was on her way over to the station to meet a Mr. Phillips."

"Oh." He might have known!

On the morning of his birthday George Peabody felt older than usual. He was passing Mrs. Simpson's place when he heard her calling.

"Mr. Peabody where are you going?"

He would have told anyone else to mind his own business. For some reason he decided to lie: "Out of town."

"But you can't do that!" she cried in dismay.

"I can't? And who would stop me?" he challenged.

She looked over her shoulder first, then said in a half-whisper: "It just wouldn't be fair to the boys. Johnnie Wilson and his friends are planning to surprise you with a little birthday party—right after school. I've baked a cake for them—for you—"

She blushed. George felt good. "You baked a cake for me!" he asked wonderingly. "But—but what about Mr. Phillips?"

"What about him? He's only my lawyer. Surely I don't need his permission to give a party for another gentleman, do I? Please say you'll come."

George nodded. He didn't trust his voice. Imagine, a party for him, George Peabody, the meanest man in town.

June is DAIRY MONTH

Dairy cooperatives assure "Triple Dips" for everyone

The evolution of the ice cream cone is an American marvel. First, just a tiny scoop of ice cream perched on top of the cone. Then someone started with a bigger scoop that overflowed the edges. Not too long afterward came the gorgeous double dip. The triple dip seems inevitable.

The bigger and bigger ice cream cone is typical of America's consumption of milk, cream, butter and cheese. These, and all other dairy foods, are available in abundance, and at reasonable prices.

Behind this modern miracle are thousands of dairy cooperatives . . . in processing, manufacturing and distribution. They work together with hundreds of thousands of milk producers who are cooperative members. Like cooperative enterprises everywhere, their goal is to help assure an abundance of goods and services at prices which are fair to the producer and the consumer.

Dairying Industry Is Minnesta's Biggest

The vital role of dairying — Minnesota's biggest single industry — was cited Tuesday, May 26, by Ron Kennedy, vice president of F. H. Peavey & Company of Minneapolis, Minnesota's 1959 Dairy Month chairman.

"Total value of dairy farm production in Minnesota during 1958 exceeded 318 million dollars." Kennedy noted. He said the overall dairy industry involves nearly 400 million dollars a year in this state.

A breakdown of figures for 1958 shows cash receipts from marketing of milk and cream totaled about $277,099,000 (million) and cash from cattle and calve sales amounted to $28,555,000 (million). Another $7,718,000 in milk products was used on Minnesota farms.

"Just how much the dairy industry means to Minnesota and the nation becomes clearer if we realize that 20 per cent of cash receipts from all farm products come from dairying," Kennedy said.

As evidence of the scope of Minnesota's dairy industry, Kennedy pointed to these latest annual production figures: 316,360,000 pounds of butter, 446,111,000 pounds of nonfat dry milk, 63,311,000 pounds of cheese, 17,335,000 gallons of ice cream, 16,090,000 pounds of creamed cottage cheese, 1,738,000 gallons of iced milk and other frozen dairy products, 638,000 gallons of sherbet and 213,000 pounds of evaporated milk.

He noted further that Minnesota's 1958 total milk production was 9,739,000,000 pounds from 1,336,000 cows. In addition to manufactured products, 1,178,256,000 pounds went into fluid milk and cream markets.

Hospital Now Free of Funde Indebtedness

Three Directors Retained at Annual Meeting Monday

Three directors of the Northwestern Hospital Association whose terms had expired were reelected at the annual meeting of the organization at the hospital Monday night. They were Howard Hoel, D. E. Lawrence and F. A. Rinkel.

Highlight of the informal program was the report that the hospital has retired all of its funded debt and is in a strong financial condition. The expansion program that cost well over a million dollars has now been paid in full, local contributions having supplemented the substantial federal grant of Hill-Burton funds and a $200,000 donation by the city of Thief River Falls authorized in a special bond issue election.

In order to pay off the mortgage it was necessary to borrow from a hospital depreciation fund but by borrowing from its own reserves the hospital effected a substantial saving in interest.

Following the officers' reports, Dr. George B. Martin, chief of staff, introduced a program explaining the progress of the recently established vocational rehabilitation service. Frank Harder, physical therapist, discussed the program and illustrated his report with a film showing the extensive equipment that has been provided and the manner in which it is used. This equipment was purchased with the money made available by a Ford Foundation grant.

The rehabilitation service is proving itself and the use of the facilities is steadily increasing, according to Dr. Martin. Most of those receiving treatments are out-patients, he said, and the results have been very encouraging.

Mrs. L. B. Hartz, president, reported on the activities of the ladies auxiliary which now has 105 active members. They have contributed a television set and a hand loom for the rehabilitation section of the hospital and have done much telephoning for bloodbank donors in addition to their other volunteer services.

Richard Jorde Is 1st in State in 4-H Farm Accounting

Son of Clifford Jorde Wins $25 Savings Bond in Farm Record Contest

Richard Jorde, Pennington county 4-H'er, topped all entries in the state in the farm account record contest. The farm record book was kept through 1958, stated county agent Paul Stelmaschuk and a complete livestock inventory, depreciation schedule and household record was entered in the Minnesota Farm Account Book. Jorde was commended by the state office for the excellent, well-kept and complete farm record. He will receive for his award a $25 savings bond.

Farm business requires complete and accurate recording of expenses and income and also recording of inventories, says Stelmaschuk. A detailed record provides information on the various enterprises carried on the farm. Through analysis of records it can be determined what the most profitable enterprise is. The unprofitable or inefficient enterprise can then be dropped or improved. Information such as "return over feed from livestock," returns per acre, work units, and many other items becomes available from farm records and thru farm record analysis.

Other winners in the contest were David Sanders, Freeborn county, second place, $10 award; and a $5 award to each of the following: Robert Sutherland, Dodge county, third; Joan Hildebrandt, Rice county, fourth; and Dennis Breamer, Freeborn county, fifth.

Richard Jorde is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Jorde, who farm six miles north of Thief River Falls.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Smith and daughter, Dianne, of Anoka spent the weekend at the Theo Jensen and R. F. Smith homes.

Penalty Rate on Excess Wheat Is Cited by Culkins

Market Quota Penalty Rate Annouced as $1.07 Per Bushel on 1959 Crop

The marketing quota penalty rate on excess wheat of the 1959 crop has been announced as $1.07 per bushel, aPtrick W. Culkins of the county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office announced today. As directed by law, the rate was set at 45 per cent of the wheat parity price as of May 1.

Under the wheat marketing quota program, Mr. Culkins explains, a farmer who does not comply with his farm wheat acreage allotment is subject to a penalty on the farm marketing excess, except that a farmer who harvests 15 acres or less of wheat is not subject to quota penalties.

A farmer who has excess wheat acreage planted may avoid the marketing penalty by adjusting his acreage to the farm allotment before an announced date or by storing his excess wheat under bond or delivering it to the Secretary of Agriculture.

Cancer Fund Falls $190 Short of Goal in Pennington Co.

$1,560 Was Turned In, Mrs. Ormond Johnson, Campaign Chairman, Reported Today

Mrs. Ormond Johnson, county volunteer chairman for the American Cancer society, announced today that the Cancer Crusade fund drive is now officially ended. A total of $1,156 has been raised since the first of April, falling $190 short of the goal designated for Pennington county.

Mrs. Johnson expressed concern that this year's receipts were lower than those obtained last year, when Pennington county exceeded its quota by 10 per cent.

Of the total collected, more than $600 was from the townships with only two left to turn in their reports. This represents a marked increase over the amount collected in rural areas last year.

The city total, on the other hand, was considerably lower than the amounts contributed last year, according to Mrs. Johnson.

Persons who did not contribute because they expected a business drive are urged to send their contributions to the American Cancer Society in care of their local postoffice or to Mrs. Ormond Johnson at 321 W. Second st., in Thief River Falls.

280 Calves Due at Dairy Day June 9

30 Candidates for Dairy Princess Also Will Compete

Fully 280 purebred and high grade dairy calves will vie for grand championship honors in their respective divisions, and 30 attractive young ladies will compete for the title of Region 1 Dairy Princess at the tenth annual Northwest Dairy Day in Thief River Falls next Tuesday, June 9, it was announced today by Stuart McLeod, president of the Northwest Dairy Improvement association, the sponsoring agency.

On hand for the occasion will be Emcee Lew Conlon, manager of the Minnesota dairy industry committee and originator of Dairy Day; and Diane Schroeder of Rindal, Polk county, who last year won the princess crown here and went on to win the state title of Princess Kay of the Milky Way, in which capacity she has made countless appearances throughout Minnesota and in adjoining states.

Also present for the tenth anniversary will be at least seven of the nine past dairy princesses. They will be guests of honor at a banquet Tuesday evening at 6:30 in St. Bernard's church parlors, along with other invited guests, including past exhibitors of grand champion calves, financial supporters of Dairy Day and county agents and home agents.

The day's activities will be centered on Second st. north of the city Auditorium and arena. Registration of calves will get under way at 7:30 a.m., with judging to start at 10:30 and continuing until the early afternoon. The showmanship contest will be held at 3:45 p.m., followed at 4 o'clock by the award of prizes to the calf exhibitors.

The princess coronation ceremony will be conducted at 4:30 by Lew Conlon and Princess Kay, after which the parade of champions will proceed through the downtown streets at 5 o'clock.

While a half-dozen principal breeds of calves are represented in the 1959 show entries, the Holstein breed has provided the largest list of entries, there being 105 in Class I, of which 46 are first-time exhibitors; and 60 in Class II.

House, Senate Tax Conferees Re-shuffled

Pick 4 New Members In Effort to Solve Withholding Issue

Each side named two new members Tuesday to a 10-man tax conference committee for a new try at solving the tax problem which has kept the Minnesota legislature in special session for more than five weeks.

The new members were named after a day of bitter debate in both House and Senate, principally over withholding, the issue which brought about the deadlock.

Named for the Senate were Sen. John Richardson, 61, St. Cloud real estate and insurance man, and Sen. E. J. Anderson, Frost, 55-year-old farmer. They replace Sen. Thomas Welch of Buffalo and Sen. Joseph Vadheim of Tyler.

New House conferees are Rep. Burnett J. Bergeson, 44, Twin Valley farmer, and Rep. Alvin Hofstad, 53, Madison farmer. They take the places of Reps. B. M. Wichterman of Plummer and Edmund Tiemann of Sauk Centre.

There was nothing to indicate the replacements would change the relative positions of the House for and the Senate against withholding.

Continuing on the conference committee are Sens. John Zwach of Walnut Grove, J. R. Keller of Winona and Donald Wright of Minneapolis, and Reps. Fred Cina of Aurora, D. D. Wozniak of St. Paul and E. J. Chilgren of Littlefork, speaker of the House.

Ask New Bids on Job Near Grygla

The Minnesota highway department is asking for bids on an estimated $362,000 of county road construction. Included is a project in Beltrami county on CSAH's 1 and 54; grading and gravel surfacing of five miles northerly from a point 5¼ miles north of Grygla. Bids will be received June 23 at Bemidji by County Auditor A. D. Johnson. Previous bids on the project have been rejected.

County Board Seeks Bids for Gravel and Fuel Oil for the Year

At its regular June meeting Tuesday, the Pennington county board, after considerable discussion, decided in favor of the dissolution of common school district 1557 and its attachment to independent school district 445 in Marshall county.

District 1557 in extreme northwest Pennington county will be dissolved and the area attached to that of the Viking school.

The board authorized the county auditor to advertise for bids for fuel oil for county use during the year beginning July 1. Bids will be opened at 1:30 p. m. July 13. The county engineer and auditor were authorized to call for bids for gravel to be used on county and state aid roads, the bids to be opened July 13 at 2 p. m.

Representatives from Kittson, Roseau, Lake of the Woods, Marshall, Pennington and Red Lakes counties will meet at the Pennington county courthouse June 23 at 1:30 p. m. to discuss the possibility of employing a probation officer for the six counties as has been made necessary by a change in the state law.

Improvement of the Bray township road between sections 14 and 23 will be aided by the use of a county road patrol, when it is available. The commissioners approved the aid after a delegation of the board of the town of Bray requested the work. The road will remain in the township system.

In final action, the board set minimum wage rates on federal aid secondary road contracts in order to qualify for aid on road projects.

DISTRICT 4-H WEEK Forty Pennington county 4-H members loaded their luggage and boarded a chartered bus Wednesday afternoon, June 3, bound for Crookston where they are attending District 4-H club week June 3-5. The meeting, held at the Northwest school of agriculture, will give members an opportunity to get information about their projects. Classes will be held in agriculture, home economics, crafts and planned recreation.

Rodekuhr Installed as Commander Tuesday to Succeed Ormond Johnson

The regular meeting of the Ecklund Holmstrom post of the American Legion was held Tuesday evening in the club rooms. The principal business was the installation of new officers and the naming of convention delegis.

Installed were Charles Rodekuhr as commander, Elsworth Jorgenson, adjutant; Jim Smillie, first vice commander; and Claire Larson, Milo Gulbranson and Milan Borshiem, second, third and fourth vice commanders. Commander Rodekuhr then announced standing committee appointments, including Rex Sullivan as service officer and John Eisbrener as child welfare officer.

Retiring Commander Ormond Johnson gave a resume of the year's activities and made several special awards. An award of Legion jewelery was made to each officer of the past year and three special awards were given. Receiving the commander's citation for meritorious service to the American Legion were Don Josselyn as fourth vice commander in charge of post activities; Verne Quam, bookkeeper for the Legion house and post committees; and Kermit Eastman, par. adjutant.

All new officers were named as delegates to the Ninth district Legion convention to be held June 19 & 20 at Mahnomen. Plans were made for promoting the election of Harold M. Johnson, proposed by the local post as candidate for ninth district commander.

Barzen Reelected Park Board Head

Roy M. Barzen, for more than 20 years president of the Thief River Falls park board, was reelected to that post at the board's annual reorganization meeting Monday evening.

Also retained were Lawrence Bjorkman, vice president; and Arthur Christianson, secretary. Other members are B. I. Froiland and Frank Bond, with Oscar Bakke as superintendent.

Barzen stated that work is now in progress on a long-awaited project in the form of modern toilet facilities in Riverside park. He added that the board plans to install a wading pool in the park this summer.

Considerable work also has been done in leveling the banks in the west portion of Tindolph park.

Other officers elected were Robert A. Peterson of Crookston, vice president, and Thomas Reiersgord of Hallock, secretary. L. A. Wilson of Mahnomen was named as the delegate to the state bar association in Minneapolis this month.

The association voted to retain its present identity of seven northwest counties rather than to combine with the 15th district. The 14th and 15th districts have been combined by the legislature into a new judicial district.

Speaker for the occasion was Winston E. Munson of Minneapolis, who discussed business organizations and corporations. Special guest for the meeting was Thomas Meyers, executive secretary of the state bar association.

Fertilizer Plots on Martin Hanson Farm Open for Inspection

The Martin Hanson farm, four miles east of Thief River Falls is again the site of experimental fertilizer plots, county agent Paul Stelmaschuk stated today. The plots are now ready for observation by area farmers. Different responses to varied analysis and rate application can be seen in the height and color of the grain.

The plot is on a sandy loam soil which is classified as a Rockwell soil and is common in the county. The study is being conducted through the cooperation of the county extension service and the University of Minnesot, with Fred Heck, Warren, and Curtis Clint of Ada, both soil conservation agents, assisting with the plots.

The plots in the east two-thirds of the trial will measure the response to phosphate, with both fall and spring applications being tried. Also, nitrogen and potash have been added so that these two elements don't limit the possible yield increase which phosphate applications may give.

The west one-third of the trial will measure yield responses to nitrogen, phosphorus and potassium and combinations of these elements.

The plots will be harvested and yield responses ascertained in the fall.

Farmers are encouraged to stop and view the plots. Careful attention over the summer months will give some indication what kinds and amounts of fertilizer are doing best. The fertilizer plots this year are on barley.

Times Reporter Recalls Normandy Invasion Just 15 Years Ago June 6th

By V. M. Draper

Ask the average high school graduate, class of '59, what happened 15 years ago Saturday and you'll probably get a blank stare—and the same question put to the 1959 college grad would probably draw the same reaction.

The date was June 6, 1944, and the things uppermost in people's minds then weren't new cars, paying off the mortgage or the latest beachwear, but to get the war over with as quickly as possible.

Those who got telegrams—over 2100 families in America—remember, "We regret to inform you. . ." the telegrams began.

For June 6, 1944, saw the largest invasion in history mounted against an enemy who had had four years to dig in and fortify his position. That invasion, called "Operation Overlord" in Supreme Headquarters, Allied Expeditionary Force, dwarfed any military operation that ever took place under Xerxes, Alexander the Great, Caesar or Genghis Khan.

You can't blame today's high school and college grads for not grasping the scope, the magnitude, of that invasion — their instructors themselves probably don't realize the significance of that day's happenings either. The international bickering and "brush-fire" wars since 1945 have pushed this historical event far into the background

Historians will, of course put the day down as one to be remembered in the annals of time, and just as Gettysburg has been studied and re-studied almost a century after the battle was fought, so will students of history study and analyze the Normandy invasion a hundred years hence if the world survives the nuclear age.

For two weeks or more before the invasion the loading and other intensified preparations had been under way at ports and airfields all over England. Men were restricted to their bases, no mail went out and day after day the briefings went on. Every minute detail was studied.

The weather soured the first few days of June and a storm raged over the Channel June 5, the day set for the big show. There was a chance it would clear up the following day and the decision of whether to carry on June 6 was up to Dwight D. Eisenhower, alone, to make. In his hands rested the fate of men—and of nations.

Conditions late June 5 appeared poor but were improving, so Eisenhower "blew the whistle" and the show was on, despite misgivings in high places and predictions of terrible attrition against the invading forces even if they got across.

Before midnight the first planeloads of paratroopers began taking off and as their planes returned to England glider trains headed out over the Channel. At the same time, light and medium bomber crews all over England were learning for the first time that their missions that day would be targets along the invasion beaches—fortifications, gun emplacements, troop concentrations.

A rough sea was running when the first boats headed for the beaches with their loads of men honed to a keen edge for this very minute's work. Some boats made the beaches without encountering a great deal of fire. On other beaches, before other defenders, the waters were strewn with the carnage of the invaders.

As General Bernard L. Montgomery said, "Nothing must stop them. Nothing!" and nothing did stop them. Men died but others kept advancing into everything the heavily-fortified Germans could throw at them. Men dug into the beaches with their bare hands so that blood ran from their fingertips—but they stayed, fought, died and triumphed in the end.

In late July the Allied forces broke out of the Normandy Peninsula and the European war ended exactly 11 months later.

Other great battles, another war, have been fought since that day and we hear as much about Pork Chop ridge as we did about the Normandy Invasion. It is sad that an evil little man bargained in bad faith against men of good faith at Yalta and Potsdam.

And even today at Geneva this same mustachioed villain's successors are bargaining in the same manner as Stalin. We defeated a ruthless enemy only to find we had befriended another even more brutal than Hitler's Nazis.

So much more brutal, in fact, it almost seems the blood that ran red on the Normandy beaches June 6, 1944, was spilled in vain.

Mercury Hits 83 Here Wednesday

Tindolph Swimming Pool Popular Place This Week

Partly cloudy weather through tomorrow with scattered thundershowers have been predicted by the KTRF weather station with little change in temperature today.

The high temperature expected today will be from 80 to 90 degrees which, coupled with the .09 inch of rainfall which fell last night, promises to make the day muggy. The low tonight is expected to be from 55 to 65. Cooler temperatures are predicted for tonight and tomorrow.

June opened with warm daytime temperatures which sent swimmers to Tindolph park beach before equipment had been completely installed. Monday, the high was 75; Tuesday, the mercury rose to 79, and Wednesday, it climbed another four degrees to 83. The coolest night time temperature was 41 Sunday and the warmest was last night's 61.

For comparison, here is a summary of June, 1958: "Cool temperatures prevailed day and night. Highs were seldom above 75 and lows ranged from 31 to 54. The high temperature of the month was 90 on the 28th and the low was 31 on the 12th and 13th. The total precipitation for June was 2.65 inches."

Rotary Club Hears of Rehabilitation Work at Hospital

Dr. Dan Greene, Norman Peterson and F. Harger Address Group Monday

A report on the activities of the rehabilitation service of Northwestern hospital was the feature of the Monday luncheon meeting of the Rotary club.

Dr. Dan E. Greene introduced Norman Peterson, hospital administrator, who gave a brief history of the service which was started Sept. 2, 1958. Eighteen beds are now maintained, according to Peterson, and 49 persons have been rehabilitated. 90 outpatients have been treated and other non-rehabilitation patients have also used the service. He told of the start of the service with the securing of a physical therapist and equipment, and the screening and training of nurses.

Frank Harger, physical therapist, gave a commentary while he described equipment being used and the types of injuries and infirmities which have made the rehabilitation work necessary.

In conclusion, Dr. Greene further explained the reason for the use of various electronic and mechanical devices in rehabilitation work.

Patients spend an average of five weeks in the rehabilitation section of the hospital, it was announced, and very encouraging results have been obtained for victims of injuries, stroke, heart attacks and other afflictions.

The trophy awarded to the Rotary bowling team was presented to the organization by E. B. Benson, captain of the team. Stan Peterson gave his qualification talk.

Ask Girls to Enter 'Make It with Wool' Sewing Contest

$45,000 Prizes Offered, Says Mrs. Frank Hinze, Pennington Co. Director

Teenagers who are wondering how to keep occupied during the long summer vacation have a ready-made solution in the "Make It Yourself With Wool" contest.

Mrs. Frank Heinze of rt. 3, city, Pennington county director for the contest, says a topnotch way of filling summer leisure hours is to plan and begin creating next fall's wool wardrobe. Any of the garments can be used to enter the wool sewing contest she says. Mrs. Heinze has entry forms which she will gladly send to any who write her.

The contest, which is open to girls 13 and older, offers prizes totaling $45,000. Contestants compete in one of four division: Sub-Deb, for girls 13 to 16; Junior, for girls between the ages of 14 and 17; Senior, for girls 18 to 22; and Adult, for women over 22. The Sub-Deb division will have greater emphasis this year and girls in this division will receive a larger number of prizes than ever before. Girls in the junior, senior and adult divisions must enter a suit, coat dress or ensemble made of 100% wool. Girls in the sub-deb division can enter either a wool skirt or a wool jumper.

The purpose of the contest, which is sponsored by the Minnesota Wool Growers association, and endorsed by the National Association of Secondary School Principals of the National Education Association, is to encourage the developmennt of sewing skills and to show young girls and women how easy it is to sew with wool.

Prowlers & Goodridge Meet in Dist. 31 Semis

The Alvarado Indians vs. Climax Vikings at 6:15 P.M.; and the Goodridge Huskies vs. Thief River Falls Prowlers at 8:15 p.m. will be the semi-final games on tap this evening in the 31st district high school baseball tournament being played on the Fair Grounds diamond.

In first round games on Wednesday; Alvarado, by a lop-sided 18 to 7 margin, eliminated in the Plummer Cardinals; the Climax Vikings sidelined the Oslo Bobcats, 8 to 1; the Goodridge Huskies, with a two-run rally in the last half of the 7th inning, edged out the Warren Ponies, 11 to 10; and in dramatic extra-innig tilt, the Prowlers, overcoming a five run deficit, dethroned the defending district champon Crookston Pirates, winning by a 6 to 5 score

As if the game between the Pirates and the Prowlers wasn't exciting enough, the elements entered into the fray, with the game being halted several times by rain showers, and the cheers of the fans being muffled by the rumbling of thunder, and lightning flashing through the light standards to provide additional fireworks.

In the game-winning last half of the 8th inning, Jerry Jorgenson led off with a walk off southpaw Bill Taylor, who had replaced Crookston starter Jim Turner in the 6th inning; a passed ball moved Jorgenson to second base; Gary Klungness drew a walk; Jim Wegge, who poled out two hits, banged a single to left field, but Jorgenson held up at third as Turner made a fine throw to the plate. With the bases crammed, sharp-eyed Eddie Lietzow drew a walk, forcing in Jorgenson with the game-winning run.

The Pirates picked up a pair of runs in the 1st inning on infield hits by Jack Boyum and Curt Hannah and a double to fence in left-center by Jim Turner. Crookston moved into a commanding 5 to 0 lead in the 3rd inning when they added a three-run cluster. Rog McWaters gained a life on an error; Hannah whiffed; Bill Taylor walked; Turner bounced a double over the third-base sack, scoring McWaters; and infield out plated Taylor; and Turner scored on Bruce Gronbeck's sharp single to left field.

The never-say-die Prowlers dented the scoring column in the 5th inning when Wegge opened with a single through the slot into center-field; Lietzow lifted a pop to shortstop; but Arlan Hjelle, who had taken over the Prowler pitching duties in the 3rd inning, banged a single into the at shortstop, with Wegge stopping at second. Harley Drees laced out a double to right-center, scoring Wegge and Hjelle. Paul Saurdiff and Gary Anderson grounded out to the Pirate infield, ending the rally.

The Prowlers knotted the game in the last half of the 6th inning when Gene Weckwerth led off with a double to left field; Jorgenson was safe when the Pirate shortstop booted a ground ball, with Weckwerth moving to third base; Gary Klungness was safe at first, and Weckwerth scored, when Boyum fumbled a ground ball. With Jorgenson on third and Klungness on second, Taylor was brought in from left field to take over the hurling chore for Crookston. Wegge lifted a foul pop to the catcher; Lietzow bounced to shortstop, and was out, short to first, with Jorgenson scoring. Hjelle spanked a single into left field scoring Klungness with the tying run.

The Pirates made a desperate bid to score in the top of the 8th inning when Taylor drew a walk and Turner hit a ground single to left field. Taylor stole third, but with Pirates on first and third, Hjelle set down Art Oliver, Bruce Gronbeck, and Bob Irwin on strikes.

And then the Prowlers had their game-winning last half of the 8th inning.

All Watercraft in State Must Be Licensed July 1

County Auditor Rodekuhr Reports Licenses Will be Available Shortly

George A. Selke, state conservation commissioner, announced Monday the first of approximately 400,000 new boat and watercraft licenses have been sent to county auditors in Minnesota and will be available from the auditors and other designated agents on receipts.

According to the new boating law passed by the 1959 legislature all watercraft operating in state waters must be licensed by July 1. The licenses will be good until the end of 1960, after which each license must be renewed for each calendar year.

Cost of the new license is 75c for boats 16 ft. and under, with an additional 25c for each foot in length over that.

When queried as to when the licenses would go on sale in Pennington county, County Auditor Charles Rodekuhr said he has received some of the licenses but that, at present, considerable confusion exists concerning the matter.

However, he said he expects the sale procedure to be clarified by the conservation dept. so that sale of the new licenses can begin by June 10. He also asked that until the matter of selling the licenses is cleared up no one need apply for a license, saying that they will be on sale in plenty of time to meet the July 1 deadline.

Rodekuhr said he would announce the date the licenses go on sale at the courthouse and other places in the city.

Eldred at Thief River Falls (night)
Cass Lake at Erskine (night)

In the three games played in the Northern Minny league on Sunday, the home teams proved inhospitable hosts as they scored triumphs over the visitors.

In a nip-and-tuck game played at Erskine on Sunday night, the Merchants, behind Bob Hallameck's two-hit pitching edged out the Thief River Falls, 2 to 1. The game developed into right-handed duel between Hallameck and the Thieves' Gene Leslie. Hallameck whiffed thirteen, walked seven, four in a row in the 9th inning, and hit one batsman; while Leslie struck out eleven, gave up five hits, and didn't issue a walk.

Bagley's Bruce Lindell also turned in a first-rate pitching performance as he shut out the Winger Tigers, 11 to 0, giving up but one hit.

Fosston, with Gary Carlin and Stan Otness sharing the pitching duties, defeated Eldred, 5 to 3. Southpaw Tom Fenno hurled creditable ball for losers, striking out thirteen Fosston batsmen.

Next Sunday's schedule will find the Cass Lake team, the league's second place club, meeting the league-leading Erskine Merchants in a night game at Erskine. It is probable that Cass Lake will have the services of their nifty southpaw, Jerry Daniels, for Sunday's tilt.

Eldred will travel to Thief River Falls for a night game; and Fosston will play the Winger Tigers at Winger in an afternoon game. The Bagley Merchants have an open date.

Not Frightening

The city league champion, and playoff champion, Bjorkman's Toggery softball team opened their 1959 campaign on Tuesday evening by scoring a 10 to 6 win over the Sportsman's Store. The game was played on the East Side diamond, where all of the softball games are slated to be played

But the Bjorkman's, in opening play with a win, didn't appear very impressive. A capsule description of the squad would be "as they grow older they do not get any younger." For instance, here's the outfield that manager Mukkett Collins sent on the field to open the game: left field, Phil LeGault; center field, Roger Tunberg; and right field, Spanky Sullivan. And they are all nearing the forty mark. Waist measurements, we mean.

In the 6th inning, the Sportsman's Store' Jimmy Erickson connected with one of Milt Reierson's change-up pitches, and drove a home run into center field. And you should have seen the Spanky Sullivan to Phil LeGault relay on the hit! Spanky chased down the ball and surrounded it, and then, on his throw in to LeGault, he hit a guy-wire. The play nearly brought tears to the eyes of veteran observers!

But the Bjorkman's have the pitching of Reierson, and the astute management of Collins, and those two "boys" will offset much lose play by the rest of the team. Collins' presence in the first-base coacher's box is worth two or three runs per game. And we don't mean for the other team!

Corky to the Rox.

Arvid Johnson of Bemidji, father of baseball bonus player Clark (Corky) Johnson, was in town with his roofing company this week, and he told us that Corky was to join the St. Cloud Rox of the Northern league this week.

Corky, who signed a contract with the St. Francisco Giants organization for a $20,000 bonus, hasn't seen much action this season. He was with the Corpus Christi team of the Texas league during spring training, and then was shipped to the Springfield, Mass., team of the Eastern league.

For the past three weeks, Corky has been with the Springfield club, but during that time he has only been called on for some relief duty. And it hasn't been much relief work, either, for he has "worked" only five or six innings.

Corky, who has always had "control" trouble, asked to be "sent down" to the St. Cloud Rox. He hopes to be given an opportunity to get his arm in shape down there.

A Bingo Week-end

From the anglers viewpoint, and especially those fishermen fortunate enough to be on Lake of the Woods waters, the Memorial Day week-end produced exceptional results. According to the reports we have received, and we have sifted these reports carefully, the limits were easy to come by, particularly on Saturday afternoon.

Joe Larson is credited with bringing in the largest walleye, catching a ten-pounder on Saturday. Joe, fishing with Duane Hanson, hooked the walleye at its entrance into Lake of the Woods, just off the navigation blinker on Curry's island.

A couple of other fine walleyes were brought in by local anglers, to, both being six-pound plus fish. Mrs. Everett (Lois) Amundgaard, using spinning gear, was forced to "play" her fish for fifteen or twenty minutes before it was brought to net. And Roy Shetler, the old veteran, also came in with a six-pounder. Both of these fish were taken in the Wheeler's Point area of Lake of the Woods.

And it wasn't only Lake of the Woods that provided the walleyes, for we hear that John Jaranson and Jesse DuChamp caught their walleyed pike limits fishing the Blackduck river on Saturday. It is reported that John was troubled somewhat by the fact that his three-horse motor was taking a bit more gas than usual. He watches that pretty carefully.

The Grygla team, taking advantage of numerous miscues by the Badger club, scored a 13 to 7 victory on Sunday, and will travel to Plummer for a game against the Red Sox on Sunday afternoon.

The two Roseau county teams, Greenbush and Badger, will engage in their traditional game on Sunday, with Greenbush playing at Badger.

A good rule of the thumb in selecting a boat trailer, is to total the weight of the boat, motor and other equipment usually carried in the boat. If the trailer's capacity is within 100 lbs. of the total, get a larger trailer.

Goodridge Huskies Bow to Prowlers 14-7

Coach Ralph Skay's baseball Prowlers closed out their 1959 schedule on Monday night by scoring a 14 to 7 win over coach Julian Gasperlin's Goodridge Huskies. The game, which was played on the Fair Grounds diamond, was a rescheduling of the season-opening game which was postponed because of cold weather.

The Prowlers racked up an early lead on Monday night, getting four runs in the 1st inning, and adding ten runs in the 2nd inning. The Huskies were without the services of their first-line hurlers, and Gary Sorenson was called on to do the pitching for the Huskies. With a commanding lead, coach Skay entered into a lend-lease agreement with the Huskies, allowing Goodridge to use Prowler righthander Arlan Hjelle on the mound. Hjelle, in the four innings that he toiled for the Huskies, held the Prowlers run-less and hit-less.

The Prowlers were bolstered by return of Gary Anderson to the lineup. Anderson, who has been sidelined for three weeks because of illness, played first base for the locals and contributed a bases-loaded double.

The win boosted the Prowlers' season record to 12 wins, one tie, and one loss in scheduled play.

1958 Pheasant Hunt Termed Best to Date

True to his prediction last summer that the 1958 pheasant hunting season would be one of the best on record, Dr. Stanley Harris, state wildlife scientist, today reported that hunters killed 1,562,000 pheasants last fall, for an "all time high."

This record kill virtually doubled the 1957 harvest of 775,600 birds. Only in 1941 and 1942 when hen pheasants were allowed in the bag, was this record reportedly topped.

The work of Dr. Harris and his colleagues last summer indicated that a bumper crop of birds would be on hand when the 30-day season began on October 18.

"The 30-day season worked out very well," explained Dr. Harris, "and this past winter's sex ratio of 3 cocks per hen indicates a good carry over — more than ample to assure opportunity for successful reproduction this spring. We could have taken more cocks, for even in the heavily hunted prime range, the sex ratio appears to be about one cock per 3.6 hens. When you consider that even a ratio of 1.8 would not seriously affect reproduction, you can readily see we have a surplus of cock birds."

Other aspects of Dr. Harris' work reveals that a "population explosion" may be in progress in the northern marginal range. Data collected throughout this range all points to a general buildup in birds. Similar reports on a growing pheasant population come from states like South Dakota and others in the nation's pheasant range.

Dr. Harris points out that "under Minnesota conditions of harvest and hunting pressure, a 30-day season could be considered as a standard minimum length. About 90 per cent of the kill occurred during the first 16 days of the season. The remaining 14 days provided thousands of hours of additional recreation and 10 per cent of the kill. Now 10 per cent doesn't seem like much, but when you deal in a million birds, it amounts to some 150,000 or so birds. These 150,000 birds come to 300,000 pounds (150 tons) of dressed game."

TWO LOCAL MARINES IN CALIFORNIA EXERCISES

Marines Cpl. Gerald D. Hunt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon S. Hunt of rt. 1, Thief River Falls, and Pfc. James P. Breznay, son of Mr. and Mrs. Pete Breznay of this city took part in Operation "Twin Peaks" on California's southern coast from May 17 to June 2, with Marines from the First Marine division at Camp Pendleton, Calif. The maneuver was the most extensive air-ground landing exercise to be conducted on the southern California coast since 1957.

ICE STAR Jan Van Ormer, from Amsterdam, Holland, will be co-starred with Ed and Wilma Leary in "Adventures on Ice," the gala ice show extravaganza appearing here in person at the Pennington county fairgrounds, June 16 and 17 at 9 p.m. Previous to World War II, and the Nazi invasion of the Netherlands, Van Ormer was recognized as one of the top stars of European music halls. Following hostilities, Van Ormer was once again free to return to his first loves, skating and theatre, appearing in the biggest theatres and arenas of Europe with his own troupe.

Ed and Wilma Leary, producers of "Adventures on Ice," invited him to join their company two seasons ago, and he has been one of their front line stars ever since.

Be on Lookout for Military Traffic

Convoys Will Head for Camp Ripley This Month

With the opening of Camp Ripley for summer field training of Minnesota National Guard next Saturday, a reminder was issued today by the Minnesota highway department to motorists to watch out for military convoys on most highways leading into that area.

Units of National Guard armored infantry, including the famed 194th Tank Battalion, will be the first to move into camp, arriving on Saturday, June 6. The balance of the 47th "Viking" division, totaling 8,000 men, will enter Camp Ripley June 13.

These convoys of military vehicles will converge on Camp Ripley, north of Little Falls, from more than 90 communities in all parts of Minnesota, the department said. They will be of varying length depending upon the size of the units, and will be traveling at slower than posted speed limits. Convoy commanders have instructed to conduct the movements with vehicles spaced so that civilian travel will be inconvenienced as little as possible.

VA Warns Holders of GI Insurance

VA Should Be Advised of Change of Beneficiary

Holders of GI life insurance policies today were urged to review their beneficiary listings and bring them up to date.

W. R. Byrd, manager Fargo VA Center, said an increasing number of cases are coming to light in North Dakota and Minnesota in which GI life insurance proceeds must be paid to other than the veteran's immediate family because they failed to change their beneficiaries in line with recent changes in family status.

Marriage, divorces, births or deaths are the type of changes in family status which may indicate needed changes in beneficiary listings, Byrd said.

In most of the recent cases the beneficiaries of VA record were the same the veterans had named when they took out their policies during World War II, even though they had since married and had families.

Byrd said VA is required by law to pay GI insurance proceeds to the beneficiary of record, whether or not that beneficiary still is in anyway connected with the veteran.

Changes of beneficiaries can be made at any time without notifying the beneficiaries, but they must be made in writing over the policyholder's signature and sent to the VA office servicing the policy.

These changes cannot be made in a last will or testament, Byrd added; they must be filed by the policyholder with VA directly to be valid under the law.

Dentists Meet at Brainerd Friday

More Than 200 Expected at Breezy Point Lodge

More than 200 dentists from northwestern and west central Minnesota will hear how they can live better and longer at a meeting at Breezy Point Lodge, Brainerd, on June 5 and 6.

The joint meeting of the West Central and Northwestern district Dental Societies is expected to attract dentists from 37 counties.

Theme of the two-day conclave "Conservation of Dentists," points up a serious problem facing the profession in Minnesota, according to co-chairmen, Dr. A. O. Sather, Bemidji, and Dr. F. J. Klick, Long Prairie.

While Minnesota ranks fifth in the nation in the ratio of dentists to population, with one dentist for every 1400 residents, the state may face a severe dental shortage in 10 years. Half of the nearly 2,000 dentists now practicing are 55 years old or older.

Speakers will include Charles W. Martin, extension specialist, Family Life Education, University of Minnesota, and Dr. Theodore H. Deodolph, St. Cloud oral surgeon.

There will be separate programs for dental hygienists and assistants and members of the dental auxiliary. Social and recreation events are to include a golf tourney, trapshoot and banquet.

Mahnomen Firm Lowest Bidder on Marshall Co. Job

Apparent low bids totaling over $1.8 million dollars have been received on eight trunk highway construction projects, the Minnesota highway department announced yesterday.

Located in eight counties, the work includes the improvement of more than 32 miles of trunk highways and the construction of three bridges.

Marshall county will get 10¼ miles of plant-mixed bituminous surfacing on T.H. 89 from the north county line to the junction with T.H. 219, five miles west of Grygla. Apparent low bid on this project is $229,392, submitted by Ness Construction Co. of Mahnomen. Work is to be started by June 15 and completed in 60 working days.

"I never work better than when I am inspired by anger. When I am angry I can write, pray and preach well; for then my whole temperament is quickened, my understanding sharpened, and all my mundane vexations and temptations depart." —Luther

A Direct Hit

The firing of two monkeys into outer space and bringing them back safely to the earth's surface was a notable achievement. Equally notable was the demonstration of accuracy that has been developed in the firing of long range rockets.

The missile that rose to an altitude of 300 miles landed 1,500 miles from its launching base in 16 minutes. In one hour and 33 minutes from the time of launching, the nose cone containing the live animals was picked up by a Navy recovery ship. The fact that a recovery ship was in the target area justifies calling the shot a direct hit. That's nice shooting at 1,500 miles.

Considering our proven progress in the development of intercontinental missiles and of atomic powered submarines that travel safely under the Arctic ice cap, we are now in the best position for bargaining with Khrushchev since Sputnik. Such demonstrations of power are helpful when you are dealing with people who think in terms of force.

Horsepower

There are about three million horses left in the United States according to a recent estimate. In 1915 the total was 26 million.

That's a difference of 23 million horsepower that was produced by oats and hay 40 years ago that now is provided by petroleum products.

The shift from oats to oil as a source of power has been a factor in the farm problem.

More than offsetting the decrease in the number of horses has been the increase in the number of humans. During this period of time, while our horse population has decreased 23 million, the human population has increased by more than twice that number.

Humans are not satisfied with an oats and hay diet directly. They prefer their oats and hay in the form of steaks and milk and other concentrated forms of food, and more acres of land are required to feed a human than a horse.

Just where this is getting us to we don't know, except that there now are more than 175 million humans to feed in our country, and in a few years this number is going to be up to the 200 million mark. Maybe we soon will be putting many of our idled acres back into production.

A Good Reminder

In the heat of hatred that followed Pearl Harbor all Japanese in this country and 72,000 American citizens of Japanese origin were impounded in "relocation" camps. In a recent ceremony in the Justice Department in washington the Attorney General and Dean Eugene Rostow of the Yale law school expressed regret for the many grave injustices suffered by these people. They signaled the end of the long process of making legal and financial restitution to those who had lost their homes, their jobs and their citizenship. Said Dean Rostow:

> "This is a day of pride for American law—The law has no higher duty than to acknowledge its own errors — Today we confront the fact that as a nation we are capable of wrong, but capable also of confessing our wrongs, and seeking to expiate them."

When the war ended 5,766 of these Japanese-Americans renounced their citizenship because of the treatment they had received. Most of these later applied to regain it.

The ceremony was a proper one. It is good that we occasionally are reminded of our errors.

A Broken Promise

The gigantic federal highway program was sold to the people with the understanding that it was to be a pay-as-you-go project and the progress geared to the funds available. It was not to be financed by deficit spending and borrowed money. This provision was clearly defined in an amendment insisted upon by Senator Byrd.

Last year, because of the recession, revenues were down and the program, according to the law, should have been curtailed. But the spenders in Congress suspended the Byrd amendment and made additional funds available. And in the next fiscal year the highway trust fund faces another deficit of nearly a quarter of a billion dollars. Once again the Byrd amendment probably will be suspended.

The spenders, and in this group our Senator Humphrey is always included, must be aware of the fact that our government's credit is not as good as it once was. Investors are reluctant about buying long term government bonds. Raising the dollars to pay for old issues as they come due is becoming increasingly difficult and, as with mortgages of any kind, the less secure they are the higher is the rate of interest.

The proper way to meet a situation of this kind, of course, is to restore integrity to government and see to it that government promises are kept. And most effective of all, in making our government bonds attractive to investors, would be an honest program of debt reduction.

Canadian View

Canadians are feeling the pinch of competition in international trade just as we are here in the United States. In discussing the problem the Financial Post of Toronto made the following observations:

> It is becoming more and more obvious that we are going to have to work harder to hold our own in world trade. We may have to change our ways to keep our markets.
> As as a nation, Canada is in the position of an old-fashioned specialty shop. It is noted for the quality of its traditional merchandise, but it has to face the fact that it is being out-sold by more aggressive stores prepared to offer lower prices and more up-to-date lines.
> Preaching about integrity and experience will get the older firm nothing but reverence; and you can't eat reverence. What's needed is sales. Adding new lines and adopting new methods is the inescapable necessity.
> Canada is showing signs of facing this necessity. Private facilities for financing exports are now being established with parliamentary blessing. It's a big step in the right direction.
> The real test is whether we are hard-headed enough to deal, in time, with the changes in agricultural policy, cost-price relationships, and business practices which we have postponed far too long already.
> We can't go on producing what is most convenient and handling it in the way that suits us best. We have to be sure that we are producing what the world wants, at a price it will pay.
> In international trade, as in the corner grocery business, the customer is always right.

This is good advice for the Canadians and for Americans, too.

John Foster Dulles is dead.

Of all the eulogies delivered on the Floor of the House in memory of this steadfast American, perhaps none was more appropriate than that of Dr. Walter Judd, Representative from Minnesota's Fifth Congressional District and one of the leading spokesmen in the House in the fields of foreign affairs and foreign policy. Dr. Judd pointed out in his brief, but moving, speech that it was only fitting that John Foster Dulles should have slipped quietly off on a Sunday morning, the time when he, a faithful churchgoer thruout his life, had always attended services to worship his Maker. It was only fitting, Dr. Judd went on, because belief in a world order of good and evil, ruled by God, had always been the cornerstone upon which Mr. Dulles had built his beliefs and actions. The challenge left us by John Foster Dulles is that we continue this path of faithfulness to the good things, the true things, the right things.

Here Are 5 GOOD REASONS Why It Pays to Condition Your Hay
with a JOHN DEERE Hay Conditioner
• SAVES MORE LEAVES AND STEMS
• INCREASES CROPS' MARKET VALUE
• SPEEDS UP CURING
• CUTS WEATHER DAMAGE
• IMPROVES PALATABILITY
You're ahead in every way when you condition your hay. In a single pass over the field—one round behind the mower—the John Deere Hay Conditioner picks up and conditions every stem of hay. Curing time is cut up to 50 per cent, because all stems are kinked and split to allow moisture to escape faster. Thus, hay can be stored before leaves become brittle and fall off; weather damage is reduced.
Conditioned hay makes better food, too. It can be put up much sooner, out of the harmful rays of the sun; leaching is reduced to a minimum, and valuable vitamins and carotene are kept in the leaves. Conditioned hay is more palatable; it's softer, contains no hard, dry stems. And it brings up to 8 dollars more per ton! See us for full details.
